D. MEEKISON, BANKER, NAPOLEON, O. Democratic - Northwest. AND HENRY COUNTY NEWS. OFFICIAL PAPER OF CITY AND CO

NAPOLEON, OHIO, JUNE 20, 1895. ZANESVILLE has put in a bid for the Democratic State Convention.

If the new woman, when she comes into her kingdom, as she threatens to do, persists in wearing the present low cut evening dress, she will show a good deal of backbone.

GEN. COXEY'S new paper, Sound Money, has found its way to our sanctum. It is neatly printed, and the most it contains is the name of Coxe, which appears something like 283 times.

THE July Popular Science Monthly will have an article on Climate and Health, by Dr. Charles F. Taylor, who shows that there is more to climate than the height of the thermometer, and that great discrimination should be exercised by physicians in sending patients away from home.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer speaks a whole volume of wisdom in reference to the Ohio campaign when it says: "All the Democrats have to do is to get together and act with sense. If they do not do that they do not deserve to win. Let the 'ins' quarrel. There is no sense in the 'outs' being at logger heads among themselves."

THE Reed law, abolishing boards of infirmity directors, has been declared unconstitutional by the supreme court. The law was enacted by the last legislature and was meant for Erie and Huron counties. The county boards ousted in these counties will now go back to their offices. The case was hard fought on both sides.

THIS is the comment of the Minneapolis Journal, one of the greatest Republican newspapers of the west, on the Zanesville convention: "This Foraker—so ornery; "Has eat the Ohio canary; "With a smack of his chops "He ate it joblots, "While McKinley pranced 'round the prairie."

THE honest money convention in session at Memphis last week is said to be the largest meeting ever held in this country for the discussion of a single economic question. It is an outpouring of men of all classes from the tiller of the soil to representatives in congress and the United States Senate, without regard to politics, gathered together to demand free silver coinage and the return of honest money as it existed prior to 1873.

GOLD papers keep falsely asserting that the free coinage of silver will drive all the gold out of the country and bring us to a silver basis. The facts of history are all against this claim as everybody knows full well. Whenever there has been coinage of silver in this country gold has flown in upon us, and whenever stopped gold has gone abroad. There was less than $200,000,000 gold all told in this country in 1878 when the coinage of silver was commenced under the Bland act, but when the law was changed in 1890 there was over $700,000,000. Since stopping the coinage of silver gold has left the country so rapidly that great sacrifice has been made to get it back and already the $700,000,000 has dwindled down to about $500,000,000. Gold men will find that the people are studying the financial question and are fast getting at the truth.—Cheboygan Democrat.

THE Signal, instead of answering, or trying to answer what we said in our criticism of "Veteran" (7), for the argument was unanswerable, pained off a lot of rot in fulsome praise of itself for publishing a column or two of dead and stale matter concerning Decoration day exercises, which we will venture to say not one reader in a hundred read or even gave a second thought. Self praise is characteristic of the Signal. Talk is cheap, but when it comes to giving the old soldiers substantial praise and aid the Northwest has done and is doing more for them than the Signal would if it lives to be a hundred years old.

THE Prohibitionists held their State Convention on Wednesday last and nominated the following State ticket: Governor—Seth H. Ellis, of Marion county. Lieutenant Governor—J. W. Sharp, of Richland county. Attorney-General—W. C. Bates, of Franklin county. Auditor of State—A. S. Caton, of Coshocton county. Treasurer of State—J. W. Hawkins, of Jefferson county. Supreme Judge—John T. Moore, of Jackson county. Supreme Court Clerk—David T. Spicer, of Union county. Board of Public Works—James Benjamin of Muskingum county.

THE Act of Congress of March 23, 1893, provided that on the first of July, 1895, two very important provisions should go into effect. One of these makes it unlawful after July 1st for any interstate railway to use a car which is not provided "with secure grabirons or handholds in the ends and sides of each car for greater security to men in coupling and uncoupling cars;" and the second requires after July 1st the use of freight cars which comply with the standard height of drawbar, which was required to be fixed by the American Railway Association within ninety days from the passage of the act. The heights of the drawbar were fixed at thirty-four and a half inches for empty cars and thirty-one and a half inches for loaded cars. On and after January 1st, 1895, it will become obligatory for all cars to be provided with automatic couplers.

Soldiers and Pensions. The Jackson Herald says it would seem that a fair understanding would end much complaint among our Soldier friends. There has been much talk about pensions being taken away and others reduced, and this has been used by designing men for party effect to an extent that is a little short of a disgrace.

Let us be fair and honest about this matter as we should about any other matter in life. The money that pays pensions, comes from our people, as any other taxes do. This being true, the people should not be called upon to pay one dollar of pensions that is unjust, any more than they should be called upon to pay more than is just for any other purpose, either in government, or in the daily transaction of life. But on the other hand they should be called upon to pay every dollar that is just, and when this has been done, and one gets more and another less than he expected, who has a just right of complaint? And who that is content when he gets his own can complain?

So much for that then. Now how is justice found in the pension department? Just exactly as it is in any other part of our life. It is a court, acting under a law, and is controlled by the same rules as any other court is. That is to say, Congress passes pension laws, as state Legislatures pass other laws. The pension department, grants or refuses to grant, changes or alters, or increases or decreases, the amount of each person's pension, on the evidence produced, just as courts grant judgments on the evidence before them, and other courts, change their judgment by increasing or decreasing or by throwing them out entire. As new evidence is produced, or evidence is found to be wrong, or other evidence produced that makes the case stronger or weaker.

There is this essential difference between pension suits and other suits in civil courts, that is, that a pension is based upon the pensioners right to recover, and the amount of it depends upon the degree of injury. So it is possible for a pensioner to be drawing a pension of one amount to-day, based upon a state of facts that one year from to-day did not exist at all. If so the cause for his drawing a pension would have cleared, and under the law his pension would have to cease. But on the other hand, if it were found at the end of the year that his complaint had grown much worse, than on examination, and these facts proven, his pension of a year before would be inadequate, and the law would increase it, just as our State laws will increase or decrease alimony to fit the changing circumstances of cases.

Now one thing more. This being true, and it is true, then when any soldier accuses any person of doing him any injustice he forgets himself. This can no more be done in the pension department, under any administration, than it can be done in our courts of Common Pleas or Circuit, without exposure. Why? Because the pension department is a court. Its every act is of record, and open to the world, just as our courts are. It is even safer than our courts are, for its acts are all based on written evidence, that must be there on file, also open to the world, while courts of states often render judgments on oral evidence, and all there is on the record is the finding of the court and the pleadings, but the evidence in support is absent. Not so of the pension department. It is all there, open to anybody. Now we ask how could any person be unjustly dealt with as we hear so often claimed, when any person at any time can go in there and from the records expose the whole thing to the world? Would not Republicans or Democrats do this if it was there, for political purposes. Now we have written this statement for the benefit of soldiers, either Democrats or Republicans, that they may see how they are imposed upon by any party, either Democratic or Republican when they are stuffed with these stories of pensions being granted one and not another. If the action is taken on the case, it is there for the world to see, and there is the law, and if an error has been committed it can be opened up any day, by any lawyer, or agent sent, or by the soldier himself. The facts are, if your pension is increased or decreased it is because of the law and the evidence, and these only under any administration.

THE BUCKEYE VETERANS. The Athens Man Elected Department Commander.—Officers Elected by the W. R. C. At Thursday's session of the G. A. R. department Ohio, at Sandusky, the following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year: Department commander, A. BUSH'S BARREL Tapped for Fifty Thousand to Down McKinley.

AND ANOTHER FIFTY IS FORTHCOMING TO ELECT FORAKER SENATOR. Hon. James A. Norton Has Some Advice to the Democracy.

More of Pilgrim Progress McKinley's Pious Hypocrisy. Democrats Will Not Be Deceived by Republican Fairy Tales.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 17th. Hon. Thomas A. Cowling, an ex-senator of the state of Ohio, and Republican, high in the confidence of the McKinley administration was a caller at the capital the other day. The Senator comes from Champaign county and though a genial gentleman is radical in his party allegiance. He explains the spontaneous nomination of Boshnell at Zanesville by saying that it cost the Springfield millionaire more money than it is supposed to cost him in getting the election. An estimate of the expense attached to working up the Foraker jugglery in Ohio, which so nicely despatched McKinley the other week puts the amount at

FIFTY THOUSAND dollars, the bill being footed by Boshnell all the time. While he was signing checks he was being almost daily interviewed and each time he declared he was not a candidate. The other Republican candidates who were spending a couple of thousand dollars each of hard earned money were simply steered up against a bunco game by Boshnell himself paid the bills. It is said he is now knowing political circles that Gen. Boshnell will back the state committee with another $50,000 making the expense of his campaign reach $100,000—a very clever sum to be paid for the privilege of leading a ticket fore doomed to defeat. Among a great many other distinguished Ohio Democrats who visit Columbus almost weekly was

Now then after the lapse of more than twenty years what has transpired to sanctify that crime and to justify so many Democrats doing now just what they denounced twenty years ago. My opinion is that the state convention should reaffirm the platform prior to 1873—demand the restoration of silver to its constitutional prerogatives of that period when it was a unit of value. On such a platform I am satisfied all Democrats could stand. Yes, I am friendly to Mr. Foraker though I notice some opposition to him which I suspect grows out of failure to get official recognition. party. We had over educated the people on the tariff and many of them were disposed to overlook the necessities of revenue entirely. There should be no foolishness tolerated at the convention. "Harmony is the great essential now. A man named McKinley who is supposed to be governor of Ohio delivers himself of an interview at Chicago in which he says the people have become thoroughly alarmed at Democratic rule and will this year roll up a big majority for Bushnell. The same paper prints a Pittsburgh dispatch in which the blanks of that city show that the pay roll of all concerns employing labor show an increase of 25 per cent over the last year the McKinley law was in force. The bad rule of the Democracy is not so apparent in Ohio where a

RASCAL REPUBLICAN legislature snatched every vulnerable corporation and then wound up with a clean, cool steel of $50,000 out of a treasury into which McKinley less than a year ago dumped $200,000 of borrowed money. McKinley says nothing of the moral crookedness of those bands held by his friend Hanna, being exempted from taxation by a special act of this abominable legislature. The people are getting tired of such a howling calamity fraud as McKinley whose jaunts over the country as the guest of millionaires, corporations and entrenched wealth do not fit him for the favorite of the poor and the laboring element. One of the SMOOTH GAMES of the Republican press these days is to exaggerate the alleged differences of Democratic in the various counties in their county conventions. An ordinary reader would be led to believe that the masses of the party hate each other with a deadly hatred and that they are only waiting to shoot on sight. The mere objection of a delegate to this or that proposed plan in a Democratic convention is taken up and exaggerated into a CONVENTION RIOT in which a mob takes possession of the stage, throws the chairman out the window and murders in cold blood those who differ. The Republican party is so accustomed to obeying the dictations of their political slaves and swallowing anything the boss crowd down their throat that they are amazed at Democrats who meet in convention to agree on a plan of action and policy. The Democratic idea has always been to CALL THE PEOPLE together and agree upon what course is best to pursue. The republican plan is for one or two men to get together in some dark, out of the way spot where the sun never shines, agree upon what they want and then permit a few others to get together and ratify what they have decided upon. Democrats who are daily regaled with extravagant accounts of Democratic county convention riots here and there must take them with a grain of salt.

that one or two gentlemen have met in New York City and nominated Paul J. Sorg for governor. This tall moonshine. When the Ohio Democrats get ready to hold a convention they will hold it in Ohio and some two or three thousand Democrats will be present in shaping a platform of principles and candidates to stand thereon. The Republicans are resorting to all kinds of disreputable tactics to throw odium on leading Democrats and to make Democratic methods unpopular but no good Democrat will allow himself to be deceived by the fanciful tales of the enemy.
