FIREMEN SAY NAY

St. Helens, Ore., Nov. 19, 1914.

To the Editor of the Mist:—

We would like to ask the use of your columns to put the people of St. Helens right regarding the boxing bouts held at the City Hall this week and the Fire Company having anything to do with it. Some people of the city have accused us of having promoted the bouts, but such is not the case. The St. Helens Fire Company did not have anything to do with this affair nor do we intend to promote any bouts, at any time.

L. E. ALLEN, Chief.

FRANK ROBERTSON, Sec'y.

SIDE LIGHTS.

District Attorney Dillard was an interested spectator and was busily engaged, a part of the time, with Blackstone to decide just what was the difference between a boxing match and a prize fight.

Fire Chief Allen was referee at an exhibition of the manly art on the street last Wednesday. The principals were a couple of small boys. Chief says it was a good exhibition and that honors were even.

Jack Despain, after road working for some years, and who tendered his resignation when the recall Court took office, will take his Ford in his hand and depart this week for Southern California. Some people have said his Ford was secured as a premium, but it is big enough to ride in.

The manly art of boxing must be contagious. Since the bouts were pulled off in St. Helens this week, several real bouts without gloves or even without the formality of shaking hands have taken place. In each case the decision has been a draw but further developments are promised.

Among his other qualifications for a successful preacher, Rev. F. J. Meyer is possessed of a very strong arm. This week he picked up a glass jar of fruit, and holding it in his hands, gave a squeeze resulting in a broken jar and a badly cut finger. Mr. Meyer must have been in training on the quiet.

Completely taken by surprise was the City Council last Monday night when the door of the council chamber was suddenly thrown open and a delegation of women entered. Thoughts of suffragettes and their methods ran quickly through the minds of the sedate mayor and councilmen. But it was just a demand by the women to stop the prize fights in the city hall. Henry Morgus was won over.

Jack Taber, he who pilots the big Noahs Ark on Columbia street, accompanied by H. S. Mason, he who serves waffles, hot cocoa and oranges to school mams, went for a boat ride. The engine stopped. A paddle was put in use and the boat ran on the sand a bare 30 feet from shore. Taber packed Mason to shore and a walk of about 2 miles brought them back to the good ship Noahs Ark. Mason says, "Never again."

ST. HELENS, - OREGON

Williams & Hall Co

RESOLVED THAT

Business is business when it is honest. When it is not honest it is robbery. The man who doesn't do a one price business is doing a dishonest business. The man who thinks that "last week $20.00, this week $10.00," is good business is foolish. The merchant who doesn't believe that honesty is the best policy will be a piker all his life unless he goes broke—which is probable. Advertising is telling people where you are, who you are, what you've got—it isn't fake bargain sales.
