Ethel Scott, Representing Local Women's Clubs, to Give Invitation

WOMEN GO TO ST. PAUL

Miss Ellen Glasscock Will Represent Tidal Club at National Meeting

An invitation to hold the third annual convention of the national federation of business and professional women's clubs in Tulsa in 1921 will be extended by Miss Ethel Scott, representing the Tulsa business and professional women's club, at the second annual convention to convene in St. Paul, Minn., July 27.

This invitation will be presented by Miss Scott to be as follows: "The chamber of commerce of Tulsa desires to extend to your organization, through Miss Ethel Scott, representing the Tulsa business and professional women's club, a cordial invitation to hold your next annual convention in this city. There is much to see and entertain in Tulsa; much which will be new to your representatives. The city is centrally located, is easy of access by five lines of transportation, is splendidly equipped with hotel facilities, has a large convention hall seating in excess of 3,000 people comfortably, has other large assembly rooms, and meeting points, and is in every way qualified to properly care for such a convention as that represented by your organization. The citizenship generally of Tulsa will deem it a distinguished honor to act as host for your association during the meeting in 1921 and hopes to hear of the prompt acceptance of this invitation."

Miss Ellen Glasscock, a member of the Tidal business women's club, which is affiliated with the national federation, will also attend the meeting. She will leave here Saturday for St. Paul. Miss Scott, who is employed by the Cyprian Oil company, is now visiting relatives in the east and will proceed to the convention from the point at which she is visiting.

AVIATOR IS MISSING

Captain Arthur Kelly, Aviator on Duty Against Reds, Has Disappeared.

By The Associated Press. WARSAW, July 20.—Another American aviator, serving with the Kosciuszko squadron, is missing. Capt. Marion Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., who has been missing since he started flight July 13. Captain Cooper, who was recently mentioned as the successor of Maj. Cedric Pauntieroy as commander of the Kosciuszko squadron, formerly was a newspaper man, having served in various capacities in Chicago, San Antonio and St. Paul. He came to Poland a year ago.

Gray yesterday and paid a fine of $10 and costs assessed against him by the court.

Ex-Tammauy Chief and Wife Sail for Europe—say Children Ungrateful

Before sailing for Ireland several days ago, Richard Croker, the aged ex-chief of Tammany Hall, referring to his position in the recent tangled family controversy, declared that his children were ungrateful. He declared that the reason for the trouble was nothing else but money. The Croker's trip to Ireland was delayed for some time in Palm Beach, Fla., by the trial of the suit brought by Richard Croker, Jr. The ex-Tammany chieftain, however, won a notable victory in the case, clearly proving his competence to manage his property. This photograph shows Mr. and Mrs. Croker as they sailed for Ireland.

OKLAHOMA GIRLS LIKE CRESCENT

Arkansas Junior College Popular in Oklahoma.

Oklahoma Girls Form a Large Part of the Student Body at Crescent College, Eureka Springs, Ark., in Recent Years.

Some years ago this institution announced its abandonment of dry and useless subjects in its curriculum which had been commonly required in girls' colleges and boarding schools. Latin and higher mathematics gave place to practical courses in cooking, sewing, child welfare, hygiene and other useful sciences. In place of the traditional boarding school rules, Crescent inaugurated the student government plan which enabled girls to feel liberty of action and responsibility for the conduct of their schoolmates. The result has been gratifying, whereas formerly it was necessary to send out solicitors in the summer to make up the quota of 80 girls, all Crescent spaces are now reserved early in the summer, simply because the modern methods employed there have become known. Crescent has become standardized by the state universities and all work accredited. Unusual advantages are offered in music, art and expression. The college owns a beautiful lake and club houses for the students recreation. For catalogue and view book, address Crescent College, Box W, Eureka Springs, Ark.—Adv.

TULSAN ELECTED TO HIGH OFFICE

Joe Badger Is Named for Vice-Presidency of Baptist Body

The latest Tulisan to be honored with a high office is Joe Badger, who was elected vice president of the International Baptist Young People's Union at the convention held in Toronto, Canada, July 4-4. This office is one of the highest which can be occupied by a young Baptist of the southland, as the three vice presidents of the international organization are chosen respectively from the southern and northern Baptists of the United States and the Baptists of Canada.

The Tulsa delegates, who were the only Oklahoma delegates at the convention, were Mr. Badger and Milton E. Mason from the First Baptist church and Miss Myrtle Waggoner and Mrs. F. C. Barbeau from the Nomales Avenue Baptist church. An invitation to hold the 1922 convention in Tulsa was presented by the Tulsa delegation and will be presented again at the convention in St. Louis next year.

Over 3,000 delegates attended the convention and 315 young people enrolled for Christian service at home or abroad. One of the resolutions adopted was that the young people of America, in order to assist in Americanizing foreign students, eliminate such names as "dagos," "wops," etc., from their vocabulary.

Mr. Badger is president of the intermediate union of the First Baptist church and Mr. Mason is president of a senior B. Y. P. U. at the same church. The First Baptist church is one of the few churches in the country which has two senior unions, the division being necessitated by the large enrollment. The present enrollment in both unions is 155. The young man or woman missing three meetings of the unions in succession is dropped from the rolls.
