ASK BIDS ON COURT HOUSE FOUNDATION

County Court Takes First Step Toward New Building—Architect Hired to Draw Plans.

At a meeting of the county court Monday it was decided to advertise at once for bids on the construction of the foundation of the court house, and Robert Miller was engaged as architect of the proposed structure.

Mr. Miller is a brother of A. C. Miller of this city, and arrived in Enterprise from La Grande last week. He has made outlines that have pleased the court, and Monday was given the job of drawing the complete plans, and of superintending the erection of the building. He is to receive 5 per cent of the contract price.

Mr. Miller is to have the plans and specifications of the foundation completed by August 10 and after August 12 bidders may see same at the clerk's office. Bids are to be in by September 1 and on September 3 the bids will be opened by the court and contract awarded for the foundation.

This will give the successful bidder plenty of time to complete the work before winter.

Bids for the superstructure will be advertised for in the autumn, and the contract awarded at the January session.

Court House Notes.

Letters of administration have been filed on estate of A. G. Miller, deceased, and order made appointing O. W. Kinney administrator.

Sheriff Edgar Marvin arrived home from Walla Walla Thursday night with Dan Clark in custody.

Guy Fleener completed his jail sentence Friday and paid his fine for giving away liquor at the celebration at the head of the lake. The same day he was arraigned before Justice A. C. Smith for his assault on Mrs. John Johnson. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Johnson the charge was made simple assault, to which Fleener pleaded guilty and the judge assessed him the limit, $50 fine and costs, and committed him to the custody of the sheriff until the amount is paid. Fleener is in jail serving out the fine at the rate of $2 per day.

Burglar Enters Berland's Store

Some thief entered the harness shop of L. Berland Wednesday night and helped himself to a few dollars in change that was in the cash drawer and a $3.00 whip. Thursday morning when Mr. Berland went to work he found the lights on and remembered having turned them off. The back door though closed was unlocked and a pane of glass was out of the back window. The safe had not been tampered with. If there is any thing else missing Mr. Berland has not discovered it.

NOTICE.

Bids will be received at the September term of the County Court for the excavation of the basement and the construction of the basement walls of the new county court house to be erected in the city of Enterprise. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the County Judge of Wallowa county, on and after Wednesday, August 12th. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

J. B. OLMSTED, County Judge.

Splendid Hay Crops.

This is going to be a hay year in Wallowa valley. The timothy and clover crops are immense, especially in Middle valley. It is one vast hay field from Lostine north. The grain crops both above and below Lostine are also good, probably better than in the upper valley. The main reason is the water was put on earlier down the valley so when the hot weather came the grain did not fire as it did up here.

SOME TREATS IN AMUSEMENT LINE

Coming Attractions at Enterprise Opera House.—Miss Browning Sings at Gladstone Park.

A treat to the people of Enterprise and vicinity is promised Saturday night, at the Enterprise opera house, when the Streeter-Bryan Company presents Hall Caine's great dramatized story, "The Christian." All who have read this absorbing story will find the characters in real life doubly interesting, those who have not are anticipating a decided pleasure. This company played a twenty weeks' stand at the West End Theatre, New York, afterward following Viola Allen with unbounded success in a tour of the principal cities of the United States. Nothing of the kind has ever been given in Enterprise before. The company have their own scenery especially for use in this play. Among Miss Bryan's beautiful costumes are two Worth gowns. Included in the many press notices of the Streeter-Bryan scrap-book are flattering write-ups from their production of the Christian.

Olivette.

Olivette, the opera selected by Prof. Boyer for presentation at Enterprise this year, is one of the greatest musical and comedy successes ever known, either in this country or in Europe. It will be more appreciated and will be a greater success than was "The Pirates of Penzance" last year, for the reason that whereas the "Pirates" was a satire on conditions existing in England twenty-five years ago, its humor, therefore, appearing somewhat obscure to many, "Olivette" is a straight comedy. The cast this season promises to be much stronger than was that of last season. Prof. Boyer, himself, singing the leading tenor role, Mr. Pratt the leading baritone role, while Mr. Streeter will furnish the comedy stunts among the men. The company is fortunate enough to have secured as leading soprano, Miss Edna Browning, who is fresh from her recent triumphs at the Gladstone Park Chautauqua, near Portland. It is doubly fortunate in having secured for the soubrette part of "Olivette," Miss Blanche Bryan, whose acting with the Streeter-Bryan Company has been so much enjoyed.

Altogether the prospects are for a rendition of the opera which will be a memorable one.

Rehearsals are going on steadily with a large attendance, and it is thought that everything will be ready for the production of the opera on Friday and Saturday, August 7th and 8th.

Miss Browning is Chautauqua Star. From Portland Evening Telegram, Oregon City, July 13.—The Chautauqua program on Saturday evening was under the direction of Dr. R. A. Heritage, musical director of the assembly. It consisted of special solos and selections by the Willamette Girls, a quartet from Salem; the Beethoven Trio and the Chautauqua Chorus. Every number was encored. The Willamette Girls Quartet is one of the most satisfactory musical attractions on the platform this year. It is composed of Edna Earl Browning, Ruth Field, Bessie Cornelius and Elnor Colony. Among the soloists there is no one that gives more pleasure than Miss Edna E. Browning, who was the star of Saturday evening's entertainment.

Alder Slope Farmer

Who Raises Everything.

Diversified farming, with an Alder Slope farm as a basis, is well illustrated by S. T. Daggett on his ranch at the base of the mountains, five miles southwest of Enterprise. Whether it be grain or vegetables, hay or fruit, milk or honey, pork or poultry, scenery or climate, that ranch can supply your need or fancy, and that too, with only a small corner of the 160 acres under cultivation. Mr. Daggett came from Iowa and bought the place a year ago last spring. Today he has the nucleus of a splendid farm, with everything that should be on a farm. To begin with he has timber in abundance and a fine spring. The fields of timothy, clover and grain are a sight to behold. The thrifty young orchard of apple, pear and plum trees is burdened with the promise of a splendid harvest. Row after row of raspberries and other small fruits surround the fine garden, in which every vegetable known grows to perfection, including sweet corn, celery, vegetable oysters, cauliflower, beans and the famed Daggett peas, that he has cultivated in Illinois, Iowa and Oregon for 34 years. Fine milk cows and Duroc Jersey pigs add to the farm income, and last but by no means least are the bees. Mr. Daggett, although a newcomer, is known all over the valley because of his bees. And they are doing splendidly. Swarm after swarm have been hived this summer until the line of stands extend clear along the orchard fence. The bees find plenty of honey and he anticipates a large surplus this fall. Already orders are booked for many swarms but he will have none to sell until next year. A visit to the Daggett farm would be a revelation to a one-crop farmer.

J. C. Shackelford left Thursday morning for Moscow, Idaho, with a car load of horses.

Brave Woman In Runaway Accident

T. O. Barnwell, wife and three children and Bert Whittemore, all of La Grande, were the participants in an exciting runaway here Monday evening. They had gotten the team at Elgin and were driving in for a visit with Mrs. Barnwell's brother, Lon Davis. The team became frightened and started to run on Trout Creek hill, going south through town on River street. After the two men and one of the children had been thrown out Mrs. Barnwell to save the little children who were with her from a worse fate, threw them out and then jumped herself. The band boys were practicing at the rink and they were taken in there. Dr. C. T. Hockett was summoned and dressed their wounds. Their injuries are not severe, though Mrs. Barnwell has a deep cut on her head and was badly bruised, evidently having been dragged some little distance, her clothing being torn to shreds. One of the boys especially was cut about the face. The team was captured near the Murry place on Alder Slope and brought to the Shackelford stable Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Barnwell desires to thank the people of the city for the kindness shown them.

Special Meeting City Council.

City council met in special session on Tuesday evening. The following members and officers were present: Mayor Byram Mayfield; councilmen W. H. Graves, S. E. Combes, J. W. Bickford, City Recorder W. E. Taggart. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Bills of Ben Weathers for $6 for bridge timber, and J. C. Shackelford $5.20, cow board and hire, read and allowed.

The resignation of J. C. Reavis to take effect July 7, 1908, was read and accepted. B. B. Boyd was unanimously elected to the city council to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Reavis' resignation.

The matter of bridging Wallowa river on Residence street was discussed. Motion that mayor appoint a committee of three to look after the streets, side and cross walks with power to employ men to repair and build, carried, and W. H. Graves, chairman, S. E. Combes and J. W. Bickford were named as such committee. Motion carried that services of marshal be dispensed with after July 23. Adjourned.

WEDDING BELLS.

TRACK TO WALLOWA WITHIN SIX WEEKS

Cheering Words by Engineer Brandon—Will Reach Minan River In Ten Days.

"The track will be laid as far as the bridge in ten days," said Engineer Brandon at Enterprise, Monday, "and will be at the town of Wallowa within six weeks."

Mr. Brandon who has charge of the construction of the Elgin-Joseph branch, was in the city the first of the week looking after the progress of the grading and other matters pertaining to the road. He said the work by Contractor Patterson is proceeding rapidly and satisfactorily.

Mr. Brandon reported the track laid as far as Howard creek, three miles from the mouth of the Wallowa. The Howard creek bridge was finished Monday night, and tracklaying resumed Tuesday morning. Only a small bridge at the hatchery interferes with a clear way for the tracklayers as far as the Minan, which will be reached by August 30. Temporary piling across the Wallowa at the bridge will delay on a few days and then tracklaying will continue up the canyon.

An average of 3000 feet of track per day is now being laid, but as soon as they are out of the canyon and the tracklaying machine can be used, a mile a day will be put down. At present there are 200 men at work in the canyon and about 50 on the grades in the valley.

There will be no delays in the work says Mr. Brandon. All material is not only assembled in the big yards established on the Anthony farm at the mouth of the Wallowa, but the material is shaped ready for use. The rails are bent to fit the curves and a yard gang of 40 men load and unload the cars and fit the material for use. It is one of the most complete railroad construction yards and camps ever established in the West and is an indication of the thoroughness with which Mr. Brandon has prepared for this work. Three engines are in use at the yards and on the completed track. Water is even piped into the workmen's cars, giving them the convenience of shower baths. Mr. Brandon is living on the firing line, so to speak, having his private car at the front.

When the track is laid as far as Wallowa, about September 1, new yards will be established there as the base of operations for the valley, up which construction work will proceed with all speed as it is the purpose of the company that regular service shall be instituted this fall. The yards at Wallowa will not of course be of the same magnitude as the one now at Anthony, as the work in the valley is so much less than that up the canyon. The concrete pier of the big bridge across the Grande Ronde are now being put in.

Dan Clark Released on Bond.

Dan Clark, son of O. S. Clark of Paradise, who had been confined in the county jail for the past week, under charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, was released Wednesday. His bail was fixed at $1000, to insure his appearance for trial at the November term of court.
