SOME NEW YORK FASHIONS

Suggestions for Children's Clothes, School Apparel, and Other Things

With the opening of the fall school term the problem of the children's outfitting becomes once more of vital interest to every mother. How to remodel the left-over wardrobe so that it will look presentable and fresh, and what to buy in new materials and garments that will be practical and in good taste. All this must be accomplished without overstepping the limits set for judicious expenditure.

Remodeling.
The various styles of suspender frocks lend themselves especially well to remodeling. Last year's waists, though badly worn, will easily supply the material for the suspenders, especially as any piecing necessary can be hidden by braid or velvet ribbon trimmings, and by fancy buttons, that are lavishly employed on some of the newest models shown at the up-to-date places in New York. For lengthening the skirt various expedients are employed, bands of contrasting material overlaid with braid may be used, or if some of the original pattern is in hand, tucks may be modishly used as a trimming, and the piecing done underneath them.

Contrasting Materials and Colors.
Where the suspender frock is of plain material the waist is often of plaid, and always in contrasting effect. Plaid are also modishly employed for the dresses, and then plain colored materials are used for the waist. Several different waists are worn with the same skirt, washable cottons, and silks or heavier wools for colder weather.

Fashionable Fabrics.
Serges, Henriettas and cashmeres lead in fashionable fabrics for the children, as they do for the grownups, with mohair quite as useful as ever, and in weaves so different from the old time ones that it is not recognizable except to the initiated. Children's apparel of all sorts gets the hardest kind of wear and should be chosen with this fact in mind. Materials should be of good quality, and colors selected should be such as will stand washing or exposure to the sun or rain. Among the most satisfactory fabrics for children's use are the cravenettes.

Thanks are due the McCall Co., for illustrations of children's styles.

Footwear.
One of the most important points, both for the sake of appearance and of comfort is the dressing of the feet. Shoes must be not only smart looking, but should be built on orthopedic lines to aid in the correct development of the growing feet, and stockings should be well shaped and substantial, so that they are not continually wrinkling, and on the subject of the Buster Brown stocking (now so generally known) children and mothers are in perfect harmony—the former delight to wear anything that reminds them of their friend, Buster, and the latter equally delight to find so durable an article, one which saves them to a great extent from the labor of constant darning. There seems to be a veritable craze for everything that pertains to the mischievous Buster. The proper washing of children's stockings is of great importance, if they are to keep their shape and color properly. The average laundress does not rinse the stockings sufficiently, and they iron them. Stockings should never be ironed but stretched and dried carefully.

Ladies' Autumn Walking Suits.
It is to this the mind of the modish woman gives its first consideration, when turned toward the subject of new garments for the season in advent. The skirts of instep length are still plaited, and coats are of an embarrassing diversity of styles and lengths from the quite long redingote to the short Eston. The latter presents itself more insistently than ever, the claim to favor justified by its natty and varied expression in the new models.

A WOMAN'S ORDEAL DREADS DOCTOR'S QUESTIONS

Thousands Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and Receive Valuable Advice Absolutely Confidential and Free

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions in regard to her private ills, even when those questions are asked by her family physician, and many continue to suffer rather than submit to examinations which so many physicians propose in order to intelligently treat the disease; and this is the reason why so many physicians fail to cure female disease.

This is also the reason why thousands upon thousands of women are corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. To her they can confide every detail of their illness, and from her great knowledge, obtained from years of experience in treating female ills, Mrs. Pinkham can advise women more wisely than the local physician.

Read how Mrs. Pinkham helped Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Ia. She writes:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham— I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude in words. Before I wrote to you telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady, and spent lots of money in medicines besides, but it all failed to do me any good. I had female trouble and would daily have fainting spells, backache, bearing-down pains, and my monthly periods were very irregular and finally ceased. I wrote to you for your advice and received a letter full of instructions just what to do, and also commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have been restored to perfect health. Had it not been for you I would have been in my grave to-day."

Mountains of proof establish the fact that no medicine in the world equals Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for restoring women's health.

CAPITAL NORMAL.

The fall term opens on September 25, but afternoon classes will begin on September 11. The course will be Academic Normal, Business and Civil Service. Address J. J. KRAPS, Salem, Or.
