Accepted Styles for Fall Wear

Not a complete display—but broad enough in range to give a definite knowledge of Fashion approved modes in Fall Suits—Fall Coats—Fall Dresses.

The new Suits show exquisite new lines with longer and narrower skirts; shades of blue, brown, green and taupe being most prominent.

The Fall Coats present exclusive models for motor, travel and street wear. Every model is extremely graceful and are beautifully lined throughout.

The early Fall Dresses are shown in Taffeta, Satin and Serge. Beaded and braided styles as well as plain models. Some have over-skirt effects with girdles. Suitable for afternoon and street wear.

Our Beautiful New War Savings Bank is a Monument To the Progressiveness of Tulsa Business And Tradesmen. Not Only Will It Awaken Renewed Patriotism But Inspire Both Young And Old to Save and Serve.

Miss Herald departs today for the eastern markets where she will remain for a time making selections of the latest and smartest things in millinery for you—211 West Third street.

There is a change in neckwear and a new line almost each week. All these are tending in the same direction—toward a revival of the high, weird Medici or Elizabethan collar.

The warm weather calls for appetizing foods well cooked and daintily served and you are sure to find both at the Superior Tea Room, 214 South Main street.

A local shop is showing a dainty frock of pink Georgette embroidered in white dots and bars having a long pleated tunic and a fichu that crosses in front and ties in the back at the waistline.

If it's a wardrobe treat you want let it be a Hartman, the best made. Only authorized agency in Tulsa, Elphinstone Textile Factory, 145 South Main street, Telephone 184.

For evening wear I noticed a hat of gray grosgrain ribbon put together with heavy gray silk embroidery threads. A tassel and velvet band added and you have a trim and pretty as a shop could offer for fall wear.

If you expect to purchase half goods I would remind you that the New York Hair Shop carries only natural hair. Robinson building.

Pockets have gone the downward road predicted for them some time ago. They still appear on frocks of moulin, silk or satin and in coats and suits.

Mrs. Kirk's already has attained distinct popularity as a result of the deliciousness of its ice and drinks.

WHEN you establish the habit of wearing an AKIN boot you start something that you will appreciate.

AKIN'S are the type of slippers, pumps, and shoes that dainty women want and come out of their way to buy.

THE charm of AKIN footwear lies in its fashion development along ideas on daintiness and refinement, based upon value and production for popular priced selling.

When you change your money you get more for the paper than you for the silver. For instance, for 15 in silver you get 25 francs and for the same amount in paper you get 28 francs. Don't know why. The francs are in silver—one and two francs, and their paper in 5, ten and 20 francs and up denominations. Then they have centimes, too. Will send you a slip showing their money if the censor will let it pass.
