

"The Minister's Son."

A beautiful play in four acts opens its engagement at the Opera House tonight. The play opens at the minister's home in the country. A bit of fun introduces the play to the audience, and in due time Mr. Patton makes his appearance in the character of the minister's son, a strong and vigorous country lad, with all the evidences of the verdant meadows and the daisy-dotted hillsides. He believes that he has perfected an invention which will be the wonder of the world, but by many he is called lazy, and not capable of doing anything. He decides to go to the city, however, and try his fortune, and the curtain falls with "Simon" on his knees at the parsonage door, through which the notes of "Rock of Ages" come floating. This is indeed one of the tenderest bits of pathos of nature, which makes the world akin. In this act are introduced the principal characters. The father, the trusting mother, who sends her boy off with his box of ginger cake, apple pie and other good things, which delight and charm the ever-hungry country boy. Westley Coles, the "villain," who is in the country for the purpose of luring the minister's daughter to the temptations of the city; "Mollie," Simon's sweet heart, "Rose Ray," etc. Throughout the play is that thread of interest which manifests itself at the very outset. "Simon" goes to the city and falls in with "James Ward," a young preacher, and the two rent apartments together. In duo time "Westley Coles" is again introduced, with, alas, pretty "Rose Ray" as his mistress. The forcing of the villain to marry "Miss Ray," in order to save the cherished family name from stain is as strong a bit of dramatic acting as has been seen on the stage in many a day. The last act brings us back to the old home—to the scenes of childhood, to the rippling brooks, the flowering fields, the lights and shades of home. "Simon" comes back wealthy, as a result of his invention; the mortgage is lifted, the villain is foiled. All are

No one needs to be told to try to cure a cough. But any one will be glad to be told of a means of cure which will be thorough and lasting. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine which can be confidently relied on to cure diseases of the organs of respiration. It cures chronic, deep-seated coughs, bronchitis and bleeding of the lungs. It cures when nothing else will cure, and the local physician says: "There is nothing more that we can do."

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. The dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid by less meritorious medicines, will sometimes try and sell a substitute when the "Discovery" is asked for. No substitute medicine will satisfy the sick like "Golden Medical Discovery." It always helps. It almost always cures.

"Two years ago a severe cough started on me and I was also bothered with catarrh," writes Mr. F. Siskol, of Danvers, Chicago, Ill. "I could not sleep nights, as the cough was worse at night. I tried several cough medicines, but to no avail, until a year ago, when I got so bad I could not breathe through my nose at times. I then tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and at the same time using Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, I am a well man. I can thank Dr. Pierce for my good health, and will recommend his medicines to any one suffering from the same trouble."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

happily reunited as the curtain falls. Curtain at 8:15.

Jessie Shirley's Great Success.
There is no other attraction in the entire country playing to such uniformly good business as Miss Jessie Shirley—a reason why is besides being a most excellent actress, and always carrying a good company. Her manager is ripe to secure the very latest New York successes. No matter what personal success Miss Shirley makes in any character, instead of clinging to that one part, as many others do, under like circumstances, it is immediately discarded for what is latest and best in the dramatic world, hence it is that Miss Shirley comes this time with two new plays, each of which has created a reputation for the actresses who essayed them. "A Modern Magdalene" played for more than 200 nights by Amella Bingham, and "The Duchess Du Barre," a theme that has made Mrs. Leslie Carter more reputation than all the Zazzas that ever was written. The staging of those two plays, "A Modern Magdalene" on Wednesday and the Du Barre on Thursday, and the costuming of them will eclipse in grandeur anything seen hitherto on the opera house stage. Sale of seats opens Wednesday morning at 9 a. m.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.
The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over 35 years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system, and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottle, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists. At Dr. Stone's drug stores.

We do what We Claim

We kill and remove cancers and tumors without the aid of a knife.
Read the testimony of a prominent Salem man:
TO THE PUBLIC. In justice to Dr. Cook, and that the world may know what great work he is doing, I wish to inform them that I have been taking treatment from him for the past fifteen months and in that time he has removed from my alimentary canal three tumors of cancerous growths, as large as a man's hand, all from the larger intestine. Also another cancerous growth from off my right right foot and another from my right thumb. This has all been accomplished through medicines alone, they killing the growth and the spider like roots and nature itself casting them off, without the aid of knife or surgery. I do not believe I could have found equally successful treatment anywhere in the world and cheerfully recommend Dr. J. F. Cook, the Botanical Doctor, to all who read this testimonial. R. J. Spencer. We can do as much for you or more if you need it.
