INSPECTION DAY AT PUBLIC SCHOOL

LARGE NUMBERS OF PATRONS EXAMINE WORK OF TEACHERS AND PUPILS.

The work of the public school during the school year just ended was pronounced excellent by the large number of patrons who attended Inspection Day, Friday from 9 to 11, and regret was expressed generally that Mr. and Mrs. Sutton could not remain in charge.

The rooms and hallways were filled with visitors during the allotted hours and only words of praise of the work of the pupils and teachers were heard as the parents and other patrons went from desk to desk examining the work laid out for inspection. The rooms, always bright and attractive, were specially decorated for the occasion. Exercises were held by pupils in the rooms taught by Mrs. Sutton, Mrs. Hanville, Miss Hutchinson and Miss Murray.

Personally, we are very much gratified to know that your interests are in the schools of the town made so well known by the magnificent manner in which parents and friends of the school responded to our invitation to attend Inspection Day May 14th. We hope that the interest thus shown will continue and we bespeak for Prof. Mack the same generous courtesies that have been ours for the past two years. We leave you with regrets that such changes are imperative and while our lines will zig along other avenues of usefulness, we shall always be interested in the welfare of the Enterprise schools and trust that there will continue to be a steady advancement along all lines of school work. Thanking you for past courtesies, we remain, Yours very sincerely, W. M. and B. L. Sutton.

J. W. KERNS RESIGNS AS HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL.

J. W. Kerns has resigned the principalship of the Wallowa county high school as a result of the unpleasantness resulting from the class flag rush and the faculty stop-order. Messrs Kerns and Hall appeared before the board Saturday, where were also several parents who had complained their children's grades were withheld. There was considerable personal feeling manifest. The board ordered that certain pupils apologize to the teachers for rude behavior, and the grades of the pupils be given them.

Mr. Kerns handed in his resignation to Superintendent Conley, Monday.

Maybe, But Maybe Not. From the Union Republican.

The Union ball team will go to Enterprise May 26, and will play two games in that city. Two more scalps for Union.

FIRST GRADUATING CLASS OF W.C.H.S.

THREE YOUNG MEN RECEIVE DIPLOMAS FROM COUNTY'S PREMIER SCHOOL.

The first commencement of the Wallowa County high school set a high mark for excellence, enthusiasm and success in every particular. The big assembly hall was crowded to the doors, every seat occupied and scores of people standing up. On the platform were all taking part in the program, the teachers, school boards, eighth grade graduates and others, in all about 40 people. College and school flags gave color variety to the ever-green decorations around the platform, and the class motto, "Always Onward and Upward" on the wall back of the classes.

The program was of some length but it held the closest attention of the big audience throughout. The high school glee club was given hearty applause for its tuneful rendering of the old favorite, "Come Where the Lillies Bloom," and after invocation by Rev. W. S. Crockett, President Resaler of Monmouth sang a solo that was so well received he responded with another song.

Charles E. Oaks, one of the three members of this first graduating class welcomed the audience and spoke a few, well chosen words of salutation, before launching upon his oration, "Uncle Sam's Big Ditch." He reviewed the history of the isthmian canal ventures down to the present operations by the U. S. government. He gave details of the size and construction of the big waterway and made rosy prophecies of its effect upon commerce and upon the future of the Pacific Coast. Mr. Jakes spoke clearly and without hesitancy.

Ivan C. Jackson told of "The Three Sides of a Dollar," a novel subject or a commencement oration and his treatment of it was also unusual. He gave a brief review of money and presented a good brief in defense of the much abused medium of exchange by the telling of its good work in spurring men to mighty effort in the accomplishment of things beneficial to humanity. "If such are the results of the love of money, give us more of that love."

After a duet well played by Misses Amy Olmsted and Edna Ragsdale came the valedictory and oration, "Modern Industrialism," by Vernon J. Corkins. The question of the proper re-adjustment of relations between employer and employee made necessary by the changed conditions of modern industrialism, was shown to be the supreme question of the day. Mr. Corkins has a good delivery and his production bore evidence of logical thinking. He was especially happy in his words of farewell, which were marked by an earnestness that was impressive.

The class as a whole is a credit to the high school, and the families and friends of its members can be justly proud of the showing made by the young men on Friday night.

President E. D. Resaler of Monmouth Normal emphasized in his address to the class the necessity of doing well whatever work they undertook. The real happiness in life comes not from riches or honors but from finding your work and doing it; from contributing all that is in you to the happiness and well-being of your fellow men. Mr. Resaler garnished his words of wisdom with considerable humor that the audience greatly enjoyed.

County Judge J. B. Olmsted, chairman of the high school board, presented the diplomas to the class, saying he considered it an honor to do so. He also presented diplomas to the following graduates of the eighth grade of the Enterprise public school: Eloise Holmes, Esther Maxwell, Marie DePue, Winifred Kay, Elizabeth Willigerodt, Glenn Wagner, Lucile Chauvet, Mary Braughton, Sallie Poulson, Claude Emmons, Zora Combes, John Laird, Muriel Moss, John McPetridge, Dick McAdams, Delbert Mitchell, Burl Koosh and William Laird.

Basket Dinner And Afternoon Exercises.

The public and high school pupils, teachers and parents joined in a basket dinner at the high school Friday at the noon hour. In the afternoon beginning at 1 o'clock the following excellent program was given:

Soldiers Chorus
High School Glee Club
Reading Edna Ragsdale

School Biographies . . . Elmer Warnock
Latin Song . . . Classical Department
Life's Philosophies
Freshman English
The Dixie Kid . . . Mixed Quartette
"Where Rolls the Oregon,"
Amy Olmsted

Reading India Ault
Remarks J. C. Conley
Closing Song Audience

The exercises began an hour earlier than the advertised time and a number went up to the building too late to hear them. But a large audience was present and commended highly all who took part. J. C. Shackleford should not be forgotten when the praises are being distributed, and he will not be by the women and children who escaped the long walk up the hill by a free ride in his new bus.

NEW TRAIN SCHEDULE.

New train schedule on main line Sunday, does not affect in anyway the Wallowa County branch. The mail car was added to the train on the branch, beginning Saturday. Polk Mays and a Mr. Ballinger of Portland are the mail clerks. Charles Stacy is one of the new conductors on the branch trains.

Tom Tucker Under Arrest In Montana

Deputies Gone For Man Wanted By Wallowa Courts For Two Years.

Tom Tucker, fugitive from justice in this county for two years, was arrested at Chinook, Mont., last Thursday at the instance of Sheriff Marvin and taken to the county seat, Port Union, the same day, to await the arrival of Deputy Sheriffs S. F. Pace and C. E. Crow, who secured requisition papers at Salem and left Saturday night for Helena.

Tom Tucker is the chief of the gang that created the riot at the dance June 17, 1907. Geo. Tucker has been acquitted of that charge. Sheriff Bogan and Geo. Logan are at large. The more serious charge against Tom Tucker is the wounding of Estes the day following the riot.

Tucker has been at Asotin part of the time since he fled, but things got too hot for him and he went to Canada; where his usual course of life soon got him into trouble with the authorities and the mounted police chased him across the border into Montana. Sheriff Marvin got wind of his whereabouts through the Canadian police and the arrest followed.

Conner Pleaded Guilty.

S. B. Conner of Flora, jointly indicted with Jack Huston, proprietor of a prosperous job printery, and secretary of the Pendleton commercial club, and W. F. Easter, pastor of the Sunnyside M. E. church, at Portland, charged with starting a camp fire in the north woods and going away leaving it burning, pleaded guilty and was fined $25.

Mr. Huston was in Enterprise over Sunday, coming over voluntarily as soon as he heard of the indictment. He says he remembers distinctly of putting out the fire the morning he and Mr. Easter broke camp, and he believes the fire which burned over several acres must have started from someone else's campfire. Messrs Huston and Easter have given $500 bonds each, to appear at the November term of court.

Wallowa County Cattle.

From the Asotin Sentinel. Messrs Shattuck & Hughes, cattle buyers and dealers, from Winona, Wash., passed through Asotin Tuesday morning with a bunch of five hundred head of mixed cattle which had been purchased in Wallowa county. The stock was being driven through to the ranches of these gentlemen where they will be put on feed and shaped up for the market. This was the biggest drove of cattle that has passed through Asotin for several months, in fact for two or three years.

Would Fit In Enterprise.

From the Union Republican. J. P. Wilbur has made a proposition to the business men of Vale and Burns, and one of these towns will get a woolen mill, costing $150,000 if his offer is accepted. Vale has an advantage in location and is to secure the prize. Three million pounds of wool are clipped annually in Malheur and Harney counties.

Closing out sale of watches, clocks, jewelry, silverware—the entire stock of E. B. Wheat.

SEVENTEEN TRUE BILLS RETURNED

BUSIEST GRAND JURY IN YEARS REPORTS CRIST OF INDICTMENTS.

Joe Allen was found guilty by a jury Tuesday of assault with a dangerous weapon.

After finding 17 true bills and one not true bill, the most industrious grand jury this county has had in many a long day, was excused by Judge J. W. Knowles Monday. Following is the Grand Jury Report.

We, the grand jury for the May term of the Wallowa county circuit court, beg leave to report as follows:

We have been in continuous session for seven days, and returned into court 17 true bills and one not true bill of indictments.

We have carefully investigated all charges of any violations of the laws of this state that have been brought to our attention, and have not concluded all the testimony upon all such charges.

We have inspected the offices and records of the sheriff, clerk, county school superintendent and surveyor, and find them neatly kept, and, so far as we could discover, properly kept in all respects.

We went through the county jail, and by reason of the prospect of but few occupants, and a new jail by the first of next year, we have no recommendations to make.

The various county officers stated to us that in view of the fact the county would have a new court house and new public office rooms at the start of the year, they had no present requests or recommendations.

We desire at this time to thank his honor for his patient kindness, and the district attorney and his deputy for the constant assistance and ready compliance with our every request, and the bailiff for his attentive service.

We desire to be relieved from further duty, and until the further order of this court.

Dated at Enterprise, Oregon, May 17, 1909.

Sam Wade, foreman, J. W. Macaulay, H. E. Driver, Jos. Gill, H. C. Laird, C. E. Isley, Louis Page, grand jury.

In addition to the three cases heretofore made public, only four of the remaining 14 have been given out. All four are against Al Emmons for selling intoxicating liquor. Emmons
