

RAZORBACKS WILL TRY HARD TO WIN

Great Game Scheduled for Fort Smith Saturday, October 23.

REVENGE IS SWEET

Aggies Are Believed to Have Excellent Team and Are Confident.

Special to The World. STELLWATER, Okla., Oct. 16.—When the Oklahoma Aggies and the Arkansas Razorbacks football teams clash at Fort Smith, Saturday, Oct. 23, it will be the fourth time these teams have met. Reports received at Oklahoma A. & M. college indicate that the University of Arkansas is setting forth every effort that will bring about a victory—a victory that will be sweet revenge.

In the first game between these eleven the Aggies won at Arkansas 13 to 6. The next year the Aggies lost on the same ground by 6 to 3, but in 1914 when Arkansas first came to Stillwater the Aggies routed away with a 46 to 0 lead.

With this fourth game coming in fairly neutral territory, Fort Smith, the Fayetteville aggregation sends out the advance hope that confidence is reigning. The Aggies are just as confident of grabbing another Razorback scalp, and there is nothing to decide it but the game.

Aggies Playing Hard.

The Aggies have played three games this season. The first game was with the University of Missouri, October 2, when the Aggies scored on the "Horns" in the first quarter, but were finally battered down by superb offensive smashes, and the Missouri won by 13 to 6. This was the Aggies' debut into Missouri valley football.

The first all-time game between the Oklahoma and Missouri teams was won over Friends university, for two years champions of Kansas, by 7 to 0. The third game was at Stillwater against Kendall college of Tulsa, in which the score was 6 to 0.

Under a new coaching system, with a new coach, "Pink" Griffith of Idaho, and a corps of assistants, the Aggies have what is believed to be the best team in this history. Open field playing is taking a preference this year over the massed formations of the past, which have been more or less ineffective since the lighter teams have come into prominence. Forward passing and punting are two strong features of the 1915 A. & M. eleven.

The Aggies have been practicing since about the middle of August, and because of the early season games being with strong teams they are more experienced than in any season at this time of the year.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 16.—Captain Edward Mahan of Harvard proved himself a worthy successor to Captain Charles Buckley, the former star, by personally defeating the University of Virginia today 9 to 0, dropping three field goals one of them from the 42-yard line.

The Virginians proved less formidable than was expected from their 10 to 0 defeat of Yale two weeks ago. They had little in the way of an offense which Harvard did not fathom in the first period, but their defense suffered as it retreated and twice threw back the crimson tide inside the five-yard line. Three Virginia attempts at field goal failed.

The Harvard offense got under way in the second period for a 55-yard march to Virginia's three-yard line, the longest gain of the afternoon. Virginia prevented a touchdown and Mahan dropped his first goal from the 15-yard line. When the Truth Hurts. "Miss Braddon, the English novelist, who has just died," said a publisher, "made $500,000 out of her books; her publisher's share being $1,500,000." "Miss Braddon's great success, she once told me, was due to her avoidance in her books of truth. Truth, she said, is the one thing the average novel reader doesn't want. For truth you see, is unpleasant."
