Fingers Smashed.

James Colbath, by occupation a millwright, residing on Asylum avenue, met with a painful accident Saturday afternoon. Mr. Colbath was working with another man on the property of J. M. Wallace in Sydney and was engaged in building a flume.

Mr. Colbath held a number of posts while his companion drove them into the ground with a 20-pound sledgehammer. About 1:15 last Saturday afternoon the men were driving posts when accidentally the hammer fell upon Mr. Colbath's right hand badly smashing the third and fourth fingers. He secured a rig as soon as possible where Drs. Byrd and Smith dressed the wounded members. It is feared Mr. Colbath will lose his third finger as it is badly disfigured. This is ill luck since it will cause Mr. Colbath to lose several weeks work during the best part of the season.

VALLEY MOTOR RAILWAY.

What the Labor Exchange is Doing.—New Warehouse.

The work of raising funds etc. for the proposed motor railway between Salem and points in the Waldo Hills and the Santiam country, is progressing very satisfactorily to those having the matter in charge. Each point through which the line, will pass, if constructed, is responding very liberally to the call for contributions. The value of such an enterprise to Salem cannot be overestimated as it would bring all the wealth of the Waldo Hills and the Santiam country direct to Salem. Our citizens should respond liberally in contributing towards such an enterprise. The Garden Road people on the northeast border of Salem, have assured the Labor Exchange of their interest in the new enterprise by promising to assist in the construction of the road in every way possible.

The Exchange asks for five residence lots from each city for every $1000 in work and material that is pledged. The lots are to be used as homes for members of the Labor Exchange. There are many men who need employment badly and unless some work is provided for them that they can earn something, they will suffer during the coming winter passes by. What is needed most at the present time is bread, meat and feed for which checks will be given, redeemable in traffic over the road. In addition to the many contributions, Lee Brown, of Stayton, has given the exchange the privilege of cutting several thousand ties from his place. It is understood that George Turner of Turner, will also grant the same privilege to the exchange. Salem people should rally to the support of such a worthy enterprise, by contributing a handsome sum.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at Stayton Friday evening, when $10,000 in labor and material was furnished besides fifty lots, depot grounds, sidetrack, etc. Saturday evening another rousing meeting was held at Aumsville, when $7000 and forty dwelling lots, depot grounds, etc., were pledged. All contributions are made in material and labor. A meeting will be held tonight at Macleay, when it is expected $5000 will be pledged, and 25 lots will be asked for.

Interested parties from Shaw Station will also attend the meeting at Macleay tonight. It is thought this little burg will furnish at least $2000 in labor and material. Tomorrow evening the people of Fruitland will hold another meeting, when it is thought they will complete their subscription of $5000.

Meetings will be held every night this week at points along the route of the proposed railway. Those having in charge the matter of raising subscriptions, are quite pleased with the liberal response from the different valley towns.

But let the good work go on. It is estimated that the Mehana people will furnish about $5000, with 25 dwelling lots.

If the exchange receives sufficient encouragement from the people of Salem, work will begin on the railroad on or before September 1st. The work will commence at Salem and by Jan. 1st it is thought the track can be ready for travel as far as Macleay and Aumsville.

NEW WAREHOUSE.

For several weeks past a force of about thirty men has been employed in erecting a large warehouse for the exchange on the east bank of the Willamette river just north of McClane's Island and just one half of a mile south of the poor farm. It is a two story building 48x80 feet having a wharfage of 60x80 feet. Work is progressing nicely on the building, the roof of which will be completed this week. The building will probably be completed in about thirty days when all kinds of produce will be received for storage. Grain, produce etc will be shipped on a commission. The membership of the exchange has almost reached the 140 mark and everything is in a flourishing condition.

A SIGNIFICANT LETTER.

A Veteran Republican Leaves His Party After 32 Years.

The following letter from Austin P. Lowery of Des Moines, Iowa, is indicative of the feeling among tried and true Republicans in Iowa's capital city. Mr. Lowery is a prominent land attorney, adjutant of Crocker Post No. 12, one of the largest Grand Army organizations in the state, and he is not an office holder.

THE LETTER.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 21, 1896. ERNST HOFFER, Esq., Salem, Or: MY DEAR SIR:—I notice from the Daily Register here that you are charged by its editor with roaming around amongst false gods? But I presume you feel that you have not changed your religion, but that the Register and his squad have changed your god, and you are only trying to find it. Well, Mr. Hofer, I am with you, after having voted the Republican ticket from '62 till '95, but I cannot do so longer. I fought three years as a private in the 6th Iowa Infantry for the perpetuation of the principles of this nation, and now my Republican friends want me to submit to the crowned heads of the old world, whether we shall make the money of our constitution, and especially the "dollar of our dads." If we adopt the present platform by electing McKinley, we will have a paper currency with a gold standard, and our money controlled solely by a few national banks. I am opposed to such a plan of finance. Our mines will employ not less than 500,000 laborers directly and indirectly, and these miners can put into circulation annually not less than $100,000,000 of gold and silver, fresh and new, just dug from the mines, and every avenue of industry would be benefited thereby. If we trust the currency to these gold standard men, we had as well begin to tighten our own financial rope around our necks and get ready to swing into eternity at once, for we will be swung off by this relentless blood sucking gold monopoly? I congratulate you on your independence, and I believe there are enough of us here in this Seventh congressional district who will not follow in the wake of this gold brigandage to set down on the great office holder, John A. T. Hull. We propose to make it warm for him and defeat him if possible. Sincerely Yours, A. P. LOWERY.

P. S.—My uncle, Thomas Wallace, laid out Salem, if I am correctly informed.

THE O. A. C. PRESIDENCY.—The Times says: Counting Mr. Hughes as favorable to Mr. Miller, an inventory of noses seems to indicate that the active candidate has five votes to his credit, to wit: Governor Lord, Secretary of State Kincaid, T. W. Davenport, appointed by the governor to the commission of the lieue lands, Benton Killin and Samuel Hughes, and this, if there is a full meeting of all members, leaves Mr. Miller two votes short of an election. While no one is authorized to speak, it is understood that opposed to these five members are six influential members who will under no circumstances support Mr. Miller and that the remaining two occupy a doubtful position.

Spanish Buying Warships. LONDON, July 27.—The Times has a dispatch from Madrid, which says: It is stated that the government has paid the enormous price of $700,000 each, for the two warships recently bought at Genoa, while a contract has just been given for two torpedo boat destroyers, at $200,000, which was dearer than the tender of a first class English firm, on the ground that quick delivery would be secured.
