

Carrollton:

FRIDAY, MARCH 18, 1836.

Yellow Creek, Carrollton & Zor Rail Road.—We have, at length, the pleasure to lay before our readers the Report of the Engineer of the Yellow Creek, Carrollton and Zor Rail Road. Of the merits of this report, we are not prepared to hazard any opinion of our own; but others, in whose competency to judge we have implicit confidence, believe the report to exhibit a very correct exposure of the practicability and costs of the contemplated road. Of one thing, however, we are entirely convinced,—the estimates taken altogether, are abundantly ample.

It is so severely necessary for us to refer to the opinion, which we have heretofore given of the great superiority of our improvement over any other of the proposed links of connection between the Ohio River and the Ohio Canal. Disclaiming all hostility or opposition to the rival schemes, we confidently believe that our Rail Road affords a better opportunity for a profitable investment of capital, than any other improvement north of the Muskingum. We feel bound also to remark, (and, in the present state of political feeling, the fact should arrest the attention of those who may be disposed to invest capital in public improvements of the kind) that the character of this company is not clogged with provisions which can render it a dead letter; nor is its stability put in jeopardy by any Legislatio bona or exclusive privilege, the constitutive motifs of which has been hinted, and at which the tilt and tournament of political Quixotism can be effectively directed.

We ask the attention of our readers to the Engineer's report, and to the remarks which accompany it.

Tax Ticker.—The Auditor of this county, has permitted us to read a copy of an act passed at the late session of the Legislature, and communicated to him by letter; from which we learn that, those who purchased lands and town lots, (now situated in this county) at tax sales in the adjoining counties, and were prevented from receiving deeds, by the erection of Carroll—may now obtain deeds for lands and town lots so purchased, by making application to the Auditor of the county in which the sales were made. The act itself we esteem as a literary morsel; and, believing its provisions to be of importance to many of our readers, we shall, at some convenient time, publish it at large.

Our old friend Frost, of the New London "Aurora," being about to seek repose (temporary, we hope) from four year's editorial toil, endeavors to convince his readers, few of whom, we fear, ever heard of our humble selves before, that there is not a perfect union in the title and conduct of our paper. "We are not their messengers nor anti-messengers," yet we published Mr. Dallas' letter! We required for this motive which induced Ladies to form anti-slavery societies; and hence Mr. Frost discovers the want of harmony. All that we have to say in reply, is, we know not which to advise most, the typographical emphasis of the Aurora, or its reasoning powers. Our press is ever open for the discussion of any subject connected with the common interests of the people, but we must be excused ourselves from rushing into every crusade which a "silly philanthropy" may give rise.

We beg leave to enquire of Mr. Frost, why he continues to publish, at the head of his paper, a sentence purporting to be a part of Mr. Dallas' letter, when, in truth, Mr. D. wrote no such thing? It seems to us, that a publisher who claims to be impartial, ought to be ashamed of such a perversion of any man's language however much he might despise that man's principles. Are you a gentleman, Mr. Frost?

Expunging &c.—Senator Leigh refuses to obey the instructions of the Legislature of Virginia, upon the ground that those instructions require him to do an unconstitutional act. Mr. L. will resign his seat in the U. S. Senate, and he avows, it has been his intention, for some time past, to retire, to that permit the election of his successor by the next Legislature. Mr. Rives succeeds Mr. Tyler.

The General Assembly of Pennsylvania and Maryland have past resolutions instructing their Senators in Congress to vote against the Expunging process. Resolutions instructing the Tennessee Senators to vote for expunging, failed in the Legislature of that State.

The appointment Bill, we learn from the Columbus papers, had on the 10th inst. passed both branches of the Legislature. We have not seen the bill, but have understood that it gives Carroll one Representative; and Carroll and Columbus one Senator, and one other Senator in 1836 & 7.

Mr. Kellay's reply to Mr Davitt will appear in our next paper.

MAD DOGS.

About the latter part of February last, a mad dog came to the farm of Adam Fisher, 5 miles North of Carrollton; and bit a heifer of 2 years old, and likewise 5 hogs that would weigh from 80 to 100 lbs. each. On Wednesday last, one of the hogs died; and, one after another, all were dead on Monday; at which time the heifer became raging; and on Tuesday, after the animal had fallen under the madness, she was shot.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT.

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate.
WILLIAM D. JONES, of Cincinnati, Ohio to be Consul for the city of Mexico.
ERNEST C. WATSON, to be Consul for Trinidad de Cuba.

So, after all, there has been an awful earthquake in China, though it has not swallowed up the City of Peking. The following are the rational and probable account of it from a Valparaiso newspaper, dated in the middle of November, received by a late arrival at Boston.

N. Y. Int.

"The Peking Gazette contains the details of the most terrible earthquake with in the memory of man. The shocks continued at intervals for twenty one days. It is estimated that in the four provinces one hundred thousands houses were destroyed. The fields were covered with dead bodies, and no one to bury them, and the survivors were obliged to live in the open air exposed to the inclemency of the weather. At Pong Teeh in the earth opened, and a stream of black water burst forth, which carried away produce, men, animals, houses, and whatever it met with in its course."

LATEST FROM FLORIDA.

By communication received at the Adjutant General's Office from Major General Scott, dated the 22d of February, it appears that he arrived at Picolata, Florida, the day previous, where he found the 1st battalion of Georgia foot in position. He reports the 1st battalion of Georgia mounted men on the south side of the St. Mary's river, and that the 2d mounted battalion had most probably commenced its march from the interior of Georgia. The head company of the South Carolina mounted regiment had reached the Ogeechee. The regiment of foot from this State, under Col. Brisbane, was at St. Augustine. General Scott received a despatch from Brigadier General Clinch, dated the 20th of February, with a return of the troops under his command at Fort Drake and its vicinity, dated the 17th. This force consisted of 543 men, including volunteers. Brigadier General Clinch states that, on the arrival of Col. Lindsay at Fort Brooke, Tampa Bay, with the Alabama regiment, Major General Gaines will have at that place near 2,200 men, and about 100 friendly Indians. — Globe of Sib.

BEAUTIFUL INCIDENT.—At the meeting of citizens in the Methodist Church in Greene street, held last evening, for the purpose of taking measures to rebuild the noble structure known as "The Methodist Book Concern," very interesting and impressive addresses were delivered by the Rev. Doctor Bogs, and the Rev. Mr. Waugh. In the course of his remarks Dr. Bogs related the following remarkable incident. Among the burning fragments of books, and printed sheets, which were whirled about upon wings of flame, and borne onward upon those of the wind, was a page of the Bible containing the 6th chapter of Isaiah. It was picked up on the morning of the conflagration, about twelve miles distant, on Long Island, and before the catastrophe was known which had carried it thither. It was indeed a winged messenger of truth, in a double sense, for the fact is no less striking than authentic, that every word of the page was so marred as to be illegible, save the 11th verse which read in the following words:—

"O holy and beautiful house, where our fathers prayed thee, is burned up with fire; and all our pleasant things are laid waste!"

True, there seems no special reason why such a message should have been providentially sent to the man who found it; but the message was sent, and all but the message obliterated by the melancholy occurrence of which it gave signal in intelligence. The leaf was brought over to this city by the finder, and has been placed in one of our bookstores. — N. Y. Com. Adv.

A very small piece.—The affection of the times!—This phrase, so common at dinner tables, is the most unmeaning in the language, or rather it has a meaning almost diametrically opposite to its apparent signification. A man who has eaten nothing for six hours, qualifies his demand for turkey with "a very small piece," when, in fact, he wishes "a very large piece," and before he leaves the table appropriates as much quadrupled to the appeasement of his appetite. The tea-der remembers an old anecdote of the lady who exclaimed, "Dear me, sir! you have fed me to a carload," when the carver presently perceived that she had cleared the dish, begged leave to send her "another carload!" To carvers we hint the true meaning of this phrase. "A very small piece," if applied to a turkey, means three slices of the breast, a wing, and two spoonfuls of the dressing, & a "little" of the gravy. There is no reason to be ashamed of an appetite. It is one of the most valuable gifts of nature. A little boy, who honors us some times by becoming the companion of our leisure hours, was the other day offered at a friend's house, a piece of cake which he refused. After we had departed he complained of hunger and to our inquiry why he had declined the cake, replied, "Oh! I wanted it very much, but I thought it more decent to refuse." This, now, is a sort of duplicity in the garb of a virtue. He should have been taught not to refuse, but to have accepted with frankness, and to have partaken without excess. For, after all, where is the sage, the poet, the philosopher, the student; the lover, the belle, above all the soft anxieties and pleasing agitations of a really good dinner?

Sale of Lots in the Town of DOWNINGVILLE.

The subscriber will sell, to the highest bidder, on Thursday the 24th of March next, a number of Valuable Lots in the town of Downingville, Carroll county, O. Those who may wish to purchase are respectfully invited to attend, and examine the premises for themselves; a small part of the purchase money will be required in hand; and a liberal credit given for the balance.

DOWNINGVILLE

Is situated on the line of the "Sandy & Beaver Canal" at that well known point called "Millers Barton" on Big Sandy, where the road from Steubenville to Carrollton, to Bolivar crosses Study. A variety of roads centre at this place, amongst which are the following—one from Canton to Canton—one from the mouth of Big Yellow-creek—one from Wellsville—one from New Lisbon to Bolivar, and Zar, and one from Battelchem on the Ohio Canal.

Downingville is eight miles from Bolivar, thirteen from Carrollton, eleven and a half from Canton, and fifteen from New Philadelphia. There is at present a first rate merchant mill adjoining the town plat, and several others in the neighborhood—two saw mills will be in operation the ensuing spring, in the immediate vicinity of the town. Coal mines and stone quarries, abound in the neighborhood, & convenient to the town: the general face and improved condition of the country, together with the local situation of the place, give it a just preference over other places in the vicinity.

The most liberal terms will be given to those who will make valuable improvements in said town. Sales to commence at 10 o'clock of said day, when terms of sale will be made known by

ISAAC MILLER, Proprietor.
February 26h, 1836.

The Ohio Repository, will please publish the foregoing advertisement until the day of sale, and forward the account to Mr. Miller.
