PHRETLAND DOES NOT ENACT FLU MASK LAW

Portland, Or., Jan. 16.—Compulsory wearing of influenza masks will not be in effect in Portland, as the result of a negative vote cast by Commissioner John M. Mann at the special of the city commission yesterday afternoon. At least, the ordinance as framed could not take effect for 35 days with a vote of one commissioner standing against it, inasmuch as one vote automatically eliminates the emergency clause. Seven days are then required before the third reading and 30 days for the measure to take effect, if passed by the commission after another reading.

The ordinance had been amended and was called for a vote when Commissioner Mann arose to oppose the measure.

"Since this ordinance has been under consideration, I have talked to no less than 100 medical authorities," he explained, "and the consensus of opinion is that the disease can be stopped without compulsory wearing of the mask, through strict enforcement of the quarantine. Those who wish to wear the mask may do so, if optional. I will cast my vote against this ordinance."

Two hundred and twenty five new cases of influenza and 16 deaths had been reported to the health bureau at 4 o'clock yesterday, a decrease in new cases of 200 from the report turned in Tuesday.

GERMANY SEES SELF, PRESS RAPS MEANS TOWARD SOCIALISM

If there is harmony in Germany it isn't expressed in this rap at the people of Berlin in the Cologne Volkszeitung.

To hail with the Berliners "people without soul and without heart," "impalpable foes of all Kultur." In the great record book of humanity, a monstrous debt of blood is inscribed against Berlin. He who has not yet made himself acquainted with the revolting sentiments which have prevailed in the Prussian capital for centuries is willfully blind. Berlin is an immense moral cesspool. We refuse to be any longer credulous its way.

Keeping Wages Down. Voss Zetzelle indicates a movement that will come far from lessening the spread of bolshevism. It reports Paul Hirsch of the Prussian political cabinet as saying that the government plans to create an independent wage department, the chief work of which will be to advise the working classes how disastrous will be the result if they insist on demanding excessive wages.

Experiments Condemned. And Braunn, minister of agriculture, is quoted in the Berlin Tageblatt as saying:

What we need is work and bread, to which end we must get our industries going and leave experimentalism to the future. Wage demands, too, must be kept within reason. It is sheer madness for a soldiers' council to split up a great estate and sell it in small holdings, as was recently done. That is not the way to socialism. No worse moment than the present could be chosen for socialization.

PURE FOOD-GROCERY WHERE IT PAYS TO TRADE BARGAIN BASEMENT

HOUSEHOLD

Common Ways of Wasting Fats. To "eat fat just to save it" is as unwise as it is difficult. A small piece of bread left on a plate can be eaten to save it from ending its day in the garbage can, but fat is not so easily and judiciously saved from waste. It is pointed out that all the many ways of wasting fat should be thoughtfully avoided by the housewife. Do you waste fat in any of these ways? By serving baked ham with large portions of fat on the edge. By throwing away fat trimmed from beef or other fresh meat. By serving large butter or margarine balls to each person. By using heavy cream. By frying food in deep fat. By frying food when it would be as well or better to bake or stew it.

By making pies or other pastries when simpler desserts would be more nourishing. Think it over, and see that these sins are wiped off your slate. Textures in Food. In planning a menu, or in serving a meal there is one very important point to be kept in mind in addition to "food values" and the "five food groups." It is termed, for lack of a better word, "food textures."

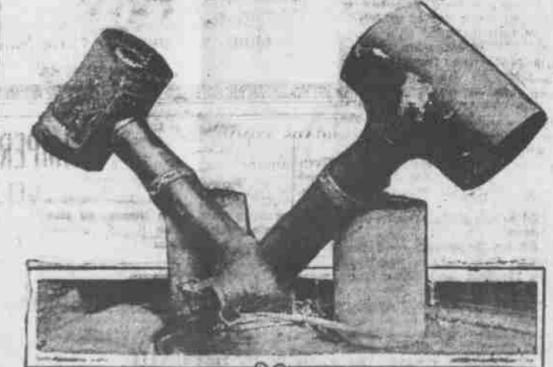

Foods may be hard or soft, crisp, brittle or oily, smooth or granular, coarse grained or fine grained. An attractive meal avoids too many foods of the same texture. Milk toast and custard make a combination too soft, crisp rolls and nuts make a combination too hard. Dumplings on the other hand go well with meat stews, hard cookies with soft desserts such as custards and ice creams, crisp crackers with soups, nuts with raisins or figs.

Portland Reds Keep Peace and Quiet

PORTLAND, Jan. 15.—Reports that the mayor and sheriff and chief of police had had conferences concerning measures to be taken should leaders in the recently organized council of "workmen," soldiers and sailors attempt to precipitate trouble, are said to have quitted the organization and convinced its heads that Portland does not intend to tamper with a few firebrands. Mayor Baker has no statement to give out regarding the conferences, but it is known that no precautionary steps have been overlooked in the desire to keep Portland free of such turmoil as that experienced by Seattle Sunday.

Japs Study About Russia. TOKYO, Jan. 15.—The Imperial University of Tokyo has decided to add a chair of Russian, for the study of the language and other subjects relating to Russia. It will be in the College of Literature.

HERE'S ANOTHER U. S. WAR SECRET; LAUNCHES DOUBLE DEPTH CHARGE

This looks like a two-headed hammer of Thor, but it is only a modern American war invention, mounted on the deck of a U-boat destroyer. It is called a Y-gun, and it launches a double depth charge at one release. There's a chance of getting the U-boat larboard and starboard at the same time. The hammer heads are depth bombs, ready for release.

"Risk Meeting Padre," Instead of "Come Pray" Brings in the Soldiers

LONDON, Dec. 29. (By mail).—The war has taught a lesson to the clergyman as well as to the layman. Those priests and parsons who donned khaki and went "over there" to tend their flock have learnt how best to influence the men; one padre, for instance, found it was no use shouting them to "come and pray," so instead he stuck a notice outside his door saying "Come in and risk meeting the padre," and they came. Padres frequently were seen wandering round the camps with a Bible in one hand and a box of cigarettes in the other, for they learned that Tommy, in his extremely excited and nervous state, but for a smoke and companionship. MONUMENT ON THE GRAVE OF MARY PUTNEY, 1894-1914. Set in a grove of beautiful trees, within sight of the scenes of former triumphs, lie the remains of Mary Putney, champion three-year-old trotter in 1915 and champion four-year-old trotter in 1916. She is buried in a little cemetery for race horses at North Randall, Ohio, believed to be the only one of its kind located on a race course. A large monument has been erected to her memory by her owner, Chauncey Sears.

WORK OF ITALIAN SPIES REVEALED, EIGHTY DROPPED BY AIRPLANES

ROME, Jan. 16.—Just before the great Italian offensive started considerable attention was attracted to the extraordinary accuracy of the knowledge of affairs behind the Austrian lines in possession of General Diaz and his staff. It is now known that much of this exact information was secured by men who were dropped in enemy territory by Italian airplanes and after an interval for observation, picked up and brought back by aviators. During the three months just prior to the launching of the Italian drive 80 men were engaged in this perilous work. All had thrilling adventures.

200,000 WOMEN AND CHILDREN AIDED ITALY

ROME, Nov. 26.—Statistics just completed by the Italian government show the remarkable part that was played by the women of Italy in the conduct of the war. Against 900,000 men employed in all of the Italian establishments engaged in the manufacture of war material, there was a total of 200,000 women and children. The contribution of the Italian women towards the war, not only in the matter of manual labor, but in every other branch was so great that the Italian parliament has been asked to establish a new order of knight-hood which will be conferred exclusively on women for services rendered during the war.

Plan Long Ranks of Trees to Honor Dead

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—A nationwide movement has been started by the American Forestry association for the planting of memorial trees for the soldiers dead. Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the association has written to every governor, asking cooperation. The plan is to have each state plant mem-
