

RUBBER COMPANY SEEMS ASSURED HERE IN MEDINA

Going Concern of Tire Sellers to Join Medina Investors and Make Own Tires in a Medina Plant.

WILL MAKE TIRES HERE 'ERE SNOW FLIES AGAIN

The auto tire company figuring with Medina merchants over the proposition of locating in this city came to Medina Monday afternoon and met with the committee of five—Messrs. Longacre, Hoover, Coddling, Hyde, Mr. Pelton being absent—and discussed a tentative proposition from the auto tire manufacturers. A few other business men, not understanding that it was to be a gathering of the committee, were also present and took part in the deliberations.

The proposition was received, looked good to the committee, was endorsed as a committee, and it was then determined to hold a meeting of those who had subscribed to the Eaton proposition in the evening. The call was sent out to these subscribers and at 7:30 such a gathering was held.

Nearly all the subscribers—totaling about 40 with an aggregate subscription of $38,000—were present at the evening meeting. The proposition presented was about on this wise:

The tire company has some $8,000 in the bank at present. There are $3,000 in good bills receivable, about $3,000 in stock, tire molds, patterns, patents, etc. There is a business of about 1,000 tires a month worked up and going with no debts whatever. There are 86 stockholders in the present company, $18,000 preferred stock in force and $20,000 common; dividends are due and the cash is in the treasury to meet it. The company is largely a selling organization and as such has made good.

The Medina proposition is to organize a company with $300,000 capital and take over the old company, reorganizing. Preferred stock in the old company will be taken up with new stock, share for share. In the old company the preferred holders received half as much common as the purchased preferred. In the transfer it is planned to give them the same common as they receive preferred, bettering their condition in the new as to holdings but relinquishing something they know for something as yet an experiment.

For this the old company turns over all its holdings—cash in bank and bills receivable as well as its more tangible assets. The president of the old company is given similar position in the new with an assurance of continued tenure in office. The other officers will hold as per the terms in the bylaws. President to receive a salary of $5,000 and one per cent. on sales; a much less cast to the company than is usually paid, and the president profiting in that his system and organization is more complete. Twenty thousand cash is to be paid the president, in liquidation of obligations of the old company not as yet taken up in the organization and conduct of the business. The five old directors to hold over for a year and the four new ones to come from Medina investors. The offices of the company is to be removed to Medina and the whole business, practically, to be conducted at this home office.

The board of directors in the surrender of their present stock will receive $25,000 of the new stock, same ration as the smaller stockholders will receive. The board of directors are not to receive any bonus and the company is to receive just what has been outlined above. The Medina company, after absorbing the old, will take over everything—good will, patents, rights, equipment, salesforce, furniture, stock on hand, bills receivable—no bills payable—cash in bank and the whole working force and selling force of the company. In other words Medina is to get a going concern, with bright prospects for unprecedented expansion and with a business meeting all expenses and accumulating moneys for dividend purposes, according to the committee. By the time that the Medina plant can be built and set to manufacturing perfect tires the business, should, easily, be double and perhaps treble what it is now.

The past few months' operation of the present company has earned it dividends equivalent to 14 per cent on its stock in force, it is stated. In the great expansion contemplated this condition will naturally be disturbed. A vote of those present was taken on the proposition of raising the necessary money in Medina and taking over the old company and going ahead. This was carried unanimously; those voting were from among those who have subscribed on the Eaton proposition.

A tentative agreement was drawn up and the committee of five were authorized to enter into an agreement with the old company to make the combination. The old company will now take the necessary steps to transfer its business and holdings which will likely take 30 days for its consummation. There is but one chance in a hundred that anything will arise to stop the transfer, and the officers of the old company and Medina's committee of five are going ahead on the supposition that the whole matter is settled. Every Medinaite is asked to get behind the proposition and boost it and it is promised that before snow flies again we may see a rubber plant in full operation in this city.

DROPS DEAD IN YARD; NEIGHBOR FINDS BODY

John Potter Beach, of Sharon Center, died Thursday morning, March 11, and his funeral was held from his late home on Sunday, March 14. Interment was at Sharon Center. It is supposed that Mr. Beach dropped dead and that the cause of death was heart trouble. He was found dead in the barnyard and had been dead for some little time. A neighbor discovered the accident and carried him to the house. He was dead when found and nothing could be done for him.

Mr. Beach was a single man, he was 66 years old, and he had no pecuniary estate.

DIVES INTO SURF AT POINT COMFORT

Wave Twists and Drives Him Headfirst Into Sand at Bottom of Bay—Complete Paralysis Follows.

BROUGHT TO MEDINA TO REGAIN HIS HEALTH

Homer Root, a nephew of A. I. Root founder of the bee and honey industry in Medina, was brought to this city Monday. He is partially paralyzed and requires the constant care of his friends, his sister, Miss Evelyn Root, caring for him at the present time. They have taken rooms here and it is intended to stay for some time with the hope that Mr. Root may fully recover.

Homer Root was injured eight months ago, his spine being broken, it is said; the outcome being almost absolute paralysis. He was injured on the sea-coast near Point Comfort, Va., while surf swimming. In some manner a wave caught him, as he attempted to dive, driving his head in the sand with a peculiar twist, and as it is supposed, fracturing one of the vertebrae. When he failed to come up from his dive, friends rescued him, but he was badly injured and so far has not recovered his accustomed health.

When rescued he was taken to a hospital near Point Comfort, from where he was removed to Fairview hospital, Cleveland, some four months ago. He has so far recovered that he can move about, some sits up at times, and hopes are entertained that he may become himself again. His sister is giving him her undivided attention and friends are doing all in their power to aid him in getting well.

Mr. Root is a young man, single, has many relatives here, but for some time before the accident lived in the East. He was so seriously injured at the time of the accident that he could not even move any of his muscles. The doctors look upon his case as quite peculiar, and friends who were with him at the time, and saw the accident, fail to offer a solution to the proposition. Several were wading out into the surf together, no one noticed anything peculiar about his dive or the way the waves caught him, and it was only when he failed to come to the surface that any apprehension was felt. It is said that one might dive an hundred times just as he did and not receive any injury. His friends feel that he will yet get well, and if he does they feel that his recovery will be next to marvelous.

MEDINA HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING BALL TEAM

The first meeting of Baseball eligibles was held last week. Everett Randall was elected manager; Willard Garver, assistant. Coach Rader gave a talk setting forth the qualities a player in each position should possess. Names were then filed with him by those desiring to play in each position on the team. Abundant material is available for both a first and second team.

Coach and teachers feel Medina high has every opportunity to make this a successful year. Meeting for instruction in the theory of the game will be held from 8:30 to 8:50 twice a week, until grounds are in condition for practice work.

Schedule has not yet been filled out the following dates are definitely arranged.

Wooster, April 19, at Wooster.
Cuyahoga, May 7, at Cuyahoga Falls.

Cuyahoga, return game, at Medina. Two games with Wadsworth and two with Ashland, dates not yet determined.

RUN OVER BY AUTO; ARM BROKEN, HEAD CUT

Clay Hills, a former Medina boy, was badly hurt in Toledo Saturday. He is employed at the Overland auto office, and while crossing the street near the factory at dinner hour Saturday was run down by an auto and severely injured.

The auto knocked him down and run over him. His arm was broken and his head badly cut. It is not believed any serious results will come of the accident. He is the husband of Louise Geisinger, and both are well and favorably known in Medina.

CAMPAIGN OUTCOME IN FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Practically Certain 1800 Members Will be Secured—A Few Counties Overtop the Medina Total.

POSSIBILITIES AHEAD FOR PROPAGANDA WORK

The membership campaign for the Medina County Farm Bureau has been completed in most of the townships of the county. The farmers have supported the movement very liberally and we now have a membership of approximately 1600. This should be raised to at least 1800 before the completion of this year campaign.

Liverpool township leads in membership with 140 men signed up. Lafayette has 122, Sharon 117, Westfield and Granger 112 each, Hinckley and Spencer 103 each, Brunswick, Litchfield and Montville 102 each, York has 98, Chatham 96 and Harrisville 93. The other townships have not completed their canvasses so are not listed.

No work has been done in Homer township but is expected that a canvass will be carried on there before the end of the week. The breaking up of winter weather allowing the men to open their sugar bushes has held up the work for a few days.

Other counties of Ohio are making exceedingly large records in their membership drives. Wood county on last Wednesday had 2009 members. Seneca finished last week with 1500, Highland has 1500, Crawford 1200, Cuyahoga and Clark 1200 each. Most of these counties are still continuing the work. Van Wert and Putnam are also carrying on campaigns. It is expected that the state federation will complete the canvass of the eleven counties outlined this spring. The remaining to be cared for next fall.

At a meeting of the American Federation of Farm Bureaus held in Chicago the first week in March, it was reported that 28 states had ratified the constitution of the American Federation. These states are represented in the federation of 53 directors who speak for 780,000 Farm Bureau members. Following is a list of the leading states in Farm Bureau work at the present time. Iowa with a membership of 104,000, Illinois 50,000, New York 67,000, Missouri 34,000, Michigan and Indiana 31,000 each and Ohio 30,000.

SPLENDID TESTS BY GOOD BUTTER COWS

Report For February By Medina Cows Shows Three Especially Flattering Producers—Many Others Good.

PUT YOUR OWN TO TEST AND CHECK UP ON THESE

The report of the Medina Cow Testing Association for the month of February indicates that very excellent production is being made by the members of the association this winter. There are eight men who have eight or more cows producing above 1200 lbs. of milk or 60 pounds of fat in a month. Of these cows 14 are Holsteins, 2 are Jerseys, and 2 are Guernseys. The highest producing cow is a registered Holstein Lady Clothilde, Blanche Lyons, nine years of age, freshening last November, who produced 1996 pounds of milk and 69 and 940 pounds of fat for the month. This cow was owned by E. N. Whitman and Sons. The second highest producing cow was owned by H. B. Wideman, which produced 1240 pounds of milk and 57 pounds of fat. H. D. Brintnall had a Holstein which produced 1355 pounds of milk and 50 and 1-10 pounds of fat.

The highest producing Jersey was owned by A. B. Ruckle and produced 45 pounds of fat, and the highest producing Guernsey was a registered cow owned by E. E. and C. T. Copley, which produced 43 and 1-2 pounds of fat in the month.

There are at present over twenty members of the association and all are making very satisfactory records. The eight men whose cows were listed in the February report are as follows: Don Bowes, 4; L. C. Boise, 3; H. B. Wideman, 3; E. N. Whitman & Sons, 2; H. L. Brintnall, 2; E. E. and C. T. Copley, 2; and D. D. Bowman and A. B. Ruckle 1 each.

PRESENT STATUS OF OIL AND GAS WELLS IN AND ABOUT HERE

Wells Drilling, Rigs Up and Building, Dry and Producing Holes in and About Medina Field.

WEATHER WARMING UP MAKES FOR ACTIVITY

The central Ohio field for the short month of the year shows a decrease while in new work there is a nice increase and that in the face of some of the most strenuous weather experienced for a number of years. With good weather there should be quite an increase in development work in every county in the Ohio field, and test work will be done in counties on the outer edges, in hopes of bringing them into the oil and gas area. Present indications are that some very important work will be done to the south and close up to the Ohio River, as that territory has been overlooked for years, but with exceptionally high prices prevailing for crude oil the average person will make an attempt to find the fluid. The scarcity of natural gas will bring about a further attempt to increase the area of the field, in hopes of getting a new field to develop for the next winter's supply.

During February 61 wells were completed in the Central Ohio field, of which 37 were oil wells, with new production of 1,442 barrels, 12 were dry holes and 12 were gas wells. When compared with the January figures, this is a decrease of 12 in completed wells, 304 barrels in new production, six less dry holes and seven less gas wells, while there was an increase of one in oil wells. In new work under way there is a very healthy increase. The close of February shows 55 rigs up and 116 wells drilling against 48 rigs up and 104 wells drilling at the close of January, an increase of seven in rigs up and 12 more drilling wells, or a net increase of new work in favor of February of 18.

$3000 IN WHISKY IN HIS BATH TUB

Raids By Officers Makes Medina Bacchus Fearful His Turn Might Be Next, Takes This Precaution.

WIFE PULLS THE PLUG IT RUNS INTO SEWER

One Medina home is sure dry at this time, and it was a bountiful oasis but a short time ago. The "man of the house" had provided for a large thirst, buying liberally in jugs and bottles of the best vintage. As the story goes, he had liquors valued at about $3000.

Prior to the great drought last July he had been picking up bargains, making a big haul when Valley City went dry. At first he had no fears and bought right and left and took few precautions about storing it. But when officers of the law began to pry into the privacies of homes, even going so far as to turn a man's bedroom inside out in an effort to locate contraband liquors, or liquors in sufficient quantities to make them look like contraband, this "gleaner" took fright and began to search out some method by which he might save his liquors, or failing to do this to at least keep out of the clutches of the law.

Finally "Saint Bacchus" hit on this scheme to make himself safe: He turned the contents of jugs and bottles in his bath tub, figuring if worse comes to worse he could pull out the plug, throw it out the window, and before any "minion of the law" could secure a plug and stop the leak the tub would be empty and the evidence all in the sewer. Then Saint Bacchus slept well and dreamed rosy hued visions.

But Saint Bacchus figured without considering his wife. Whether she had a horror of the minions of the law, wished to remove temptation from before her husband, or just did the deed for deviltry deponent saith not; but—

She did pull the plug out from the bath tub and let all that good liquor go down to the fishes in the creek. Hubby's $3000 worth of liquors are gone, and he's a more sober if not a wiser husband.

Some years ago a rich young heir in New York turned $5000 worth of champagne into his tub and took a bath in it on a banter; but our Medina Bacchus did not even have this pleasant sensation in the case of his $8 a quart whiskey.

BUILD A TABERNACLE TO HOUSE MEETINGS

The members of the Church of Christ began the erection of a Tabernacle Wednesday, to house the meetings of the evangelists at work in Medina at this time. It was the purpose of the church people to build the Tabernacle in a day, and to that end volunteers were asked for a day's work. About 20 showed up for the effort, but the task was too large for so few hands and all day Thursday was needed to complete the task.

The Tabernacle is a rough building 50x100 feet, will be heated with gas stoves, seated with chairs and benches, and is large enough to house a big congregation. It is built to the rear of the church, is easy of access, and every one will be made welcome to the meetings.

The evangelist and his helpers arrived in Medina Wednesday and the first meeting of the series was held Wednesday evening, in the church. There was a fair attendance and the meetings started off under favorable conditions. Rev. Goodale has so far recovered from his experience with the Flu to be able to attend the first meeting and take active part.

Mr. Ashley Pelton who underwent an operation in an Akron hospital a short time ago, was so far recovered as to be able to come home Saturday. While his condition is greatly improved he is not yet able to return to his school duties and is confined to the house.

CONGRESSMAN DAVEY SCORES NEWS TRUST ON FLOOR OF HOUSE

A Colloquy in House Which Gives An Insight As To How Representatives Try to Pass Legislation.

PAPERS THAT CRITICIZE GIVEN SHORT RATION

Readers of the Sentinel, many of them, realize that there are peculiar incidents happening in Congress every week. Many of them, perhaps, do not understand how legislation is accomplished. Congressman Davey, of this district, was on the floor the other day in an effort to secure some help for the newspapers by gaining better prices from the trust on news print. What happened in the colloquy may interest our readers; it will give them an idea of how things are approached by our sedate Representatives.

Mr. Davey—Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, it seems to me that in this matter we face a condition and not a theory. There are certain outstanding facts in this newspaper situation. One is that the price of print paper varies greatly. There are some newspapers that can buy their print paper for 4½c a pound, others for 5c, others for 5½c, and the price ranges up.

Here are two or three other facts. A publisher is told that he cannot have his full contract on a contract basis. His contract desires are cut down, but he is informed very politely that perhaps by going to a certain broker he can get the paper he wants. Going to this broker he is advised that he can have a certain amount of paper at a greatly increased price, nine, ten, or eleven cents.

The fact stares us in the face that there is injustice in the situation. I do not know whether this resolution will get the results we want, but it seems to me that something ought to be done by this House to arrive at the facts and equip us with the information on which to act.

Very evidently the screws are put on certain publishers. For instance, if a newspaper complains about the treatment it receives, and attacks the so-called news print trust, then that newspaper finds it almost impossible to buy its supplies. As an evidence of that, I will merely refer to the situation of the president of the Newspaper Publishers Assn who does business in Birmingham, Ala. I do not know the gentleman. I simply have heard the facts in the case in a general way. I have understood that that man has been penalized and punished as far as possible because he attacked the so-called trust. The facts in the case are clear that the prices vary. Papers of the same size pay different prices. Very evidently there has been a great increase in the demand, and we have nothing to blame for that except our enormous prosperity. It appears on the surface that the news print manufacturers have taken unjust advantage of the situation. I understand there is a shortage of about 10 per cent perhaps and prices have been boosted way beyond reason, way beyond the normal increase in the cost of the production. It seems to me that the times now demand that something be done by this House. We cannot gain a thing, we cannot justify ourselves for our failure by simply saying that some one else ought to get busy.

Mr. Madden—Will the gentleman yield?
Mr. Davey—I will.

Mr. Madden—Does the gentleman contend that this resolution will do any good?

Mr. Davey—I have just said that I am not sure whether this is the method or not. If this does not amount to anything may I suggest to the gentleman from Illinois that he propose a suitable substitute?

Mr. Dowell—Will the gentleman yield?
Mr. Davey—I will.

Mr. Dowell—In addition to the passage of this resolution, does not the gentleman believe that the passage of a resolution directing the Department of Justice to proceed against the newspaper trust that he has referred to as controlling the print paper output, would be a proper thing?

Mr. Davey—I understand the Dept. of Justice is moving.

Mr. Dowell—Would not a resolution of that character stimulate the movement of the Dept. of Justice?

Mr. Davey—I doubt it. May I suggest to the gentleman that here in this city of Washington the best little game that I know of is buck racing, seeking to place the responsibility on some one else.
