

Sleeveless Basques of Taffeta Are a Late Summer Novelty

The magic name of Newport brings forth visions of society's elite enjoying the pleasures of the ocean breezes and the beach in bathing suits much better suited to the drawing room, except for their length, than to the briny deep. But for all these visions practical or impractical, Newport is the place to find the ultra smart in summer clothes.

At Bailey's Beach, in the morning, may be seen stunning tailored and cutting clothes, and wraps. All white is used a great deal, and yellow in every known shade of the dyer's art. Sleeveless basques in yellow taffeta are worn over white long sleeved guimpes of net or tulle.

A Dress of Chic Style, Developed in Yellow Taffeta and Black Printed Chiffon

My illustration shows a dress of this type. In yellow taffeta and creamy figured chiffon, it is charming in the extreme. The short over-waist is of taffeta and buttons primly down the front with buttons covered with the yellow taffeta. The guimpe or under bodice is of printed chiffon, with long sleeves which cover the wrist. Around the waist the wide girle of chiffon ties in a fluffy bow at the back and drops away at a rather low bow at the waist line. The skirt with its double tunics, cut-a-way in the front is smart and up-to-date. The upper tunic is of the yellow taffeta while the lower tunic is of the printed chiffon.

Some bodices are all white tulle or net with necks cut low in the front with a sailor collar and high crushed girdles of silk to match the color of the skirt.

The style of waists which have sash ends attached are very much the rage as well as the wide vogue for sashes are worn with skirts having the long tunics or double skirts.

For evening wear black tulle over satin is used extensively. The satin is usually of black or white, and sometimes colored. A bit of blue or yellow is often used at the belt to give the desired color touch.

Dancing dresses are made of white tulle with pleated ruffe and tunics. Roman striped girdles in light colors such as light blue, green, and pink, are worn with these dresses. They are tied over the hips, with a wraith-like flowing tunic below. These dresses are all very simple, mostly made of some gauzy fabric like chiffon, tulle, net, or organdy, and no lace. Very large flowers are placed at the belt, sometimes being the only color on the costume.

Skirts of the crinoline influence are trimmed with ruffles of lace and have basques of colored taffeta! What would our great grandmothers say to such a combination?

Capes of every description are used and are made of all sorts of materials from linen to broadcloth, and faille silk. These are sometimes lined and sometimes not, often finished merely with a binding of braid in back or the same color as the cape. The smartest ones are short in front and long in the back with deep collars. Corduroy and velvet are also used for the capes and for other wraps this summer. They sound hot, but in reality are light in weight and soft and supple in their texture.

The striking cape suit in my illustration is made of serge and voile. The capes made with a vest having long sleeves. On to this vest is attached the rippling cape. Three large onyx buttons fasten the vest. The collar, cuffs and lining of the cape are of white charmeuse. The skirt is made with a fitted yoke of the serge and the long pleated lower-section of pleated blue voile which has a pin stripe of white. All in all the costume is a stunning example of the tailored cape suit.

Negligees follow the costume style closely and are made with cape and basque effects. The long loose line of the moyen age styles are distinctly suited to the loose comfort of these garments. Another style well suited to the young woman fond of ultra-style effects, even in the privacy of her bedroom, is the Turkish trowser negligee. These are made of crepe de chine or heavy China silk and closely resemble the pajama.

Petticoats are coming into their own again, and are being made with deeper flounces and somewhat wider at the hem. The summer tubbable petticoats are made of nainsook and longcloth with a single flounce of embroidery, with so little fullness in it, that it seems no fuller than the skirt. A petticoat of material resembling pique, but not quite so heavy, with a plain scalloped edge is a practical petticoat for summer wear.

Underwear is being made of fine nainsook, longcloth, and crepe, but trimmed very little. Crepe de chine is a practical material for underwear, though a trifle more expensive than the French batiste, whose soft fine qualities are so alluring to the eye.

Footing is used a great deal for trimming lingerie and crocheted or embroidery beadings are extensively used to join seams.

These garments may all be plainer but that does not mean that they may not have as great an amount of hand work upon them in the rolling of the seams, the whipping on of the ruffles, and in the tiny hand run tucks. Simplicity usually means an extravagance in hand work.

The corsets are showing a tendency toward a higher bust, but low busted models are preferred for the slim figure. They are made soft and flexible to conform with the rage for natural lines. Those that lace in front are particularly popular and practical.

The brassiers are made in a great variety of styles and materials to suit the individual needs. They have become a necessity in the wardrobe of every woman, whether of large or small proportions.

WADSWORTH

ONLY ONE "BEST"

Medina People give credit Where Credit is Due.

People of Medina who suffer with weak kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. Doan's Kidney Pills is a medicine for the kidneys only, and one that is backed by willing testimony of Medina people. Here is a case: J. S. Ritter, 433 S. Huntington st., Medina, O., says: "I had severe pains across the small of my back. When I tried to stoop, it sent sharp pains all through my back. I tried numerous remedies, but got little relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. The first box made a great improvement and before long I was in good health. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today as when I publicly endorsed them some time ago. I still take them occasionally and they always act promptly and just as represented."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Ritter had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE MINNELLI'S ARE COMING

That the high cost of—or perhaps the cost of high living—is becoming a problem, no one gainsays. The price of necessities, as well as luxuries, have steadily increased. However, the Minnelli Bros. whose Mighty Dramatic Company under canvas, supporting the dainty favorite, Mina Gennell, will open a week's engagement Monday, Aug. 17, on the lot at Primary school on corner of Broadway and Friendship st., Medina, have not raised their prices, regardless of the fact that each year their attraction has increased in size and quality, and their expenses are nearly doubled. Canvas, salaries, printing, transportation, hotel rates, etc., all being higher. Similar tented attractions are playing this territory at much smaller prices. Can they deliver the quality of goods? All the Minnelli Bros. ask is a comparison. It is well to economize. However, one may purchase an article too cheap to be good. Presenting high-class, nonobjectionable plays and specialties, positively prohibiting drinking, profanity, or rowdiness among the attaches, preserving good order, paying their bills, conducting their business on business principles, etc., are the best endorsements the Minnelli Bros. have to offer and a satisfactory reason why this attraction has played our city for 14 years and can come again. When one considers the quality of this big, clean attraction, the price could not consistently be smaller—Do you think so? The answer is, When the curtain rolls up Monday night on the beautiful play, "A Wife's Secret," the tent will be filled, ladies and children predominating, and they know they will be protected and receive every courtesy. Ladies 15 cents opening night only.

RICHFIELD

Mr. Bernhill of Pennsylvania is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Austin Behmer.

Mrs. Cline expects to go to Cleveland hospital for treatment. The doctors think they can help her. She has heart trouble.

Mr. Carl is in the village visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jasper Smith.

Miss Carol Chapman is spending the week in Akron at her sister's.

The tent meeting closed Sunday evening with good results.

Rev. Eastman has been hired for the coming year to fill the pulpit at the Congregational church at the center. Richfield feels that it has a great treat before it in securing his services.

Dr. Brownlee spent last Thursday with Rev. Cline and attended the tent meeting.

Miss Irene Merton has gone out of the bakery business and will leave town.

Miss Louise is at Silver Lake attending Chautauqua.

Clara Hendorf has returned from her visit to Elyria where she has been visiting her sister Mrs. Payne.

QUICK SALE BY BOOZER

Master Russel Gooden, one of the Medina boys who sells confectionery, fruit, etc., on the Southwestern cars plying between Cleveland and as far south as Seville, is feeling pretty good over a quick sale of his basket full of wares last Sunday morning at a point between Brunswick and Strongsville. When sales became slow a passenger, whom King Alcohol had momentarily given an overdose of salesmanship ability, grasped the basket from Russell and with an overabundance of good cheer which seemed to appeal to the other passengers in the car, prevailed upon each one to buy, with the result that the entire stock was disposed of in a few moments, the proceeds of which amounting to $6, the Bachanalian friend promptly turned over to Master Gooden.
