

BRANDEGEE KINCAID & CO.
CLOTHES.

THERE'S a certain touch of smartness to Brandegge Kincaid & Co. Clothes," that clever dressers cannot overlook.

It doesn't make any difference where you happen to be, if you are clothed in these excellent garments you are beyond criticism.

In the village, in the city, in the metropolis or the country, their correctness cannot be questioned.

We can easily see how you might consider our conversation very lightly, but if you will inspect our clothes you'll appreciate the heaviness of every argument.

These clothes are not only smart as to their general lines; they are also made from fabrics which are very handsome and certainly very unusual.

OUR FOE, THE FLY.
Pittsburg Gazette-Times.
We are going to hear a good deal about flies this coming summer. In previous seasons crusades against these pernicious little disease carriers have been prosecuted with more or less vigor, but this year the war is to be waged in a systematic, scientific manner. Down South they have already started swatting the fly. The health authorities of Georgia, Florida and Louisiana are putting up posters depicting the habits of the house fly and its proclivity for gathering and disseminating disease germs. The principle of "the fewer flies the less sickness" is being impressed upon school children as well as housewives. The state food and drug commissioner of Tennessee has offered two gold medals to school pupils for the best essays on the house fly as a menace to health. Out in California the women have organized for the good fight. The Texas health officials are issuing bulletins warning the public against their subtle foe. The Merchants' Association of New York has issued "Rules for Dealing With the Fly Nuisance."

A little pamphlet issued by W. D. Biggers of Detroit, while it contains many statements scarcely suitable for breakfast table perusal, deserves a wide circulation for its plain portrayal of the evils that follow in the train of the fly. The indictment is a lengthy one, but it is a true bill. The fly is put in the same class with the "mad dog, the snake in the grass and the wild animal roaming at will," for the fly is insidious. He lurks in every corner. He plants his disease germs on your bread. He buries them in your butter. He drowns them in your baby's milk bottle. There is no escape if he once enters your home. The lesson is obvious: get busy early. Don't wait until the enemy is legion, start the battle while there is some chance of winning. The fly must go.
