LIVE NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

TACOMA, Wash., May 22.—Representatives of 1100 Sunday schools in 19 Washington counties gathered here today to attend the annual convention of the Western Washington Sunday School association. The convention ends on the night of May 25. Sunday schools in the association have a total membership of 120,000 and 10,000 teachers.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—The twenty-ninth annual convention of the diocese of Oregon opens here today at St. Stephen's Pro-Cathedral, and will end tomorrow night. Chief among the items of interest before the convention is legislation in accordance with the action of the general convention establishing a new and uniform business system in the church throughout the country. Two meetings in connection with the convention are of importance to the diocese. A mass meeting in the interest of missionary work was held last night and tonight church leaders will discuss the problem of religious education.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., May 22.—Port Orford today claims the distinction of being the most patriotic town in the state of Oregon. One third of its entire male population has gone to war, and there is not a man between the ages of 21 and 31, the conscription age, left in the town. None of the men who have offered their services to their country from Port Orford have failed to pass the strict physical examinations. Port Orford is the westernmost town in the United States proper.

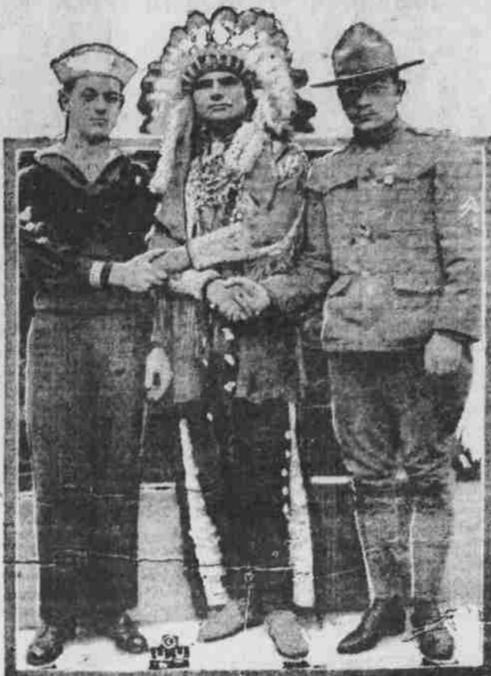

SPOKANE, Wash., May 22.—The inland representatives of the Western Pine Manufacturers' association have a standing offer with the government today to turn over the entire product of their plants to the government, if needed, at any price which the government may fix. Spokane lumbermen expect a visit from Major General George W. Goethals, who has charge of the construction of the fleet of "sea fitness" and is now on his way from Washington to San Francisco.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—More nutritious than the ordinary bean as a food product, yet 10 cents a pound less in price in the soya bean, direct from the heart of China, which has been brought to the Pacific coast to fight the high cost of living. The soya bean is said to thrive in the three northwestern states, particularly in that district east of the mountains. Experiments in planting the soya bean will be made on an extended scale. The government through its food inspector, G. J. Morton, now in Portland, is lending every encouragement to the planting of the Chinese bean this season. Seed merchants are making arrangements to make it possible for every farmer in the northwest to secure seed. Experiments in raising the soya bean have been made successfully in eastern Oregon, but until now the raising of the bean had not been considered as a commercial proposition. Soya beans can be sold for $7 a hundred pounds. In color and shape the soya bean resembles a certain variety of garden peas. Hitherto, it has been used in the manufacture of compounds and soaps. The oil-bearing qualities of the soya give it a rich flavor.

SCHEDULE OF DATES FOR SEASON'S PLANTING

Keep the Table Supplied With Fresh Vegetables Until Winter Comes.

Let one crop follow another and keep the garden busy. Many persons who have been paying little attention to gardening do not realize to what extent this is possible, but if we are to cope successfully with the threatened food shortage it will be necessary to make every square foot of soil count as many times as possible. Therefore, in order to help every gardener to secure maximum results, Prof. Bouquet, Head of Vegetable Gardening at U. A. C., has arranged the following list of planting and seeding dates.

While the dates given are suggestive, they must be modified to suit the various conditions of the state. As far as possible, however, they are representative of the greater part of eastern Oregon, for a normal season. In arrangement the planting table is divided into two parts: first, seeding directly in the garden; second, transplanting of young plants, which have been previously grown, or which have been bought. Dates of harvesting the different vegetables are also noted. Some vegetables which are being continually harvested are not again mentioned in the succeeding dates.

Schedule for Successful Planting.
May 15 to 20—Field setting of tomatoes.
Seeding cucumbers, melons, lima beans, pumpkins, squash, sweet corn, summer radishes and lettuce. Also sowing in seed beds late fall cauliflower, late cabbage, Brussels sprouts, Scotch kale.

Harvesting asparagus, rhubarb, green onions, radishes, spinach.
June 1 to 15—Transplanting plants of peppers, egg plant and early celery.
Seeding summer lettuce, string beans.

Harvesting asparagus, rhubarb, green onions, spinach, transplanted head lettuce, radishes, turnips, Kohlrabi.
June 15 to 30—Transplanting plants of early fall cauliflower, fall cabbage, early celery.

Seeding short season crops for seasonal harvesting.
Harvesting head lettuce, asparagus, rhubarb, radishes, early peas, spinach, turnips.
July 1 to 15—Transplanting plants of late celery, late cabbage, Brussels sprouts, Scotch kale, planting of late beans, late carrots, late sweet corn.

Harvesting peas, lettuce, asparagus, early cabbage, early beets, bunch carrots, and others previously mentioned in preceding date.
July 15 to 20—Finish transplanting celery and late crops mentioned above.

Seeding late head lettuce for fall. Harvesting string beans, peas, summer squash, beets, carrots, cabbage, cauliflower.
August 1 to 15—Seeding fall lettuce for outside use and in the frame.
Harvesting cauliflower, cabbage, string beans, sweet corn, first early tomatoes.

August 15 to 20—Seeding of late lettuce for frame use, Chinese cabbage.
Harvesting tomatoes, sweet corn, beans, head lettuce, cucumbers, melons, peppers etc.
September 1 to 15—Seeding spinach, fall radishes, turnips, and cabbage seed for late fall transplanting.

GEN. JOFFRE KISSES MAYOR'S DAUGHTER

Little Mary Curley, daughter of the mayor of Boston, will ever remember this occasion. Perhaps when she is a white haired old lady she will tell her friends of the greatest kiss she ever received. Before an audience seated in Boston Marshal Joffre kissed her, and the photographer did not fail.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE WAR CENSUS ANSWERED

PORTLAND, May 22.—Among the many questions asked every day at the office of the adjutant general regarding requirements of the war census, to be held Thursday, June 5, the following are typical:

1. "I am a man 20 years old. I will be 21 on June 20. Do I have to register on War Census Day?"

The answer is, Yes. Every male resident between the ages of 21 and 30, INCLUSIVE, must register. In other words, every man who has passed his 21st birthday and has not passed his 31st birthday, must register.

If a man's 31st birthday should fall on June 5, the date of the war census, he is then 31 years old and not subject to registration. If he is 21 years old the next day, June 6, then he must register.

2. "I am a British subject, 25 years old. I tried to enlist in the Oregon National Guard, but was rejected on account of poor physical condition. Do I have to register?"

Yes. All male residents between the ages of 21 and 30 years, inclusive, must register under penalty of imprisonment. This includes aliens of any nationality, Japanese, Chinese, British, Germans, Austrians, Mexican or otherwise. One purpose of the war census is to obtain data as to the number and occupation of all aliens of military age. An alien, of course, will not be subject to military service, but he must register.

3. "Does a man who will be 21 years old the day before the war census day have to register?"

Yes. And if he is 21 years old on war census day itself, he must register. If he is not 21 years old until June 6, he does not have to register.

4. "My age is 29 years and I am a farmer. Am I subject to penalty if I do not register?"

No. Only male residents between the ages of 21 and 30 years, inclusive, are subject to registration.
