OREGON WILL GROW

"Within a few years Klamath county will be one of the richest counties in the state," said Governor Chamberlain yesterday in an interview concerning his recent trip to that section. "It is a wonderful country and has remarkable possibilities. Land that a few years ago was practically worthless, is now worth from $40 to $200 per acre. When the government has finished its irrigation project and reclaimed the 200,000 acres of land, the agricultural resources of that section will be practically unlimited. There are still many hundreds of acres of what are called waste lands, and there is not more than one family for every 1000 acres, but eventually, when this land is all irrigated, as it is sure to be, there will be a family for every 80 acres."

According to this estimate, the rural population of that county will eventually be between 15,000 and 16,000 in families, not counting help, which would mean a corresponding city population of about 40,000, thus making the total population of the county more than twice as large as that of any other county, with the exception of Multnomah, at the present time.

The governor says that all the land in the valleys which is proposed to be irrigated is now partially under cultivation, and that all it needs is the water to make the crops certain and to increase their number and quality. Most of the owners of the land live on their farms and have good country homes. The governor drove from Klamath Falls to Merrill, a distance of about 25 miles, and says that the valley he passed through was one of the nicest he ever saw.

According to his belief alfalfa is now, and always will be, the principal product, though all kinds of grains can be grown successfully, as well as

OLD AGE BROUGHT NO INFIRMITIES

To "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table."

Oliver Wendell Holmes, after eighty years of life had rolled over his head, declared that he was "eighty years young." "So may every man and woman in Salem," said a member of the Putnam Drug Co., "if they will take proper care of themselves, keep built up and their bodily tissues from wasting."

"We wish we could persuade every person in this vicinity who 'feels old' whether they are so in years or not, to take Vinol. It is by far the greatest tissue builder and invigorator we know of for old people. Vinol is not a patent medicine, but simply contains the body-building, strength-creating properties of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, and we guarantee that it will repair worn tissues, check the natural decline and replace weakness with strength."

"There are hundreds of old people in this vicinity who need just such a strength-maker and tissue-builder as Vinol. Their blood is thin, sluggish and watery, but we guarantee that Vinol will enrich and quicken the blood and build up and strengthen every organ in the body. Vinol contains no whiskey or strong stimulants, which have a bad effect and weaken and break down, and we wish every old person in this vicinity would try Vinol on our guarantee to return their money if they are not satisfied." G. W. Putnam Co., druggists.

some fruits. Even tomatoes, which are easily killed by frost, have been grown successfully in the vicinity of Merrill. Stock raising is also a great industry of this region, many hundreds of head of stock being driven in there every fall to be wintered and fattened. The governor saw and talked with one man who is now there with a drove of 800 cattle, and who is paying $2.50 every hour that he keeps them there. After they are fattened he will drive them out to the railroad and ship them to the California market.

Governor Chamberlain is very much enthused over that section and thinks the people of Oregon should be awakened to the realization of its value and do something to divert the present trade from California to this state. The trade now is all with California, and all the railroads proposed so far will only send the increased trade to our southern neighbor. He thinks that the people of Oregon should leave no stone unturned in an effort to have a railroad built from the Willamette valley over into and tapping that entire country. Two routes are suggested by the governor as feasible. One is up the McKeezie from Eugene, and the other would be the extension of the C. & E. to Bend, and from there south.

Klamath Falls is perhaps the most rapidly developing town in the whole state. It is said that more than $250,000 have been expended in building this year alone. A handsome brick high school building is now in course of construction, which the governor says would be a credit to any western city. A public school building is also being constructed of native stone.

Governor Chamberlain has nothing but words of highest praise for the treatment accorded him by the people of south and eastern Oregon, and says that they are wide awake, energetic, and are bound to make a success of their country.

The new schooner "Oregon" was launched and christened at Pfosper, Coos bay, last Saturday. Miss Ada Fahy, daughter of C. W. Fahy, of Parkersburg, broke the bottle of champagne over the bow of the big schooner as it left the ways. It has three masts and was built especially for the Coquille river lumber trade, and will carry half a million feet of lumber on a 12-foot draft.

THE TWO CHURCHES UNITE

Organization Will Be Known as First Church of Christ, Scientist of Salem

Last evening, at the Christian Science church building, in this city, was consummated a reorganization of the people of that faith, whereby the two churches in this city have been consolidated into one. This is a union greatly to be desired on the part of those interested, and was brought about by both organizations dissolving their respective charters and organizations. After doing this, all the members of both institutions came together last evening and organized a new church. This will be known as the first church of Christ Scientists, of Salem, Oregon, and assumes the property of both old organizations. All interested were more than pleased at this happy uniting of what has, in the past, seemed a divided family.

Services will hereafter be held at the usual hours in the church building adjoining the city hall. Aside from this consolidation the faith has been having a substantial growth, and hereafter its audiences will no doubt compare favorably in size with those of the old established denominations.

"HIGH" GAME IS ON

The Eugene High School football team, accompanied by a few enthusiastic supporters and the principal of the school, arrived on the morning train, and this afternoon are battling for honors with the local high school team.

The teams seem to be pretty evenly matched, and the game, which is now in progress on the "varsity field," is no doubt an interesting one. Its result will determine the high school championship for this part of the state.

Court Notes.

Judge Galloway, of the circuit court, has taken under advisement a decision in the case of Wanna Stuart against J. L. Smith and others. A great part of yesterday was consumed by the court in hearing arguments in this case, which is a part of the well known Parkerville dam litigation.

The defense in their argument asked Judge Galloway to reserve his decision until the supreme court had handed down a decision in one of the other cases, similar to the present one in every respect. Indeed, in yesterday's case, both appellant and respondent submitted to the court briefs which were offered the supreme court in the case now awaiting decisions in that tribunal.

The case of John Christy against Ed. Butterfield was also argued before Judge Galloway, and taken under advisement. It is a partnership dispute, and involves the sale of machinery used in a brickyard in Woodburn, which was wred by the parties to the suit.

Arguments were heard by Judge Galloway this morning in the case of William H. Patton against T. B. Kay and Claud Gatch, as receiver for Gilbert Brothers. The suit is a complicated piece of litigation, involving title to six lots in Capital Park addition to Salem.

The New Pipe Organ.

The work of installing the new pipe organ at the university was completed yesterday and the instrument will be formally dedicated next Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, when Professor Goodrich will be present and give a short recital, to which the friends of Willamette are cordially invited.

The organ is a beauty and will add much to the dignity of the chapel exercises, as well as being a big addition to the equipment of the College of Music.

THEORIES ABOUT FOOD

Also a few Facts on the Same Subject. We hear much nowadays about health foods and hygienic living, about vegetarianism, and many other fads along the same line.

Restaurants may be found in the larger cities where no meat, pastry or coffee is served and the food crank is in his glory, and arguments and theories galore advanced to prove that meat was never intended for human stomachs, and almost make us believe that our sturdy ancestors, who lived four-score years in robust health on roast beef, pork and mutton must have been grossly ignorant of the laws of health.

Our forefathers had other things to do than formulate theories about the food they ate. A warm welcome was extended to any kind, from bacon to acorns.

A healthy appetite and common sense are excellent guides to follow in matters of diet, and a mixed diet of grains, fruits and meats is undoubtedly the best.

As compared with grains and vegetables, meats furnishes the most nutriment in a highly concentrated form and is digested and assimilated more quickly than vegetables or grains.

Dr. Julius Remmon, on this subject, says: "Nervous persons, people, run down in health and of low vitality should eat meat and plenty of it. If the digestion is too feeble at first it may be easily corrected by the regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. Two of these excellent tablets taken after dinner will digest several thousand grains of meat, eggs or other animal food in three hours, and no matter how weak the stomach, may be, no trouble will be experienced if a regular practice is made of using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, because they supply the pepsin and diastase necessary to perfect digestion, and every form of indigestion will be overcome by their use."

That large class of people who come under the head of nervous dyspeptics should eat plenty of meat and insure its proper digestion by the daily use of a safe, harmless digestive medicine like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets composed of the natural digestive principles, masquerading under the name of dyspepsia cures, are useless for indigestion, as they have absolutely no effect upon the actual digestion of food.

Dyspepsia in all its many forms is simply a failure of the stomach to digest food, and the sensible way to solve the riddle and cure the dyspepsia is to make daily use at meal time of a preparation like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which is endorsed by the medical profession and known to contain active digestive principles.

JOSEPH RAMSEY, JR., AND HIS WAR WITH GEORGE GOULD.

For ten years Joseph Ramsey, Jr., has been largely identified with the growth of the Wabash railroad, and his contest with George Gould over the control of the road has attracted much attention. He was born in Pittsburgh fifty-five years ago and has been a railroad man for over a third of a century. He became president of the Wabash in 1901 and quarreled with George Gould a few months ago over the management of the road.

ARTICLES FILED TODAY

Two Companies Organized With a Total Capital of $2,050,000

The Willamette Valley Traction Company, with a capital of $1,250,000 was launched this morning on the sea of finance. At the same time, in the office of the secretary of state, the Willamette Valley Company, incorporated with a capital stock of $800,000, was floated. The latter is a subsidiary corporation, organized to take over the light and water plants in Eugene, Corvallis and Albany. The former, as announced in yesterday's Journal, proposes to construct an interurban electric road between Roseburg and Portland.

James A. Persing, the prominent Chicago capitalist; J. W. Anderson, the Western representative of Rhodes, Sinker & Butcher, Philadelphia bankers; A. Welch, of Salem, manager of the Citizens' Light & Traction Company; T. E. Sheridan, the Roseburg banker; F. W. Waters, mayor of Salem, and John H. McNary, also of Salem, are the incorporators of the Willamette Valley Traction Company. In the papers of the other company A. Welch, C. B. Rhodes, representing the Philadelphia banking firm, and J. H. McNary are given as incorporators.

The Willamette Valley Traction Company proposes to commence immediate acquisition of a right of way the entire length of the valley. Part of the construction plan of the company includes the bridging of the Willamette at a cost of $100,000. The projectors intend to run their main line through this city, according to a franchise petition presented to the city council last night.

It is said that the Portland-Salem Electric Railway Company, which stole a march and incorporated yesterday, is a revival of the former corporation organized by E. W. French, the Baker City banker, and which intended to build an electric line from this city to Portland. Credence is given this surmise from the fact that the incorporators of yesterday, or two of them, were incorporators in French's company. The old company, through neglect to pay its annual incorporation tax, lost its legal standing, though said to still possess franchises and rights of way that are valuable. It is thought that, for the purpose of taking these over, the Portland-Salem Railway Company was organized.

Protect Home Industries

Owners of warehouses and other buildings located along the railroad tracks should paint the buildings and roofs with fire-proof paint. The outside appearance of these buildings by a coat of fire-proof paint would be as pleasing to the owners as to any good citizen that is in favor of improvement and protection, and by so doing it would prevent a loss by fire.

VOMITING SPELLS

SYMPTOMS OF A CHRONIC STOMACH TROUBLE

Permanently Cured by the Tonic Method With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Few things are more weakening than frequent vomiting spells, but it is a mistaken idea to treat a delicate stomach with pro-digested foods and ferments. The stomach must be made to do its own work and this calls for digestive tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. With this treatment the stomach recovers tone, belching of gas and vomiting ceases and the digestive organs resume their function of properly nourishing the body.

Mrs. Sarah L. Brooks, of No. 43 Lincoln Park, Chicago, Illinois, gives the following account of her cure from distressing spells of vomiting:

"For five years off and on I was treated in vain by different doctors for relief from a stomach trouble which showed itself in frequent and trying spells of vomiting. Part of the time I was able to work and again I would be confined to bed for three or four days in succession.

"My stomach was at times so delicate that it would not retain even plain water. The spells would sometimes occur at intervals of half an hour, and would leave me so weak that I would be compelled to lie down between them. I would have several of them during the night following a day of such attacks. Finally I became so weakened that I had to give up working altogether. I weighed only ninety-four pounds.

"Last January I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a paper and bought a box and began to use them. After I had used a half a box I found that I could keep on my stomach the food I ate. I was encouraged by this and kept on using the pills for four months. At the end of that time the vomiting spells had ceased altogether and my weight went up to 142 pounds.

"I think surely I would have died if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for I sometimes vomited clear blood, and for three or four days at a time I could not eat a bit of anything. The doctors said different things about my case; one said I had chronic inflammation of the stomach, and another said my difficulty was a cancer, but none of their medicines did me any good at all. Finally I concluded that I did not have blood enough to digest my food and I began the treatment that has cured me. I can eat anything now, and have strength for all kinds of work. I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills on hand, and I recommend them to my friends, because I know they cured me."

If you would get rid of nausea, pain or burning in the stomach, vertigo, nervousness, insomnia, or any of the other miseries of a dyspeptic, get rid of the weakness of the digestive organs by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are sold by druggists everywhere. A valuable diet book sent free on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.
