BOUTS TO BE NO DECISION

Jimmie Bronson has done as much good for boxing if not more than any man connected with the game. He has placed it on a high plane; his shows and himself personally are endorsed by all clergy men of Joplin. Bronson has placed the sport above the dollar. "Sports for sport's sake." has always been his motto in the conducting of his club.

Petty Gambling Will Be Eliminated; Clean Sport Lovers Welcome Bronson.

It was Bronson who, a lew weeks ago, declared that no sporting event that that city is entitled to only the best. Toward that end he has secured boxers at the top of the game to open the club at the Grand open house next Monday night. Bouts with only newspaper decisions are to be given. In doing this, it is the purpose of Bronson to eliminate all petty gambling, which has been a great evil here in the past, and which has threatened to wreck the boxing game in Tulsa.

Classiest Card Offered Here, The bill for opening night as an sounced by Bronson, is undoubtedly one of the classiest if not the classlest ever staged here. Two bouts each, and a six-round curtain raise: boy, in a 15-round bout, are offered.

Although the bout was one of the are offered.

In the final event, Jack "Giant Killer" Dillon, former world's light heavyweight champion, and Hugh Walker, pronounced by the Motion Picture Exhibitors association to be at all times. (By LARRY DAILEY.)

Picture Exhibitors association to be America's most perfect man, are to meet. Dillon is probably better known of the two, his meteoric rise to the squarest and wisest impresarios connected with the game and who has been staging bouts at Joplin for more than a decade, has announced that he will establish a club in Tulsa similar to the Southwest Athletic club at Joplin, staging his first show here next Monday night.

Thirty-Eighth Birthday of Charles Dooin

Charles F. Dooin, once one of the Dooln received a call from the Qua-ker City and caught eighty-seven games for the Phillies that year. In 1911 he was made manager of the team on which he had so long been the star backstop. He remained as pilot of the team until the winter of 1914, when he was deposed, after having made a very good showing with the team. He immediately signed up with Cincinnati.

Charlie Mitchell and Patsy Cardiff fought a 5-round draw on this date in 1886, at Minneapolis. This bout was with soft gloves. The Englishman weighed about 155 pounds, while Cardiff tipped the beam at 185 pounds. Practically all the spectators agreed that Mitchell had the best of the argument, but the referee called it a draw. It was the custom, when Mitchell was touring America, to give the native sons the benefit of the doubt and as Mitchell lacked a knockout purch, he seldom got a decision in his favor even when he clearly outclassed his opponents. Patsy Cardiff was a good boxer, and popular in the middle-west, but he lacked the fighting spirit and was easily biuffed. Cardiff afterward fought John L. Sullivan in Minneapolis, and gat only a draw although John's arm was broken early in the contest. Cardiff feared that the champion was playing a game and was too timid to wade in and nab the title which was within his grarp.
