WILSON DISCUSSES HASTENING OF ACTION

President Anxious to Get the Tolls Bill Through Senate, Following Adoption by House 247 to 161.

WILL LIKELY MAKE PERSONAL EFFORT WITH LAWMAKERS

Admitted Borah and LaFollette Plan to Make Political Capital Out of Debate in Senate.

Washington, April 1.—With the Panama canal tolls repeal resolution safely adopted by the house, 247 to 161, President Wilson today discussed with Senators Kern, James and others plans for hastening action on the measure by the upper branch of congress.

The senators' opinion was that under their house's rules, it will take at least six weeks to dispose of the resolution. The president was anxious to make better time than this, and it was understood he was likely to make a personal effort with friendly lawmakers to have the proposition pushed, in order to hasten adjournment.

It was admitted that certain of the senators hope to make 1916 campaign capital out of the tolls debate, Borah and LaFollette in particular having prepared long speeches against repeal. The president did not, however, look for any such display of bitterness in the senate as was shown during the debate in the lower house. Senators O'Gorman, Vardaman, Walsh and Chamberlain were considered the repeal resolution's principal democratic opponents.

The upper house had received the resolution, following its passage by the representatives, and referred it to the senate committee, which stands seven to seven for and against the measure. The committee was expected to report it out without a recommendation in about a week.

According to President Wilson's supporters, a senate poll they had made indicated a pro-repeal majority of nearly 2 to 1.

CRUEL APRIL JOKE IS PLAYED ON UNEMPLOYED

Chicago, April 1.—A mob of more than 300 unemployed men congregated today in a cold rain in front of the Soo line freight terminal as a result of a first of April joke perpetrated by an unknown person. Before the small army could be informed that they were victims of a hoax and that the report that the railroad wanted hundreds of workers was untrue, the mob surged against the steel gates, breaking the locks, and poured into the yards.

"We want work," they shouted. The police reserves were called out and it required nearly an hour to clear the streets in the vicinity of the yards.

The men started for the yards when someone gave out a tip at employment offices along West Madison street that the railroad company needed hundreds of men for road building work.

WARING TO NEW PLACE

QUAKER NURSERY MAN WILL TAKE OLD BOARD OF TRADE LOCATION ON STATE.

J. D. Waring, who has for some time conducted an egg and poultry business at the corner of Commercial and Ferry streets, and at the same time has been the agent of the Quaker nurseries, will move into the old Board of Trade building this week and will be ready for business in his new quarters Monday. Talking to a Capital Journal man today he said the planting of orchards this spring was perhaps a trifle below that of the past two or three years, the principal falling off being in apples. The apple took a tumble two years ago and has not yet recovered. This spring the greatest demand for trees was for pines. The Quaker nurseries through him sold several lots of 1,000 and 1,500 trees, which means 10 or 15 acres in each case. He says there is also a growing demand for English walnuts and quite a call for filberts. There is also a falling off in the planting of peach trees. He is of the opinion, however, that the peach will do well in this section if the proper soil is selected for it. He thinks a sandy soil, preferably river bottom, well drained, will produce steady and good crops of this, one of the best of all fruits, and that eventually it will take a prominent place with orchardists. It is certain that no country in the world produces a better quality, or a more highly flavored peach than is grown here in the Willamette valley. The worst enemy of the peach is the borer, and this it is found is not nearly so troublesome when the trees are grown in sandy light soils.

April Showers A good many substantial April Showers of Sunshine--the sunshine of real dollars--are going to come to advertisers this month.

This is because they are shrewd enough to advertise in the modern way--through the newspaper--frequently with direct co-operation between manufacturer and merchant.

Results can almost be forecast--for this kind of advertising is going directly into the homes when the people are in a mood for buying.

And this means that business will come to the men who are going after it, through the columns of the Capital Journal.

LONG ANSWER FILED

A 23 page answer to the complaint in the case of C. F. Moulton against the City of Silverton was filed in the circuit court this afternoon by the defendant city. A general denial of the allegations in the complaint is made.

MRS JOHNSON DIVORCED

Circuit Judge Galloway this afternoon granted Mrs. Claud Johnson a decree of divorce from Claud V. Johnson on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Johnson appeared through her attorney Grant Corby and the record shows that while the plaintiff testified at length concerning the alleged acts of her husband, the divorce was granted in default.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF FIVE FEARS LYING

Mount Vernon, Wash., April 1.—Cool and defiant, Charles Hopkins, suspected of three murders, lay on his cot in a cell in the Shaght county jail this morning and skilfully parried himself against leading questions by newspaper men. He said he slept well last night and enjoyed the jail cooking. He admitted that his name is Charles Hopkins and said he would neither deny nor affirm the charge of murder lodged against him.

"I guess its murder they have me charged with," he said, "although I don't exactly know. No, I won't say that I did or that I did not do the killing. I don't care to discuss this thing until after I have had a preliminary hearing. After that I'll tell you the straight of it."

"I was all in when they got me, that's all there was to it."

Hopkins said he was 25 years old and that his parents live in Chicago.

When the curious area crowded into the court house corridors for a glimpse of the fugitive, Hopkins, who was being stripped by deputies, moved uneasily and gazed terror stricken at the crowds in the streets below.

"No chance of a lynching is there!" he asked. "All I want is an even break," he concluded.

The conference in session yesterday failed to agree on a minimum wage although a majority voted last night for $1 weekly. Final agreement on this wage was deferred pending a decision on apprenticeships, which in all discussions of the sum to be paid experienced workers had kept cropping up.

Today an effort was made to settle the apprenticeship question. It was debated all morning and when adjournment was taken for luncheon it was still unsettled.
