

WILL MAKE ICE ABOUT MAY 15

H. F. Davidson expects his ice factory now in course of construction to be making ice about the middle of May. Machinery will be placed in the building the first of next week, and the work will be rushed to completion as fast as possible.

Last week, Mr. Davidson and his business associates filed articles of incorporation in the county clerk's office, of the Hood River Chemical and Cold Storage Company with H. F. Davidson, Charles Davidson and C. H. Costner incorporators. The capital stock will be $25,000 divided into 250 shares.

The Cold Storage Co. is expending $15,000 in the erection of a two-story 40x100 brick warehouse and ice factory on the railroad right of way, just north of the Davidson Fruit Co.'s box factory. Work is progressing rapidly, and it is expected that the building will be completed in a few weeks.

The ice plant to be installed will have a capacity of eight tons a day. As one refrigerator car requires five tons of ice, and the local ice plant will be in operation but a few days before the heavy shipping season, when 30 and 35 tons of ice are consumed daily, outside ice will have to be used a part of the time this season.

Hereafter the local company expects to have plenty of ice on hand to supply all the fruit cars sent out from here.

Visitor Writes About Hood River. R. W. Davidson who visited recently with A. C. Buck of this city, writes as follows to the Minot (N. D.) Reporter:

We arrived at Hood River and were cordially received by Albert C. Buck and family. Mr. Buck and I were comrades in the army together, and had not met since we were mustered out in '95. It was a happy reunion for us both, and made our short stay in Hood River very pleasant indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck, Mrs. Davidson and I drove out in a carriage, through Hood River valley, towards Mount Hood, ten or fifteen miles. The day was warm and sunny, almost perfect. The mountain was a great surprise to me, its great height was really awe inspiring. Measuring it as we could with our eye from its base to its snow capped peak nearly 12,000 feet high.

We could also see Mount Adams in Washington, the other side of the Columbia river, but although it is really the higher of the two on account of its sides being ragged and cut up with canyons and water courses, it did not look as high as Mount Hood.

Hood River valley is famous for its wonderful strawberries and not much less for her apples. The strawberry is known here as Clark's seedling originating nearly 25 years ago near Portland, Oregon.

The land is mostly subdivided into five, ten and 20-acre tracts and are called ranches. A man is a ranchman if he cultivates ten acres of strawberries just the same as though he had 200 acres. These tracts are all under irrigation and are valued at from $200 to $500 per acre. There is so much expense attending the strawberry industry I am told, it is not as profitable as growing apples.

Mr. Davidson, of the Davidson Fruit Co. informed me that Hood River had shipped out 90 carloads of strawberries and several hundred carloads of apples. An apple orchard was shown me, the owner of which had refused $1000 an acre for it, and I am told it has yielded a net profit of $500 per acre each year for several years past. They put a lot of work on their land, and have strawberries and apple growing down to a sea-level. Apple trees are sprayed from four to six times, during the year, to protect them from the scale and other insects. The ground is cultivated level and shallow and is as clean as a garden, not a weed to be seen. I would rather own an apple orchard in Hood River valley than a gold mine in the mountains. I was shown through the Davidson Fruit Company's packing house and box factory and while there purchased a box of Hyde King apples and sent them to Mr. Ace Benton, Minot.

They are a large apple but not the largest that grow here. There is no place on the Pacific coast where the coloring of the apple is as perfect as in Hood River valley. Hood river is a mountain stream three times greater than that of Mouse river at Minot, and it is a wild, turbulent stream with a fall of about 50 to 60 feet per mile, soft clear water.

The town has a population of 1800 inhabitants, kind hearted, and generous people. The Free Masons have a splendid temple of their own and the order is well represented. We had the pleasure of visiting with them and will ever speak well of our hospitable reception.

About Rheumatism. There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle for sale by Williams Pharmacy.

Captain Jerome Visiting Here. Captain Jerome, an old-timer in Hood River, is visiting in the city. In the summer of 1881, Captain Jerome operated a little steamer between Cascade Locks and The Dalles, an opposition line to the then Oregon Steamship Navigation Co. George T. Prather was purser and deckhand on the Luella, while Jerome operated the wheel in the pilot house.

Captain Jerome filed a homestead entry on what is known as the Harvey Crayner place, and for a number of years was in partnership with George T. Prather in the carpenter and contracting business. The Champlin building on First street was built by these men, also the Lyman Smith and Parmenter barns, two large structures still standing on Lyman Smith avenue.

A Triad and True Friend. O'Connell's Cough Cure contains not an atom of any harmful drug, and it has been curing Coughs, Colics, Croup and Whooping Cough so long that it has proven itself to be a true and true friend to the many who use it. Sold by G. E. Williams.

Now that an important question is settled the next thing is the ring—a fine new line of engagement and wedding rings. Prices right. Clarke the jeweler.

CAPTAIN SPENCER BEGINS RATE WAR

Captain E. W. Spencer has fired the signal gun for the expected 1905 rate war on the Columbia, says the Telegram, with the announcement that, beginning on May 1, his steamer, the Charles K. Spencer, would make a round trip daily between Portland and the Dalles, carrying passengers for $1 each way. The present fare is $1.50.

Manager H. C. Campbell, of the Regulator Line, when asked today if he would follow the cut, made by the Dalles Transportation Company, said he was not in a position to say, being no longer interested in the company, but merely a hired man. He would not even sanction the statement that it was likely his employers would meet the drop in passenger tariffs.

Captain Spencer proposes to make five landings between Portland and the Wasco county terminus. These will be Vancouver, Washougal, Stevenson, Collins and Hood River. He believes his steamer can leave here at 7 o'clock each morning and be back again at 9 o'clock in the evening.

Warning to Kickers.

St. Peter sits at the heavenly gates, his hands on the strings of the lyre, and sings long songs as he patiently waits for the souls of those who expire. He hears in the distance a song that swells from the foot of the heavenly throne, and smiles as the music is carried along and warbles a lay of his own: "There is room in this region for millions of souls who, by sorrow and we were bereft; 'tis for those who have suffered the melody rolls, but the kickers turn to the left. There is room for the beauty and growth of their town, who kept singing their praises aloud till they died, but the kicker will please amble down. They'd say their music was all out of tune and the angelic gown 'hand me down' and send to the moon for a jeweler to sample the gold in their crowns. So while there is room for a million of souls who, by sorrow and we were bereft, we want no complaints of the music that rolls, so the kicker must turn to the left.—Ex.

Changes in Train Schedule.

A new train schedule is now in effect, making a few slight changes in the arrival of freight and passenger trains at this point. The morning train from Portland has the same schedule as formerly; the Spokane train is two minutes later, and the late evening passenger three minutes earlier. No. 21, the way freight from the West is also five minutes earlier.

From the East No. 1 has been changed to 2:25, eight minutes earlier; No. 3 remains the same, as does No. 5. The fast freight which was formerly No. 21, has been numbered 55, and arrives at 1:05 p. m.

The revised schedule is as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Train No., Time. Includes entries for Chicago Special, Spokane Flyer, and various freight trains.

Ditch Improvements at Mount Hood.

J. N. Knight, who was down from Mount Hood Friday, reports the farmers all busy there. The question of irrigation water is agitating these people as well as the farmers in other parts of the valley. The Mount Hood farmers own their own ditch, but they have not sufficient work accomplished to supply all the water the community would make use of.

Some of the stock holders in the ditch want those farmers who are using the water to put up the money for improvements, while there are others who believe it only just that an assessment be levied upon all the stock, whether the owner of the stock is a water user or not. The improvements will increase the value of the stock, which will result in benefits to all.

Mr. Knight is sanguine the situation will work out without any serious difficulty and that all the farmers will have all the water their farms need.

A Night Attack.

Last night the little daughter of Mrs. Brown, as she was sweetly and peacefully slept in her little bed near the window was attacked by a death-dealing demon known as Croup Whooping Cough, and but for the timely use of Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar, which she always keeps handy, the life of the little one might not have been saved. Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar is different from all of the old time cough syrups and is best for children because it acts on the bowels, it is harmless, safe and certain. Contains no opiates. Sold by G. E. Williams.

Bald-Headed Bear Weighs 500 Pounds.

White Salmon Enterprise. Peter Schmidt came in from Guler Tuesday morning with a big load of hides and furs which he shipped to Portland. One of the hides was from an immense black bear of the bald-headed species which he killed several months ago. The bear weighed no less than five hundred pounds. Mr. Schmidt made the Enterprise office a very pleasant call while in town.

Rheumatic Pains Quickly Relieved.

The excruciating pains characteristic of rheumatism and sciatica are quickly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The great pain relieving power of the Balm has been the surprise and delight of thousands of sufferers. The quick relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by Williams Pharmacy.
