REBUKE THAT WAS DESERVED

Noted Author's Cutting Answer Warranted by the Exigencies of the Case.

Amella E. Barr, in her autobiography, tells of her experience in looking for a "church home" in the big city. She enjoyed a sermon by a famous preacher and wrote to ask about joining his congregation. An officer of the church called. After the polite preliminaries he said: "Doctor C would like to know the name of your banker." "My banker," she replied in amazement. "I have no banker." "You see," he continued, "ours is a very extravagant church—I mean in good works—and our members must be looked to for large subscriptions. Doctor C is acquainted with your name, and thinks highly of you, but he is afraid you would not be able to give as liberally as our church expenses demanded." Mrs. Barr looked at him silently while he pondered in explanations. Finally she said: "You had better make no more explanations, sir. I understand that only the rich can be members of Doctor C's church. The Lord-Christ also is therefore ineligible. I will remain outside with him."—San Francisco Argonaut

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR ITCHING SCALPS, DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect the pillow from possible stain. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

Queer Fable About Cotton

When cotton first came to Europe to make its principal center in Lancashire it was the subject of the quaint and wonderful fable of the "Vegetable Lamb." The fluffy white fibers of the bursting cotton pod so resembled sheep's wool that travellers reported that in Tartary there grew a shrub the fruit or boll of which contained "withinne a lyttle Reaste in Flasche, in Bone and Bloode, as though it were a lyttle Lambe with outer wool." After the lamb had been eaten the wool was made into cloth, continued this story, which is the earliest European account of the manufacture of cotton.

Wooden-Legged Duck Thrives

A wooden-legged duck lives and thrives at Airvault, a little village in Bordeaux, France. At a recent meeting of the local natural history society the chairman told of the duck which had its leg crushed in a stable door. Its owner, a peasant woman, amputated the leg and replaced it with a wooden one which she manufactured herself. The duck is now able to get about the farmyard with perfect ease.

"Inns"

At one time the words "hostel" and "inn" were not confined to licensed houses, but were applied to lodging houses. The "inns" of Oxford and Cambridge, very numerous before the introduction of colleges, were regulated by the college authorities. The Inns of Court were provided for the accommodation of law students. In olden times country houses of the aristocracy, during the absence of the owners, were used as "inns," or guest-houses. It was then the rule to hang out as signs the arms of the owners; hence the origin of public-house signs.

Wall Papers

Paper for screens and partitions of rooms was common in China as early as the fourth century. In the sixteenth century the use of wall paper became fashionable in Holland, and soon afterwards it was commonly seen in English houses. Originally Chinese papers were printed from blocks, hand-painted, or stamped, the designs being exquisite. Modern printing and stamping machines made the manufacture of continuous rolls of wall paper possible.

Baby's Deduction.

A well known clergyman tells this story to illustrate the early age at which children learn to "notice." A young father, not ordinarily given to profanity, had slipped into the habit of using bad words when, as too frequently happened, his collar refused to fasten easily. One day the collar—impatiently discarded—fell upon the floor and later was retrieved by the baby. Just beginning to creep and talk

"Dada, dada," cried the baby, waving the rejected article of apparel.

"Yes, it belongs to dada," said the proud parent, snatching up his son and heir. "Now baby tell papa its name."

"Dada's damn," came the cooling reply.

Wise Change.

"I understand that your friend, the fastidious Mr. Bixley, didn't marry his landlady's daughter?"

"No, he thought better of it and married her mother."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Repenting at Leisure.

Shimmerpate—I understand Beaubrough fell in love with his wife at first sight.

Hemmandway—Yes; and now he is sorry he didn't take a second look.—Judge.

Managerial Dilemma.

Friend—What's the matter?
Theatrical Manager—I'm debating whether to put on a play that's recommended by doctors or one that's approved by the clergy.—Judge.

Honk!

"Your cows moo in a most peculiar way."

"The instinct for self-preservation develops animals," remarked the farmer. "Them cows don't want to be run over by the pesky autos, so they are learning to honk."—Judge.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from some form of feminine disorder is told that an operation is necessary, it of course frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital operating table and the surgeon's knife strikes terror to her heart, and no wonder. It is quite true that some of these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but thousands of women have avoided the necessity of an operation by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This fact is attested by the grateful letters they write to us after their health has been restored.

These Two Women Prove Our Claim.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."

—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Me.

Charlotte, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. If I even lifted a chair it would cause a hemorrhage. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health and am the mother of a nice baby girl. You can use this letter to help other suffering women."
—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 16 Wyoona St., Charlotte, N. C.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman submit to a surgical operation without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
