TOOZE AND THE FLAG.
 The Newburg Graphic accuses Walter Lincoln Toozé of violating the law forbidding the use of the American flag for advertising purposes.

The charge is based on the use of a card by Mr. Toozé which he had printed when he was congressional chairman for this district in 1904.

It is a white card printed in black ink bearing the legend "25,000 majority for Roosevelt, November, 1904," besides his official title.

The laws of Oregon prohibit the use of "any flag, standard, color, or ensign of the United States" for advertising purposes.

BUT IT DOES NOT PROHIBIT THE PRINTING THE PICTURE OF THE FLAG IN A NEWSPAPER OR PAMPHLET, OR ON A CARD IN BLACK AND WHITE.

It is the use of the flag itself, of the national colors, that is prohibited, and if the Toozé card were in colors, red, white and blue, he might be technically guilty.

But assuming that the card complained of is an advertisement, what is it an advertisement of—the Roosevelt campaign of 1904.

The law is more plainly violated by the Sunday Portland papers that print the national flag draped over George H. Williams to advertise his series of papers on "Six Years in the Senate."

It is rather late to spring this on Mr. Toozé, when the whole McKinley and Roosevelt campaign was run on similar advertisements, in which the flag was used as the emblem of the Republican party.

Mr. Toozé has been a popular orator of the Grand Army of the Republic, and they were the authors of the bill demanding that the flag be not used for advertising purposes.

It is not learned that they have ever accused him of disloyalty or disrespect to the American flag. In fact, he has been almost as great a flag-waver on patriotic occasions as the Hon. George C. Brownell.

DIRTY ELECTION OF SENATORS
 This paper does not wish to dictate to the senators who are coming out for legislative offices about what pledges they shall make.

We expect to get further information as to the sentiments of the people and be able to judge of the prevailing sentiment.

When he has done that he hopes to be able to render an intelligent opinion as to what the people will expect of Republican candidates.

So far as he has been able to get the impressions of the people without regard to party, that impression FAVORS DIRECT ELECTION.

If the direct primary law and the Australian ballot law are complied with we do not see how direct election of U. S. senators can be evaded.

For one we shall not try to evade this issue but believe the laws should be lived up to and ENFORCED FAIRLY AND SQUARELY IN LETTER AND SPIRIT.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is not a simple cough syrup. It is a strong medicine, a doctor's medicine. It cures hard cases, severe and desperate cases. Especially good in bronchitis, pleurisy, consumption. Ask your doctor all about this.

ribbed Republican state as "she used to was." Under direct nomination the people have something to say and party discipline is relaxed.

Fred Mulkey, a nephew of the late Senator Dolph, is a candidate for the short term for the United States senate. He is a handsome Portland bachelor and would wear the toga very gracefully. As the honor would be only for about two months there is little demand for it. Of course, the mileage would be considerable, and by the way, that 20 cents a mile graft for senators and congressmen, when they nearly always ride on passes, is a little ancient and hoary.

Hurrah for John Bayne. We can forgive him for that little caucus in his office whereby the Salem police were turned out and the city government reorganized, for a sidewalk is going down along the property he is sent for. It is giving employment to some laboring men and we have not hammered in vain. What about forty or fifty other walks the council ordered built? Are they going to be let go over for a year? This is the time of year when workmen are anxious to get something to do.

Delazon Smith founded the Albany Democrat, and it was then the first paper in that county. He became U. S. senator while editor and died while he held that office. A Bush ran a paper at Salem and they had hot times back and forth. Dryer was running the Oregonian. Bush and Smith both got offices, and Scott, who succeeded Dryer and W. Lair Hill, was collector of customs. Beyond a few small ones, there have been no great offices held by newspaper men in Oregon, yet no one has contributed more to reforms and to political campaigns than the editors. A few have been made door keepers of the legislature and once in awhile one got into the state printing office. Mighty few of them ever got any offices of state importance. We can hardly recall any of them. The state has fewer laws requiring publication than any state in the union. There is the estray notice law, that laid the foundation of the Bush fortune, is said to be still on the statute books of Oregon. It is doubtful whether the newspaper business has the political pull now it once had.

Has the profession degenerated or were there fewer men of ability in those days?

Others Are Born.

While Governor Chamberlain's proclamation, issued Saturday puts out of business 500 already defunct corporations, there is no immediate danger of the state being left entirely void of this species of modern commercialism, as new ones are being organized at the rate of from ten to twenty a week. The following list filed their articles of incorporation with the secretary of state last week:

The Transcontinental Machine company; principal office, Portland; capital stock, $50,000; incorporators, Morris Cohn, Julius A. Dilg and O. A. Peck.

Shibley Mining company; principal office, Portland; capital stock, $500,000.

Smiles

The men in the legislature before the last went down the line for the people's choice for United States senator would have nothing to apologize for if they were nominated this year for the same places. They could consistently take the pledge which they then so faithfully kept.

... ..

The Portland Telegram is to be congratulated on starting a reform in the use of legible type on that paper. The fine type used on the metropolitan press has many sins to answer for. The large type editorials on the Telegram are an added charm to that paper, and would be to any newspaper.

Some gone late print fight the farmers' and shippers' congress (tax bill) for taking the assessment of railroad property out of their hands? What is their little graft worth, anyway? Also why do they fight publicity of the tax bill? Do they fear to have their work made public before equalization? Say, gentlemen, you are a little too unanimous.

The Young Men's Republican club of this city should be encouraged in their determination to celebrate Abraham Lincoln's birthday with a banquet. The young men cannot worship at a pure shrine of Republicanism than Old Abe's, and he is the one man around whom all true Republicans can rally and whose principles they can uphold while the earth stands.

... ..

Gentlemen, let us make it a clean, clever, gentlemanly campaign if you expect to elect the ticket afterwards. Remember the fate of the grand old man at Portland, and remember that Oregon is not so unbreakably a rock-

Will Discuss Southern Problem.

New York, Jan. 22.—Booker T. Washington, Joseph H. Choate, Mark Twain and Robert C. Ogden will speak from the same platform at a notable meeting which is to be held at Carnegie hall today for the purpose of discussing southern problems.

This is a memorable year for Mr. Washington and his great school. In April of this year he will celebrate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Tuskegee institute, at which time Secretary Taft, President Eliot, Andrew Carnegie and many other northern men of distinction will join with representative southern educators in a demonstration at the Alabama school.

At the meeting tonight Mr. Choate will preside. Mark Twain, whose early life was spent on the lower Mississippi, will speak as a southerner and Mr. Ogden will speak on the needs of the Tuskegee institute. A chorus of students from the Hampton institute will contribute several chorus numbers.

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, is Sloan's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly harvest.

You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures.

August Flower prevents indigestion by the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way.

Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Sold in Salem by S. C. Stone.
