

CORRESPONDENCE

SCAPPOOSE

Miss Helen Watts was a Portland shopper on Tuesday.

The meat market has a sign up, "Closed for repairs."

Douglas McKay and wife motored down from Portland Sunday.

Mrs. J. Fredericksen will visit home folks for several days.

Frank L. Smith is continuing to ship potatoes by the carload.

John Rusk shipped three hives of bees to C. A. Morden, at Mosier, Ore.

Little Lowell Washburn had adenoids removed successfully last week.

James Leonard has erected a new flagpole upon which to unfurl Old Glory.

Mr. and Mrs. Price were Portland visitors on Tuesday (that was circus day).

Mr. Goin and son Clarence, of St. Helens, was a Sunday visitor with friends here.

Mrs. Horen and children, of Goble, spent Sunday with Mrs. Charles Sandstrom.

Mrs. Marie Eskridge, of Sheridan, spent a few days visiting her mother, Mrs. E. M. Watts.

James Leonard took in the circus Tuesday. He just went to take his grandson Ronald.

Rev. Johnston is planting rose bushes and other shrubs and flowers in the church yard.

Watts & Price shipped three carloads of fence posts which were sold to the S. P. & S. R. R. Co.

The chorus class has changed the date of rehearsal from Wednesday to Tuesday evening, at 7:45.

Mrs. Goshner and children moved to Frank L. Smith's ranch, she taking charge of the cook house.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Cloninger and baby have been visiting Mrs. Cloninger's mother, Mrs. Rose Metzger.

Mrs. Mary Copeland has received a letter from her son Ben, who is now at Houston, Texas, in the aviation corps.

Chauncey and Ellaree Butler, Al Hackett and Miss Isbell Kingsley, of Portland, spent Sunday at the home of M. J. Butler.

The furniture of S. G. Lapham is being moved into the Robert McRay house. Mrs. Lapham and children are expected soon.

Mrs. Chas. Sandstrom received a letter from her brother, who is at the front in France. He has been wounded but is improving.

Watt Price, of O. A. C., was a home visitor over Sunday, and returned to school to pack up and come home for the summer.

Mrs. C. W. Weaver (Millie Grant) has returned to her home at McCleary, Wash., after several weeks spent at home assisting in the care of her brother, who now is nicely improving.

The senior class held a slumber party at the home of Eva West last Wednesday night. As near as we can remember such parties, a few years ago, turned out to be more giggle than slumber.

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. Johnston last Sunday night to a large congregation. The senior class was all present. Miss Taylor sang a solo and the choir rendered two beautiful anthems.

We noticed Tom Roy and T. J. Peters, of Clackamas, and Miss Reasie Adams and Martin Crouse roaming about town on Sunday.

Carl Heimuller rushed away from work at the store Monday, making the excuse that he was going to see a doctor about his lame hands, but when he returned he was able to clap his hands and say, "I went to the circus."

Mr. Garrison caught 88 trout and Charles Wikstrom caught 87 in the Scappoose creek. A great many people are having good luck catching catfish from the lakes. The high water is spoiling the lake fishing and people are commencing to move the cattle off the low lands.

N. C. Maris, of the extension department of the O. A. C., addressed a good audience in Watts & Price hall Saturday evening on "The Necessity of Producing More Food and Preventing All Waste." A round table was also conducted, after which this precinct was organized with Hon. H. West, chairman; Mrs. Mary E. Getchell, secretary; publicity committee, Mrs. May Getchell, Mrs. Jessie McDonald, Mrs. Mildred Watts; canning committee, Mrs. E. Adams, Mrs. J. W. Pomeroy, Mrs. C. L. Hatfield. Literature has been ordered from O. A. C. and efforts will be made to conserve the supply of fruit and vegetables this season.

Miss Crow entertained the senior class at the home of Mr. Crowley. Those present besides Miss Crow and Mr. and Mrs. Crowley were Miss Helen Watts, Miss Eva West, Miss Ollie Stoltenberg, Miss Gertie Uhlman, Miss Bertha Uhlman, Miss Nellie Shatto, Miss Hazel Wikstrom, Miss Daisy Wikstrom, Miss Marjorie Holdaday, Miss Verna Lynch, Joe Novak, Mr. Ogle, Mr. and Mrs. Dodson, Miss Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Burt West. The front rooms were decorated with dogwood and maidenhair fern. The dining room decorations were carnations. Dainty refreshments were served.

A "backward party," where you wore your coat buttoned up behind, including your collar and vest, was given Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth L. Adams. The freshman class of the high school entertained the teachers, the alumni and the other classes of the high school. About forty attended, all enjoying the games and dancing. Nice refreshments were served, and all voted this one of the nicest entertainments of the year. Miss Addie Adams and Miss Ella Hattan, of St. Helens, were among those present.

MRS. VERNON W. COOKE
(Nee Miss Hazel Watts of Scappoose)

Miss Hazel Watts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Watts, of Scappoose, was married Wednesday, May 16, to Rev. Vernon W. Cooke in New Haven, Conn. The ceremony was performed by Dean Brown of Yale College. The bride is well known in St. Helens and Columbia county. She graduated from Portland Academy in 1912 and from Wellesley College in 1916. While at Wellesley she attained much prominence as a musical composer and pipe organist.

Mr. Cooke is also a graduate of Portland Academy in the class of 1907; Whitman College, 1911, and Yale Divinity School, class of 1914. They will reside at Willimantic, Conn., where Mr. Cooke is pastor of the First Congregational church.

The last meeting of the parent-teachers' association for the year was held last Friday. The following program was given: "Food for the Child," Mrs. Washburn; "Health of the Child," Mrs. Blatchford; "Sanitary Conditions," Mrs. West; "Needed Improvements to Our Building," Prof. Dobson. The following officers will serve next year: President, Mrs. Crowley; vice president, Mrs. Niblock; secretary, Mrs. J. G. Watts; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Bushman. It was voted to engage in some form of Red Cross work during the summer.

NEHALEM VALLEY

Dr. Wooden was called from Clatskanie to attend Mrs. L. Hickenbottom, who is very sick.

Mr. Blaker and family moved into the valley Tuesday and will spend the summer and fall on their homestead near Rocky Point.

Nehalem has made a good record in supplying recruits for the navy, as twelve of our boys have enlisted. We wish them Godspeed and good luck.

After several days pleasantly spent with her mother in Cornelius, Mrs. Tom Anderson has returned home.

Elder Cottrell of the Seventh Day Adventist conference, was with us over Saturday. He preached Saturday morning and held baptismal services in the afternoon, and gave a stirring sermon in the evening, on "War" and the present condition of the world in general.

The death of one of the little twins—Guy Edward Throop—cast a gloom over the entire community. Rev. Wilhelm conducted the funeral services from the Evangelical church Sunday.

May day exercises were to have been held Friday but was postponed till Tuesday on account of the rain.

We discuss the weather over here for and against, but mostly against. No danger of the few hills of early garden drying out yet awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Faulkenberg, who have been looking after the work of the Seventh Day Adventists at Vernonia the past winter, went out to the annual camp meeting to be held in Portland May 29 to June 11. Everyone welcome. Tents on the grounds can be had at reasonable prices. Grounds are located at Anabel Station, Mt. Scott car line. We have enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Faulkenberg's stay with us and shall miss them greatly.

WHAT PATRIOTIC CITIZENS CAN DO

- Insure lives of recruits.
- Assume personal debts of recruits.
- Purchase space in your local newspaper to inform the public what you are doing.
- Organize groups for prayer at noonday or some other hour for triumph of right.
- Make it possible for good preachers to go as chaplains, to visit army camps, or to give series of talks to soldiers.
- Women's societies should follow suggestions of Red Cross and organize groups for training, making supplies, etc.
- Keep a careful record of your members who enlist. Follow them with letters and encourage them in any way possible. Do not help them to magnify their discomforts but applaud their endurance.
- Organize groups of women or young folks to collect magazines and books for use in the Y. M. C. A. work in the army. Such papers could be sent by the society taking up the matter, and arrangements should be made for a regular service—not a sporadic one, as is so likely to be the case.
- The rich can invest in United States bonds, and give to the Red Cross either money or service. For men and women alike there is the admonition to "keep cheery under any hardship or loss." For men in particular:
- Enlist for military or naval service.
- Observe personal and household economy.
- Join the home defense league if there is one.
- Increase farm and garden acreage of food crops.
- Relate yourself to some established organization if possible, thus avoiding waste effort and duplication.
- Maintain accustomed giving to establish benevolence.
- Urge individuals in private conversation to be patriotic.
- Help organize Red Cross chapter if there is none in community.
- Co-operate in surveys under state auspices to discover available resources.
- Use influence to suppress cruelty

Be willing to permit sons and daughters to enlist where services are most needed.

Rural pastors can well urge farmers to plant all available space to food crops.

Don't be slow to express your loyal sentiments. Everybody is either loyal or not loyal in a time like this.

Don't get overexcited, but, on the other hand, don't be too anxious to suppress your enthusiasm. It helps others.

Volunteering in church work where regular workers have either gone to the war or are called to relief work.

City pastors can urge vacant-lot gardening. Encourage the younger boys and girls to work in your vegetable garden.

Don't give up recreations, but keep them from interfering with your service—this is serious business in which we are involved.

Keep your flag displayed from daylight till sunset—but don't let it become bedraggled. The flag is what you help to make it.

If you volunteer, whether in the military arm or elsewhere, plan to do some religious work conducted along with the army and navy.—Literary Digest.

DEEP ISLAND

The Ladies' Club has been auxiliary to the Red Cross in working for the order.

Mrs. Kulan was called to Portland Saturday evening, to be operated for appendicitis. She returned home and reports that he is getting nicely.

Miss Marguerite Kearns was in Deer Island Saturday and Sunday. Miss Kearns is teaching at Portland and has been elected principal Goble for next year.

Mrs. McCartney and family have been training Rosie, their land pony, to drive, but Rosie made up her mind she was trained, from the looks of the harness.

Mrs. Bonser returned home visiting with friends in Portland three weeks.

Mrs. Mary Hamill, who underwent a very serious operation at the cent hospital last Saturday, is recovering rapidly and will probably be at home again in a few weeks.

Mrs. T. C. Meahan was a Portland visitor for the week end.
