Is Black Kitten a Jonah?

Special to The World. OKLAHOMA, July 27.—The black kitten at the White & Black oil well in section 34-19-7, just a half mile east of Oilton, are considered if a stray black kitten that came to the well several days ago is a Jonah. For to the kitten, which arrived the day after the well was struck, it has been a trouble-maker. It has been seen at the well, and it has been seen at the well. It has been seen at the well, and it has been seen at the well. It has been seen at the well, and it has been seen at the well.

PADEN WELL IS ABSORBING TOPIC

Today may tell the tale about the famous Padene Oil & Gas Co. well in section 34-19-7. It may, and again it may not. The long delayed cable needed before drilling can start was reported to have arrived at the well yesterday. If everything was right an drilling will probably start today, although it may be Thursday before there is anything being done.

DEFECTIVE DERAIL CAUSES A WRECK

A defective derail at 6:45 o'clock last night was responsible for the derauling of the locomotive tender and three cars of local Frisco freight train No. 444 near the stockyards. Although nobody was injured, traffic was blocked for several minutes. The freight had started a siding to allow eastbound passenger train No. 14 to pass, after which an attempt was made to rejoin the main track. Although the locomotive proper passed over the derail the tender left the track and the first three cars fell. The third car's coupling with the fourth car broke, allowing the cars and tender to overturn into the ditch.
