Working Men in St Petersburg Taking Steps to Prevent Further Massacres

St. Petersburg, Nov. 11.—Forty thousand working men held meetings here today and decided to press their demands for an eight-hour working day, notwithstanding the threat of their employers to close the factories if this is done. The working men also took steps to prevent the threatened massacre in this city today of Jews and "intellectuals," and resolved to protect the Jews. The students themselves are organized into detachments to guard the various sections of the city in the event of outbreaks similar to those in the south.

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 11.—The Jews of this city were thrown into a panic today by the appearance, during the night, on their doors of strange marks. They believe the marks are proof that fresh anti-semitic riots are being planned, and the marks indicate the houses selected for the attack. A deputation of 23 aristocrats left today to present the demands of the Poles for autonomy.

He was arraigned this morning, and his case was continued to December 5th. A subpoena was issued for John Voorhees, president of the board of elections, to appear before the grand jury, and produce for their inspection the registry books of the 5th election district, and the 26th assembly district. PREMIER WITTE RESIGNS

Czar Refuses to Accept, But the News Causes a Panic on the Stock Exchange

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The Daily News' correspondent at St. Petersburg cables quoting a prominent Russian, who was present at the Peterhof conference with the Czar, says: "Witte insisted that the minister of war and the minister of marine should be subservient to the premier. He also demanded the resignation of 25 governors. The Czar refused to sanction this, and Witte resigned. His resignation was not accepted." Rumors of Witte's fall created a panic on the stock exchange. Panic-stricken Jews are fleeing from the city, every boat being thronged. Jewish bankers who called upon Witte say the premier looked ghastly. He denied the rumors of the proposed massacre of Jews, and assured his callers that every means would be taken to protect lives.

By clever handling of the press Witte has stopped practically all opposition among the people. The papers will print excerpts from American and European papers, praising the premier.

Hops Firmer Today.
The hop market today was very firm, but exceedingly quiet. No local transactions were reported up to 2 o'clock this afternoon. Quotations seemed to have an upward tendency, and dealers predict that by Monday, or at most Tuesday, prices will have mounted to above 11 cents. Numbers of growers were intown today, but they showed no disposition to sell, always asking more than the price offered, 11 1/2 cents. New York hops today were quoted, according to buyers' advices, at from 15 to 19 cents, according to quality. California gives evidence of a great deal of activity in the hop market. The great portion of this year's crop has been marketed there. In Washington hops are weaker, and the market there averages slightly less than on the rest of the coast.

VOORHIES DENIES STORY

New York, Nov. 10.—Voorheis this afternoon, in discussing the reports that ballot boxes were dumped into the river, said: "There is nothing to this talk about missing ballot boxes. The board of election knows exactly how many boxes it gave out, and how many were returned. So far as I know they all came back. The story about boxes being thrown into the river is all false. If a box was found in a barber shop, I am sure it was one of the small boxes for mutilated ballots, which are always destroyed after the good ballots are counted. The report that some of the locks are missing is untrue. Some of the seals may have been broken in handling."
