Traveling is Dangerous.

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much suffer from kidney disease in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder disease. Geo. H. Hausan, locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes, "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure."

Foley's Honey and Tar is peculiarly adapted for asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness. Sold by Bonner & Bonner.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN.

How Queen Draga Queened it Over Offending Banker's Wife.

Belgrade, May 27.—At last Queen Draga has had the satisfaction to know that she is "it." For a long while certain ladies of Belgrade society have managed to ignore, or cut, Draga, without giving her an opportunity to strike back. But the other day she learned that a rich banker's wife had boasted that she went to the palace without observing the usual ceremony, namely to kiss her majesty's hand.

"I wouldn't kiss that woman's hand for anything in the world," she added emphatically.

Thereupon Draga sent the marshal of the palace to the banker's wife with orders to bring her there without delay. The dame was driven to the castle in a royal coach and four, attracting much attention and soldiers in parade uniform lined the steps of the palace when she drove up. The marshal bade the banker's wife wait on the threshold in full view of the soldiers and a mob of several hundred people who had assembled. She waited fifteen minutes, but when the queen finally appeared, Draga looked her sweetest and held both hands toward her enemy, making a great show of welcome. And, overcome by so much kindness, the banker's wife dropped on one knee and, kissing both her majesty's hands fervently, cried in an outburst of mingled pride and satisfaction, "How can I thank your majesty for coming yourself to receive me?"

The queen merely replied: "You kissed my hands, didn't you, and on your knees, too, without coercion?"

"Of course, your majesty, with the greatest of satisfaction, I assure you," stammered the banker's wife rising and preparing to enter.

"That will do, then," blessed back Draga, "now get out."

At the same time the queen motioned the four-horse coach to drive away and the banker's wife was compelled to leave the palace on foot amid the jeers of the soldiers and the onlookers who had witnessed the scene and heard every word spoken, certainly those spoken by the queen, who had an object in making herself understood. "My action may not have been very queenly," said Draga afterwards, "womanly it certainly was."
