CORRESPONDENCE

WARREN

W. J. Fullerton is spending the week on a political trip through the lower end of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hyskell and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, spent several days in Portland last week.

Judge Magnus Saxon, who is a candidate for Justice of the Peace in District 1 to succeed himself, is a former resident of the Warren neighborhood and has many friends here who wish him luck on election day.

John Farr, who sprained his wrist giving County Agricultural Agent Howard's "tin lizzie" a "sparking" is recovering from the effect of the kick administered by Lizzie for undue familiarity.

Every social event is at a standstill in Warren. The "flu" has not taken any foothold here owing to the prompt action of the residents in refraining from any gatherings or social functions. The Home Guards even postponed their regular drill.

Fruit Inspector A. L. Morris returned Friday from a trip to Vernonia and the Nehalem country. In speaking of the fruit conditions he said "the character and quantity of fruit in the Nehalem valley is surprising. The quality is first-class and no scale or worms has yet infected this section. Apples are a splendid crop and of frist-class quality, but owing to lack of transportation hundreds of tons are being fed to hogs and other stock. The ground is literally covered with them. Nehalem valley promises to rival, if not surpass Hood River in the quality and production of the apple crop. The trees are clean with the exception of moss which is easily eradicated. The only thing I could say to the farmers was to prune and get the dead branches cleaned out. If the farmers would form an apple-growers association and standardize their apples and pears, the raising of these two fruits would become a paying proposition in the Nehalem country and I look forward to be able to get the people of that section organized into such a body. Were the apples standardized as in Yakima or Hood River I believe they would command as good if not better prices than in those districts as they are clean and very juicy. At present you can buy apples for about three-quarters of a cent per pound, whereas, if they were well graded and known, they would readily command 3½ to 4 cents per pound. The soil is admirably adapted for fruit raising. This may be readily applied to all country back of Goble, Rainier, Mayger and Quincy and embracing Clatskanie, Mist, Birkenfeld, Natal, Vernonia and on to Timber. If the farmers of those sections would organize they would be able to packand ship a quality of fruit second to none on the market and would command prices that would pay them exceedingly well for their work. I hope to see this object accomplished in the near future as the benefit would well repay the organizers."

Don't be a party to the fight of Boss Jackson of the Oregon Journal. Vote down his measures. adv.

Wilbur Miller is working in the mill at Linnton and moved his family to Linnton on Sunday. This leaves the Eistenblautter place vacant.

Mrs. J. B. Duncan received word on Monday of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Snow. She made a flying trip to Portland after the baby.

Clifford Fran Trisco, grandson of Mrs. Fran Trisco, died at sea while enroute for France. His body will be returned to Corvallis and the funeral held Saturday afternoon.

The dairymen's league have received two car loads of hay from Idaho points this week and are distributing it among the farmers. They expect more shipments to follow.

Mrs. Mildred Watts and son, Victor; Mr. and Mrs. James Pomeroy, attended the funeral of their cousin, Edwin P. Clay, in Portland. Mr. Clay was found dead in bed, due to heart disease.

Mrs. Alba Meyers Ehlers, who was the primary teacher here for four years, died in Albuquerque, New Mexico, where she had gone for her health. She leaves a husband and small son.

Mr. L. G. Smith on the Harry West farm had a narrow escape last Friday. While he was filling the acetaline tank with water the tank exploded, blowing out one end of the building, throwing Mr. Smith across the room, scuffing his face and bruising him severely. The explosion was heard at quite a distance and several of the neighbors came to Mr. Smith's assistance.

Mr. Ward Hallin, a very popular man in the younger social set of Columbia City, is the new assistant paymaster for the Sommarstrom Shipbuilding company.

Mrs. Hugo Sommarstrom entertained Friday evening for Miss Helen Olsen, who left Saturday for her home in California. Among the guests were Miss Olsen, Alarik Johnson, John L. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Anderson and Paul Isaacson.

MOLINE UNIVERSAL TRACTOR
It Solves The Farm Help Problem

You can make more money with the Moline-Universal than any other tractor because it can be kept at productive work more days a year—no matter how large or small your farm or what crops you grow. This is because the Moline-Universal is built to fit the farm and every operation on the farm. It is not limited to a few operations, nor to certain classes of work.

The Moline-Universal will do anything any other tractor will do and in addition an infinite variety of work impossible for any other tractor. You can find work for it every day in the year. If for no other reason than the fact that the Moline-Universal will do more and better work and can be kept busier than any other tractor, it is your best buy.

But the greatest advantage of the Moline-Universal is that one man controls both tractor and implement in all operations. You sit on the seat of the implement, where you must sit in order to do good work, and control the entire outfit. This means that you can farm more land than was ever before possible, with either horses or tractor.

The wonderful versatility and one-man control of the Moline-Universal are due to its two-wheel construction. It attaches direct to the implement and forms one compact unit with it—the tractor the front wheels and the implement the rear wheels. Every control on both tractor and implement is within reach, making easy handling of the entire outfit, which can be turned in a 16-foot circle, and backs as readily as it goes forward. A boy or woman can handle it as well as a man.

Due to its two-wheel construction, which makes all its power available for pulling and greater speed, the Moline-Universal Tractor will do as much work in a day of ten hours with two 14-inch plow bottoms as the average three-plow tractor.

The high clearance of the Moline-Universal Tractor, as great as that of the average cultivator, and its light weight make it perfectly adapted for cultivating. With a two-row cultivator, it cultivates from 14 to 20 acres a day. There is hardly anything on the farm that it cannot do. For odd jobs it is converted into a four-wheel unit by means of a rear carrying truck, to which any implement on the farm may be attached in the ordinary way.

From a mechanical standpoint, the Moline-Universal Tractor measures up to the very limit of modern engineering knowledge. Perfected overhead-valve four-cylinder engine, complete enclosure of all working parts, electric starting and lighting system with electrical engine governor, and differential lock are only a few of the many improved features. It will pay you to stop and examine this latest and best of all tractors the next time you are in town.

——I have made arrangements so I can let you have one of these TRACTORS on very advantageous terms. If you are interested, write or phone to me at St. Helens.
