WEDDING BELLS.

Stubblefield-Homan.

Mrs. Della Homan and Mr. J. Everett Stubblefield were married Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. C. E. Trueblood. A number of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony, and followed the bride and groom to the train which they boarded on a wedding trip to Seattle and the world's fair. Rice and old shoes were showered on them as they started for the cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Stubblefield are among the best and most popular young people in Enterprise, and have a host of warm friends who extend congratulations and best wishes for a long life of marital happiness. The bride is a daughter of J. Koosch of Alder Slope and is beautiful in person and character. The groom is a son of the noted stockman, R. F. Stubblefield of this city, and is a steady young business man.

WALLOWA NOW ON AMUSEMENT MAP

TENTED EXHIBITION OF UNCLE TOM'S CABIN COMING TO ENTERPRISE.

At last it is coming. A big tented exhibition of Uncle Tom's Cabin will exhibit in the several towns of Wallowa Valley. Only a real genuine, 3-ring circus and menagerie is now lacking to put this region on the amusement map in due and formal style. After many years of isolation, Wallowa county has been discovered by the amusement world, thanks to the railroad.

Everybody has seen Uncle Tom's Cabin but everybody will go to see it again. For 50 years it has been the most popular play on the stage and its drawing attraction seems to increase as the years go by.

For a long time it held the boards from one week to several months yearly in the leading theatres of the largest cities. For many more years it was the money maker for all repertoire shows. Then came the era of tented exhibitions, such as Stetson's and the grand old play took on a new lease of life. The best of the tented shows give not only a good presentation of the play, but with the horses, ponies, donkeys, bloodhounds, charlots and tableaux floats are a pretty fair-sized menagerie as well, increasing the interest vastly for children.

The show billed for Enterprise, Joseph and Wallowa week after next is Burk's, long recognized as the leading organization of the kind now on the road. It comes in its own special cars, with Pilcher's famous concert band and orchestra, and includes a contingent of high class vaudeville artists. The date in Enterprise is Tuesday, August 17, with two performances and a free street parade.

Page Hawley, formerly of this county, the young man who was murderously dealt with by two men below Copperfield, was still alive late Wednesday night, but is thought to be in a dying condition. Hawley is at Baker City, having been brought there from Copperfield the first of the week.

It is understood Hawley has made a sworn statement that he was beaten over the head with a revolver after his hands were tied. It is thought a murder trial will follow the death of the young man.

Imitate Orpheum Circuit To-Night

Ethel Tucker Stock Company Starts Something New For This City.

Tonight, the Ethel Tucker Stock company will imitate the Orpheum circuit and give a varied performance that will include:

Several musical features, managed by Messrs Brown and Gardner and Miss Ruth Brown.

Athey and Athey in an exuberantly funny burlesque on Romeo and Juliet.

Athey and Dupuy in a sketch, "The Letter."

Marjorie Mandeville in her great acrobatic dancing specialty. In this act Miss Mandeville wears a gorgeous flame-colored, imported French costume, so heavily spangled that it weighs 100 pounds. Weighs more than Miss Mandeville herself? Well yes, and then some.

The closing act of the performance will be Miss Ethel Tucker and company in "The Tigers Claw." This little play condenses into one act, all the emotions and passions of a five act play. It is adopted from the famous opera, "La Tosca."

As the time is 16th century, all the men in the play wear glittering court costumes with jewels and orders. There are only four people in this play Miss Tucker, Mr. Koch, Morney Athey and Mr. Moody, but every one of that four act, from the moment he or she makes his or her first entrance. It is all vivid, startling, out of the ordinary.

Miss Tucker was booked all over the best of the Orpheum and the Pantages circuits in this play, "The Tigers Claw."

ROCK VERY RICH IN FREE GOLD

ORE FROM LOWER TUNNEL ON WILSON MINES GLITTERS WITH COLOR.

John H. Wilson of Middle Valley was in town Thursday with splendid specimens of rock from the new tunnel on his claims in Wilson Basin. The rock shows extraordinary richness in free gold, and if appearances are not deceptive will assay many times richer than the upper tunnel rock.

These two claims, quite well known for several years as Big Eck and Little Joe, have been developed steadily since filing, and now promise a rich reward for the faith of the owners. Wilson basin lies between the South Fork and the Minam, just above the headwaters of Bear creek. A 2 per cent road less than two miles long would connect the head of Bear creek canyon with the mines.

So far, two 50-foot tunnels have been driven and a 20-foot shaft. From the old or upper tunnel the rock assayed $7 to $9 in gold, 6 to 8 or 9 per cent copper and a trace of silver. The new tunnel taps the ledge 125 feet below the old one, and the rock is incomparably richer. An assay of it will soon be had.

A creek runs across the property and on one side is a lake of 40 acres in extent. Water rights have been filed on the lake where a small tunnel would give a great fall, furnishing abundance of water power.

Associated with Mr. Wilson in ownership of the claim are Dr. E. T. Anderson and A. C. Weaver of Enterprise, Willis Jackson of Grelton, Ohio, F. G. Conley of Stayton and Mac Vetter of Middle Valley. They say no company will be formed, nor stock be for sale, but that development work will be carried along as a partnership affair.

The claims are just across the ridge from the big copper mines of the Contact company.

Big Timber Deal On Bear Creek

Salt Lake Capitalists Buy 2500 Acres And Will Erect 40,000 Mill.

The Bear Creek Lumber company is the name of the new concern that has bought 2500 acres of timber along Bear creek, three miles above Wallowa from Martin Coleman, Henry Spence, and others. A mill of 40,000 feet daily capacity will be put in and this with the Nibley-Minnaugh mill will help make Wallowa one of the leading lumber towns of eastern Oregon.

The incorporators are W. C. Purcell of Boise, G. E. Romney and M. R. Taylor of Salt Lake, and Giles and Burke Plasse, experienced saw mill men of Elgin. The latter will have charge of the mill.

The deal was made by Couch & McDonald and is one of the most important to the development of the lumber interests of Wallowa county that has yet been consummated. It is a forerunner of others. It will add hundreds of men to the pay rolls and tens of thousands of dollars to the value of property.

MOVING HAUN HOUSES NEAR LOSTINE DEPOT

J. H. Walker, a house-mover from La Grande, arrived in Lostine the first of the week, and announced his business here as the moving of several houses from the Main street of Lostine down to the depot says the Reporter. The houses in question were the McCully store building, the Ed Rumble residence property at the south end of Main street, and now owned by J. F. Haun, and the residence and barn in the north part of town also owned by J. F. Haun. Mr. Walker was looking for a house to move his family into. He said he would either buy or rent. Later the report comes that there is no foundation to the rumor about the store building being moved, but that there will be a warehouse erected at the depot soon. Mr. Walker will be here again on Friday of this week to begin work preparatory to the moving of the Haun buildings.

Attorney D. W. Sheahan has received notice that the general land office has reversed the decision of the La Grande office that rejected the commutation proof of his client, Jobe H. Halsey.

Mr. Halsey made proof of his homestead on Little Sheep last fall, but it was rejected by the La Grande office on the ground that he had not shown continuous residence for eight months prior to making proof.

The case was appealed and Mr. Halsey won out.
