Thought gentle words be given
By lips that met or casual thought
By lips that met or casual thought
They cannot give my soul's infirmity
Leaves of courage to move its grief aside.
But even a long silence shared with you
Evinces me with strength and faith to rise
Refreshed and unafraid, with will to be.
When one friend understands,
Life satisfies.
—Catharine Cranmer.

Work of Federation.
Officials of the State Federation are recognizing the good of publicity, not only to call to arms women of the state, but to relate the needs of its women. The following is a list of both. Mrs. R. K. Wooten, club extension secretary, writes:
"In the absence of our president, Mrs. Pearson, I have been asked to send you a message. My work, as you know, is among the near clubs of the state, and to them more especially this message is directed. We have many new clubs in the state that are not federated and I urge each and every one to join the state federation. Remember, in unity there is strength. I am glad to note so many additions to the federated list, but we need every one of you. I am anxious to see every Delphian club in the state a member of the federation. If you are a new club or one of longer standing, come and join us in making the Oklahoma Federation of Women's Clubs a power for good in our state."
Mrs. J. C. Pearson, state president, writes:
"No longer may the vice presidents of the general federation rest idly on their thrones. To see that the 2,900 agricultural counties of the 2,500 counties in the United States, each has a woman home demonstration agent, and a state dairy and poultry woman specialist; that each state legislature makes sufficient appropriation to meet the federal appropriation under the Lever act, and that 50 per cent of such fund in each state be devoted to the development of the home demonstration work for women in that state, is the task of Mrs. W. S. Jennings, first vice president of the general federation and director of the special department on home demonstration work."
The 15 southern states including Oklahoma, already have 1,000 home demonstration agents, while the 33 northern states lag behind with only 240 agents. Mrs. R. P. White, state chairman of home economics, will serve as director for the Oklahoma State Federation. Both Miss Francis Browne, who has lately assumed charge of the home demonstration agents under the extension division of the A. and M. college, and Mrs. White will work enthusiastically for co-operation of urban and rural clubs. While it is true that the city club has a special problem, the small town club another, and the rural another, it is also true that all clubs whether located in a city, a small town, or the country, have many interests in common. The Federation of Women's Clubs offers the best medium for women of every place, every creed, and every occupation to counsel together. We invite the rural clubs to federate with us.
This is the time of year to swat the fly and inaugurate clean up days. Both in the interest of public health and for economic reasons we should increase our efforts to exterminate flies. Do you remember that last fall flies killed cattle and made it impossible for farmers to use horses and mules in their fields?
The Help One Another club of Tulsa was omitted from the year-book. Mrs. Frank Weidman is president. The following are the club members—Mother's club, Mrs. Mae Meeker, president; Chickasha—Dobating club, Mrs. Merle Elder, president; Jennings—Young Mothers' club, Mrs. Marion McFarland Reigel, president. When this letter is published your president hopes to be at her girlhood home, Sioux City, Iowa, partly for a much needed vacation, but mostly to help honor the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of her father and mother. I expect to return March 15. Meanwhile our vice-president, Mrs. R. K. Wooten, is in charge of our work.

Many Delegates Coming.
Miss Isabel Pondia, chairman of the committee making reservations for delegates to the state conference, Daughters of the American Revolution, which convenes here Friday, March 19, in the public library, announces that the attendance will be a large one, many delegates announcing their intention to be here. These delegates will arrive Thursday so as to attend the opening function which will be a brilliant reception held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Means in Maple Ridge.

Honors for Tulsa Girl.
One of the prettiest courtesies of the Continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, to be held in Washington in April, will be accorded to a young Tulsa girl, Miss Jane Robinson. Miss Robinson, who is attending Mount Vernon seminary, has been chosen as Oklahoma's representative to take part in an evening of "living pictures" to be given April 23, portraying famous historical characters. The actors for the "living pictures" are chosen by the various state historians of the D. A. R. Mrs. M. H. Downs of Sapulpa, Oklahoma's state historian, has just named Miss Robinson for the pleasing honor. Miss Robinson is the granddaughter of Mrs. H. McCoy of Tulsa, a former regent of the local chapter. Her father, J. B. Robinson of Tulsa, will attend the performance of "living pictures" in which his daughter takes part.

Do This
Then see if your friends notice prettier teeth

Make this pleasant ten-day test. See what it does for your teeth. Then judge for yourself—by the clear results—how much this method means.
Millions of people have thus found a way to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. And you will also find it.

It fights film
This method combats the film on teeth—that viscid coat you feel. Film is the teeth's great enemy. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays.
Brushing in the old ways does not and this film. And most tooth troubles are caused by what is left.
Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. It is the basis of

Advertising Men Hear of Printers' Troubles

Advertisers and printers can both benefit by co-operation. Guy C. McWilliams, secretary of the Tulsa Typothetae, told members of the Ad club at the weekly luncheon at Hotel Tulsa Tuesday noon. McWilliams' talk dealt mostly with the relation of the printer to direct mail advertising. The printer should be consulted whenever the advertiser is in doubt, he declared, as this co-operation frequently leads to suggestions that increase the advertiser's business.

Breaks Leg by Jump.
As he jumped from a jitney on North Lewis, near the Springdale school about noon yesterday, W. C. Wade, 30 years old, residing at 1293 East Hodge, lost his footing, stumbled, fell and broke his leg. He was taken to the Oklahoma hospital, where last night he was said to be resting.
