Raymond Hitchcock, April 25.

"A Yankee Tourist," a new comic opera in three acts, the book by Richard Harding Davis, lyrics by Wallace Irwin and a score of much merit by Alfred G. Robyn, has been selected by Henry W. Savage as a new starring vehicle for that most amusing of comedians, Raymond Hitchcock, and in that vehicle he will be seen at the Grand opera house on next Thursday evening, surrounded by a cast of extraordinary excellence and a singing and dancing chorus typical of all Savage productions. Mr. Hitchcock has been aptly christened "the totally different comedian," and in every particular he is different from any other comedian on the comic opera stage. His past successes have been many and in this new vehicle he is expected to equal if not surpass all of the other triumphs he has known. Mr. Davis, who takes rank as one of the most brilliant of present day American writers, has studied Mr. Hitchcock and his methods very well and the result is that he has given him as nearly perfect a vehicle as is possible. Mr. Irwin rose to sudden and what has since proved a lasting success through the medium of his verses in Collier's and others of the high class magazines, has written some very consistent and most entertaining lyrics, while the music by Mr. Robyn is said to be some of the most catchy yet written and he will long be remembered for the originality of the score he provided for "The Yankee Consul," in which Mr. Hitchcock made one of his most convincing successes. The cast surrounding Mr. Hitchcock is one which has long been identified with him and includes Flora Zabelle, Herbert Cawthorne, Harry Stone, Helen Huls, Susie Forrester Cawthorne, Walter Lawrence, Eva Fallon, Philip Smalley and others. The engagement in this city will be limited and unquestionably will be numbered among the most pretentious theatrical events of the season. The company carries a complete orchestra as well as an immense amount of scenery. Seats will be on sale at the box office Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Phone orders will be accepted.

long absence, looking fresher than ever. As Cyprienne, the dissatisfied wife of Henri des Prunelles, Grace George was at her best. She uttered with sincerity and conviction the sophistry of the wife, who suddenly came to believe that she had missed much in life because of her lack of experience and who rebelled against the conventions which tied women. She accomplished with smoothness and grace the swift transition from the wife seeking to leave her husband for another by way of the easy road of a new divorce law, to the woman who came to realize that her husband had virtues that attracted her. With the arousing of the first pang of jealousy she forgot her sophistry saw the faults of the lover and the commendable qualities of the husband, and suddenly found that she was not so certain she wanted a quick divorce. Norris & Rowe Circus.

One of the most pleasingly sensational features with a circus is the exhibitions given by expert equestriennes and equestrians and their beautiful, sleek, educated thoroughbreds. It is a feature that is the very backbone of the sawdust arena, one that is always looked forward to and one that the public would not have omitted in the time honored traditions of the circus. Norris & Rowe claim to have the most expert lady and gentlemen bareback riders who are performing in the world of the white tents today. They are all young people, ambitious and gained fame in their special line. Some excel in expert riding, some in trick riding, carrying acts, rough riding and the always difficult somersault riding. George Holland has two pure white stallions upon which he goes through a number of graceful act, finishing with a series of somersaults; Rose Dickhill, a petite and graceful rider does a high school menage act; Frank Miller is a hurrican hurdle jockey rider and is accompanied by his riding dog, "Vic;" Charming Edna Mareta is credited with being the only lady in the world who can turn a series of true complete somersaults upon the back of a swiftly running horse; Ed. V. Hocum is another accomplished and finished bareback somersault rider; Herbert Rumley is a dare-devil rough rider and how he manages to stick upon the back of his rearing, bucking, galloping steed is nothing short of marvelous; John Carroll has two of the prettiest horse acts ever seen. His first is with his own horse "Rinaldo." The horse executes every step that it is possible to teach an equine. He dances the two-step, walks upon two legs, bows to the ground, etc., and all this time is without bit or rein or trappings of any sort. Mr. Carroll's second number is with six fiery Arabian stallions who drill, march and go through military evolutions with the precision of trained soldiers. Norris & Rowe will exhibit at Salem, April 27.

"Trial by Jury" to Be Repeated.

Owing to the success of the high school musical comedy, the "Trial by Jury" which was given recently and to the many requests that the production be given again Dr. Epley and the performers have decided to put the little opera on again soon. The program will probably be revised and strengthened in various places and owing to the experience gained in the first production the entertainment will be a very enjoyable affair even for those who have seen the former creditable effort.

"Pneumonia's Deadly Work

Had so seriously affected my right lung," writes Mrs. Fannie Connor, of Rural Route 1, Georgetown, Tenn., "that I coughed continuously night and day and the neighbors' prediction—consumption—seemed inevitable, until my husband brought home a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, which in my case proved to be the only real cough cure and restorer of weak, sore lungs." When all other remedies utterly fail, you may still win in the battle against lung and throat troubles with New Discovery, the real cure. Guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

A New "Mary" Song.

"Mary Casey" is the latest addition to the popular Mary family of song hits. It was written by Lute Johnson, a Colorado newspaper man, for the minstrel show of the Denver Press club, and immediately sprang into popularity. It is speeding over the country on the professional stage and fast turning every whistle to the tantalizing waltz rhythm of it chorus. The publishers are the Tolbert R. Ingram Music Co., Denver, and the song can be had by mail at 25 cents a copy.

Cured Rheumatism.

Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale at Dr. Stone's drug store.

The committee of the whole then rose and Alderman Stockton reported the action of the committee, and moved the adoption of their report, authorizing the city to enter into a contract with the construction company to do the work. On Established Grade.

The trustees of the Willamette University were instructed to put the cement sidewalk that is to be built on State street, between Twelfth and Winter streets, on the grade established by the city ordinance. This will necessitate the removal of the trees along the walk, which caused some discussion.

A request of J. J. Murphy to remodel his building on State street, which is now occupied by a Chinese tenant, into a fish market, was left to the committee on fire and water, after a lively discussion. The matter will be taken up at the regular meeting on May 6th.

The improvement of Seventh street between Market and Gaines avenue was placed in the hands of the committee having charge of the North Salem street improvements.

A petition from the residents on the east side of Seventeenth street, from "A" to Market, providing for the laying of a five-foot board walk, was referred to the committee on streets for consideration.

A resolution for the improvement of Seventh street, in North Salem, from the north boundary line of Market street to the point where Seventh street intersects the fair grounds road, and providing for the grading and graveling of that portion of the highway was considered favorably by the council, and the matter was referred to the committee having charge of the North Salem street improvements.
