A TRIP TO THE ALSEA.

THE PRODUCTIVE AND FERTILE VALLEY OF OUR SOUTH.

On Monday evening of last week the writer hereof boarded the west-bound train with a determination to see the famed Alsea country and get acquainted with its people and view its resources. Stopping over night at Newport, we were routed out next morning bright and early to catch the mail stage on its regular bi-weekly trip to the Alsea. Crossing over the bay in a small boat, we were soon bundled in the stage wagon and had our faces set to southward along the solid sand beach, which is kept beaten as smooth and hard as a plank road by the tireless waves of the broad Pacific. We can picture no finer or more interesting drive than this would be in fine weather, and even with the wind in our faces and a slight rain falling it was far from disagreeable. A drive along the beach of about twelve miles brought us to the famous Seal Rock. This rock is situated about a half mile from the beach and is used by the hair seals, or sea lions to rest and sun themselves upon. At the time we viewed the rock there were hundreds of these monster sea animals lying lazily on the rocks enjoying themselves above the power of the mighty waves that were dashing at the base. At Seal Rock is located the famous summer resort known by that name and owned by Hon. J. W. Brasfield. Here is erected a fine hotel and numerous cottages are scattered around for the benefit of the hosts of summer visitors. But more of Seal Rock at another time.

Leaving the bluffs after about a mile travel on them we again strike the beach and proceed on our way. After about a four mile drive we round a point and the famous Alsea Bay and valley bursts upon our view. The view from this entrance point alone is worth the trip to see. A short drive up the beach brings us to the

TOWN OF STANFORD.

Here we find a well stocked store of W. C. Shepard, who caters to the wants of the people contiguous to town. Here we had our first meal on the Alsea, taking the same at the hospitable house of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Monroe.

The town of Stanford consists of about forty acres platted and is in a slightly location. W. C. Shepard is the principal owner of the town-site. Mr. Shepard also enjoys the distinction of being the only attorney-at-law in Lincoln county. There is also a cannery located at this point, but we believe, was not operated last year.

About a half mile up the beach from Stanford is located the post-office of Lutjens, which distributes the mail for the north side people. At this place A. H. Lutjens keeps a well-stocked country store, and also is postmaster. The stage, mail and freight route from Yaquina Bay to Alsea Bay has its headquarters here, being operated by Holgate & Sons. At this point is located the extensive salmon cannery of Henry Nice. This cannery is well fitted with all the latest appliances for canning salmon and is quite an extensive establishment. Its output varies with the condition of the salmon run. The largest pack ever made in a single season by Mr. Nice's cannery was 9,000 cases of four dozen cans each, and the smallest pack was 4,000 cases. This establishment is worthy of a more extended writup than our present space permits.

This comprises all the business on the north side of the Bay. Crossing to the south side we came to the handsome little VILLAGE OF WALDFORD. Waldport is the largest business point on the Bay. It is located on a point of land lying between the Bay and a slough branching out from the same. The ground is low but sandy and does not readily become muddy. It is well sheltered from the wind by hills and tall timber. Dr. A. H. Diven & Son keeps a well stocked store of general merchandise, and the Doctor is also the physician for what few people become sick in that section of the

The Trans-Mississippi congress which met in Ogden, Utah, this week hold its next annual meeting at San Francisco.

Judge Bellinger has received commission from the pres will qualify and assume the of his office May 1st.

Patrick Egan has succeeded to the Chitwood Chips.

All well, we are ready put to in our spring crop, only waiting for the shower to pass over, then the fur will fly until our spring work is done.

There will be a large amount of trees set out this spring, mostly prunes.

We have our money order office running in full blast and doing a fair business.

Arthur StClair is the boss fisher in or around Chitwood.

Jas. McDonald was laid up for repairs a short time ago, being hit on the leg by some long timbers he and another man was dragging with a team, but is all OK now.

C. S. Wilson will start in a few days for the fishing grounds near Astoria to spend the fishing season. Luck to you Charley and may you smell like salmon all summer.

Chitwood is booming. The river school is running nicely.

Claud Wilson returned from Woodburn last Friday where he spent the last month grafting in the nursery of J. E. Wilson & Son. He takes the cake in grafting for a boy of fourteen years.

It looks like the shower is over. PRN.

From Elk City.

It still rains for a change.

There will be some improvements start up here in a short time, or as soon as the weather will permit, in the way of building. R. F. Simpson will build a residence and E. M. Mays will build an addition to his house and will also put up a barn; M. W. Simpson will also put up a large barn on his farm near town. Dr. Carter contemplates building two or three residences to rent to parties during the summer and also to parties who wish to come to town during the winter to send their children to school, as we have one of the best schools in the county. Elk City is going to build this season, as well as Phipps, Storrs and other places, and don't you forget it. All that the town needs now is a blacksmith shop. A good smith would build up a good trade. Everything helps to build up a town, so let us all put our shoulders to the wheel and see what we can do to help the good work along, and if there be any one who will not help let us remove him and get some one in his place, as such a man is a nuisance in any place.

A family by the name of Porter, from Arkansas, have moved into town. Mr. Porter is shoemaker so we will have a shoe shop.

When Elk City gets her depot and bridge completed she will take a step or two ahead in the way of shipping potatoes, grain and produce. There will be seven of eight thousand bushels of potatoes, four thousand bushels of oats and two thousand bushels of apples and much other produce shipped from this point. All of the above will be more than doubled as soon as the land can be cleared, so you see we do a little something here if we are a little lazy.

LITTLE ELK.
