Ardmore, Tuesday, October 10, 1905.

One thing that may be said for the guilty packers—when they were caught with the goods they promptly acknowledged their crime.

Charles J. Bonaparte is another of those gentlemen who oppose restricting negro suffrage because it would also restrict white suffrage.

France is just beginning to find out how badly Emperor William bullied her. Johnnie Crepaud is fairly making the welkin ring as the knowledge soaks in.

President Roosevelt says that "ordinarily bears were not flurried when I came suddenly upon them." There are a whole lot of people in Wall street who are ready to make similar observations.

Wild Rose, Wis., turned out after some bank robbers, killed one, mortally wounded two and caught the other. Every rose has its thorn and the wild variety was specially bad for the robbers.

The czar is going to retire all inefficient officers in his navy. The czar has a great many officers to retire and so navy to speak of. He begins the work of reform too late. There are others.

Those 30,000 people who constitute the decrease in Iowa's population during the last year or so are about evenly divided between the farmers who came to Texas and the office holders who went to Washington.

Can it be the American boy is tiring of his strenuous toy? There is a growing disposition in an expanding area to criticize trips to the bottom of the sea and hurling defiance at megomys fasciana on the part of the president.

M. White is being showered with roses by his people for bringing about peace with Japan. Yet there is Kuro-patkin who did as much in that direction as any other man and he is hooded. Thus do we see the inconsistency of the people.

The Washington Post tells about a petrified apple that has been discovered near Guadalajara, Mexico. It should be left buried there for fear it is the famous "apple of discord" that has been keeping trouble going in the little republics further south.

We will all be in a bad fix if President Roosevelt should conclude to reconsider his determination to retire from politics and again become a candidate. We would have to take back all the nice things we said about him and say other things with thorns and bark on them.

The assurance is given in England that the treaty with Japan means peace for the next decade. In other countries this optimistic view is not shared, and it is contended that peace will exist only until the other nations can make a treaty among themselves which will warrant them in attempting to take some of the good things in the Far East that England and Japan seem to be disposed to enjoy alone.

Mr. Ripley, of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, testified before the interstate commerce commission that his road lost money on every shipment of fresh meat from the packing houses in Kansas City. After awhile it may come out why he continued to transport the meat when his road was losing money on its transportation. It is right here where the beef trust fangs are located.

DO YOU LEAN OR LIFT?

Ella Wheeler Wilcox, who writes some good things sometimes, has a poem on two kinds of people—those who lift and those who lean. She says there are twenty leaners where there is one who lifts. She is right.

In every household there is someone who is the main dependence. That one goes ahead with the work, carries the burden and the worry, while the others lean. Usually it is the mother—more's the pity—who does the lifting.

In every business it is so. One takes the initiative, does the planning. He seems cut out for his task of leadership and voluntarily assumes it. The others depend on him. It is so much easier to follow than to lead.

In the church a very few do the work and make the sacrifice of time and energy. The others lean on the leaders.

The same thing is true in state legislatures, in congress. A very few men do the real work of legislation. The others simply mark time. They lean on the strong spirits.

Are you lifting or leaning?

There is a lot of work to do in the world—not merely big tasks—common everyday work. And some do more than their share because so many shirk. There are tired, over-wrought souls who break under the strain because so many lean upon them.

Is there some willing man near you who is lifting more than his share of the load? Roll up your sleeves and give him a lift.

Is there some tired, worn, nervous woman upon whom—for shame!—you have leaned too long? Turn in and help the over-taxed brave one.

Quit leaning.

Lift!

THE LAW'S DELAY.

Five years ago two rascally contractors named Gaynor and Greene robbed the government of large sums of money through the connivance of Oberlin M. Carter, who has just served a five years' term in prison for his part in the affair, and who is now being sued civilly for $500,000 of the government's money which he misappropriated.

Gaynor and Greene fled to Canada and have been fighting extradition ever since.

Powerful as is the United States and anxious as is the British government to return our criminals for punishment, it has taken five long years of fighting in the court to get the culprits out of Canada.

They will now return to Georgia and stand trial. They have benefited by the law's delay for a season, but have at last been brought to bay. Their case is a sad travesty upon our methods of jurisprudence; but in the final analysis, it shows that the way of the transgressor is hard when Uncle Sam sets out after him.

President McCurdy of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, is a daddy as is a daddy. He paid his beloved son $1,959,267 commissions on business in a few years. When "the old gen" gives his young hopeful an amount that requires seven figures to express, he is entitled to be called "the Gov."

It is now stated that the purpose of President Roosevelt in coming south is to preach the necessity of congressional action in giving the interstate commerce commission further power to enforce its regulations of erratic representatives their support in congress.

A Chicago newspaper is authority for the statement that the birth rate of males in that town is less than that of females, while the death rate of males is greater than that of females. The first fact may not be so vastly accounted for, but the fact that the death rate of males is greater is easily explained by the fact that a town that is constantly in the throes of riots, strikes, etc., may naturally expect to run short of killable material sooner or later.

NEW INDIAN AGENTS.

Oklahoma Man Appointed for the Kiowa Agency.

Washington, Oct. 9.—The president today appointed John P. Jackson, of Oklahoma, to be Indian agent at Kiowa agency, Oklahoma, vice Randlett, resigned, and Edward D. Kelley of South Dakota to be agent at Rosebud agency, in that state, to succeed Chas. E. McChesney, who has been appointed special agent of Indian bureau.

Miss Alice in Japan.

Tokio, Oct. 9.—Miss Alice Roosevelt passed through this city this morning en route to Niako. She was met at the station by the governor of the city and the master of ceremonies and driven to Ueno in an imperial carriage, where she took the train for Niako. She appeared to be in excellent health.

IN PROHIBITION KANSAS.

Shooting Gallery Man Paints Town Shoots Mayor and Three Others.

Harper, Kas., Oct. 10.—While intoxicated last night, J. J. Aiken, proprietor of a shooting gallery made the rounds of the business district, firing his revolver at random and chasing every one off the streets.

Mayor W. G. Muir was shot and seriously wounded and Fred Lyons, a Mr. Myer, and the town marshal were slightly wounded, Mayor Muir will recover, Akin was arrested.

BELIEVED TO BE SUICIDE

BODIES OF YOUNG MAN AND WOMAN FOUND IN ROAD.

Young Lady Was School Teacher—Had Been Shot Twice—Man Also Shot and Throat Cut—Two Stories of the Tragedy.

Haskell, I. T., Oct. 9.—The bodies of Miss Margaret Lindsay, the Haskell school teacher, and that of a man from Bixby, I. T., were found in the road three miles north of Haskell today. The couple had been dead several hours. There were no marks of violence on the bodies and it is believed that Miss Lindsay and the man committed suicide.
The man's name is Joseph B. Young.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 9.—(Special.)—May Lindsay and Joe Bruler, sweethearts were found dead by the roadside near Haskell, I. T., last night at 11 o'clock.

Miss Lindsay had been shot twice and Bruler had his throat cut and was shot. A knife and revolver was lying at his feet.

It is supposed that he killed the girl, and then committed suicide.
The girl was teaching school at Stonebush. They both lived in Bixby. Bruler was taking Miss Lindsay to her school Sunday night in a buggy. The bodies were found lying side by side.
