SUED AITKIN FOR $20,000 DAMAGES.

A suit for $20,000 damages was filed in the circuit court of this county yesterday by Attorney Will R. King, of Ontario, Malheur County, wherein W. D. Huffman, of Burns, is plaintiff and J. H. Aitkin of Huntington, is defendant.

The suit grows out of a mortgage given Aitkin by Huffman in 1890 for $15,000. The mortgage was attempted to be foreclosed in 1900 to pay a balance claimed to be due of $5,000. It appears so it is claimed that Huffman had obtained permission to take sheep to Nevada to sell and liquidate the mortgage.

While absent, foreclosure proceedings were commenced. Huffman claims to have tendered the amount and seems to be refused. The property was then taken possession of and sold at private sale. This action is brought for damages alleging a breach of the mortgage contract on the part of Aitkin. The complaint alleges that the property sold was of the value of $27,000.—Baker City Democrat.

REPORT ON GRAZING LAND

PUBLIC LANDS COMMISSIONER ISSUES STATEMENT.

Oregon Stockmen to the Number of 88 Answer Questions as to Conditions and Suggest Treatment.

The commission sent out 1400 letters to western stockmen and received in reply about 1100 personal letters, all written with care and giving detailed answers to questions asked by the commission. In these 1100 replies the commission has secured a fair expression of public sentiment in the matter of leasing range to private owners and will act accordingly.

A WONDERFUL INVENTION.

It is interesting to note that fortunes are frequently made by the invention of articles of minor importance. Many of the more popular devices are those designed to benefit people and meet popular conditions, and one of the most interesting of these that has ever been invented is the Dr. White Electric Comb, patented Jan. 1, '99. These wonderful Combs positively cure dandruff, hair falling out, sick and nervous headaches, and when used with Dr. White's Electric Hair Brush are positively guaranteed to make straight hair curly in 25 days time. Thousands of these electric combs have been sold in the various cities of the Union, and the demand is constantly increasing. Our agents are rapidly becoming rich selling these combs. They positively sell on sight. Send for sample. Men's size 35c, ladies' 50c—(half price while we are introducing them.) The Dr. White The Dr. White Electric Comb Co., Decatur, Ill.

Doctors are Puzzled.

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth McIver, of Vancouver, B. C., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends. He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the throat and congestion of the lungs, three doctors gave me up to die, when as a last resort, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say, it saved my life." Cures the worst coughs and colds, bronchitis, weak lungs, hoarseness and lagrippe. Guaranteed at The City Drug Store, 50c and $1.00 trial bottle free.

WANTED: 10 men in each state to travel, post signs, advertise and leave samples of our goods.

WANTED: Agents, Hustlers Salesmen, Clerks and everybody who wants to enjoy a good hearty laugh to send 50c for "Tips to Agents." Worth $50 to any person who sells goods for a living. If not satisfactory your money back. Circular for stamp. The Dr. White Electric Comb Co., Decatur, Ill.

The East Oregonian urges all stockmen to send for the report. Its official title is "Grazing Lands," and either of the Oregon senators will send a copy on request.

For Sale—Five choice lots in Ontario, 40 lots in Lawen, 10 lots in Burns; 100 acres of good land a factor in range improvement and betterment by furnishing winter feed for stockmen, thus preventing heavy winter grazing on land that is overstocked during the summer season.

The East Oregonian has just received from Senator Gearin a copy of the report of the public land commission on range leasing, giving detailed facts of the progress of the work of the commission. The report can be secured by writing to either Senators Fulton or Gearin at Washington, and is a valuable study for stockmen who are interested in the subject of ranges and public lands. The report is accompanied by colored maps showing the relative area of range and tillable lands in the western states and is a valuable addition to the library of the stockmen.

In answer to the question, "Has the range improved or deteriorated in Oregon recently?" 68 Oregon stockmen answered "deteriorated," and 20 answered "improved."

In answer to the question, "What, in your opinion, is the most practical method for the proper control and permanent improvement of the public range in Oregon?" 38 Oregon stockmen answered "individual pastures," 32 answered "community division of ranges," one answered "the development of water," 12 answered "sell the grazing lands," four answered "irrigation and cultivation" and one answered "limit the grazing season."

In answer to the question, "If range has been diminished, has it been due to overstocking or to the manner of handling stock?" 53 answered "overstocking," 5 "drought," 17 "exclusive sheep grazing," 16 answered "methods of handling stock," five answered "premature grazing," and five "settlement."

In answer to the question, "Do you favor government control of the ranges under reasonable regulations?" 81 Oregon stockmen answered "yes," four answered "no,"

The report deals at length with the forest reserve policy of the government as a means of improving ranges by limiting the number of stock on certain areas and by preventing premature grazing by fixing the date of admission of stock late enough in the spring to insure no damage to growing and tender grass.

Irrigation is always treated as a factor in range improvement and betterment by furnishing winter feed for stockmen, thus preventing heavy winter grazing on land that is overstocked during the summer season.
