BOARD OF TRADE TO GET NEW HOME
 It is entirely possible that in the very near future the Salem Board of Trade will have a permanent and up-to-date home. Two owners of property on Liberty street will erect a modern building at once and both are anxious to have the Board of Trade as a tenant. Besides these the owner of the building which is at present occupied by the board is willing to remodel it and add another story to it if the boosters will remain at the present location on State street. Just what will be done in the matter will be decided at the meeting of the Board of Trade tomorrow night.

Frank Hughes and Frank Durbin, who own the lot between the new D'Arcy theater and the telephone building are seriously considering the construction of a modern two-story building at that place. The owners of the building now occupied by the Spencer Hardware company on State and Liberty street intend to remodel that structure, and to install several first class store rooms on the Liberty street side of the building. The Spencer Hardware company will occupy the ground floor of the new Durbin-Hughes building. There are, therefore, two locations open to the Board of Trade—the first floor of the Gray building, and the second floor of the Hughes-Durbin building.

Another matter that will be settled this evening is the offer of the Portland Railway, Light & Power to furnish the necessary current for the electric streamers on State, Court and Commercial street. The offer is very reasonable, and there is little doubt that it will be accepted and that the light will burn every night, beginning next Wednesday.

PENDLETON SUFFERED CONSIDERABLY FROM FIRE
 (East Oregonian.)
 Since the first of August approximately $85,000 worth of Pendleton property has gone up in smoke and the city has paid out $1000 to its fire fighters.
 "If the city had been equipped with proper fire apparatus, which would cost about $10,000," said Fire Chief John Vaughan this morning, "we could probably have saved half of that loss. Furthermore, if we had such apparatus, insurance rates in the city would be 4 per cent lower and property owners would have between $6000 and $7000 annually in insurance premiums."
 For years the firemen of the city have been asking for better apparatus and regularly their requests have been denied by the city on the ground of economy. But during the past month the record of the department shows that it would have been more economical had their recommendations been granted.

If anyone believes that Pendleton has an inexpensive fire department, because it is a volunteer organization, he is sadly mistaken. Within the past month the firemen have earned approximately $1000 in wages. Every time the fire bell rings, under our present "economical system" it costs the city at least $30 and if the central companies turn out in force, $45. Since the first of August the department has been called upon eight times and there has been practically 1000 hours of fire fighting. Firemen are paid a dollar an hour and when they turn out they are given credit for an hour's work even if they are not needed. They deserve it, and more besides, because their work is hard and often times dangerous.

The Alta house fire cost the city $300, the seven hose companies and the hook and ladder company all being called out, approximately 10 men to the company. The Wilcox Christian church fire was more expensive, the entire department being out and working 375 hours. The smaller fires occurring during the month have also cost the city money. None has cost less than $30 and most of them have cost from $40 to $60. It cost the city $30 to investigate the smoke at the Hohbach bakery Saturday night for three companies were called out and responded.

If Fire Chief Vaughan had his way the city would secure a chemical auto engine, would employ one capable man to run the same and would install an electric alarm system. These things would mean expense, perhaps to the extent of $10,000.
 But the improvements would mean that in cases of fire an alarm could be given quickly and accurately. Only the necessary companies would be called out. An auto engine and driver would get into action quickly and therein lies the secret of fire-fighting. If the department had been properly equipped the fire at the Golden Rule stable would probably have never gotten beyond that structure. But when the firemen sleep at their own homes and have to rush to the fire station and drag their hose carts out by hand, how can really prompt work be expected?

 According to the fire chief, J. C. Stone, manager of the Pacific board of underwriters, has assured him that if the department were equipped as outlined above insurance rates in the city would be lowered 14 per cent. This being true, what would be done?

COOS BAY VETERANS AND PIONEERS MEET
 (Coos Bay Times.)
 After one of the most successful and enjoyable reunions in years, the Southern Oregon Veterans association of Coos county and the Coos County Pioneers association adjourned at Coquille last evening after electing officers and selecting Marshfield as the next meeting place. Dr. C. W. Tower of Marshfield was honored by being elected president of both organizations for the ensuing year.

It had been previously planned to hold the next annual meeting in the grove on the old Hermann homestead and make it a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of the famous Baltimore colony in the Coquille valley, but when Dr. Tower presented the joint invitations from the Marshfield chamber of commerce and Marshfield city council, it was unanimously decided to accept them. Instead of concerting the reunions into a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of the Baltimore colony, the latter event will be celebrated separately by a picnic at the homestead of Dr. Henry H. Hermann who lead the Baltimore colony into the Coquille valley. It is thought that the four generations of the colony will be in attendance at the picnic, making about 200 in all.

Yesterday noon, the citizens of Coquille entertained the visitors at a banquet at which Hon. Binger Hermann was the principal speaker.

Wm. H. Schroeder, the permanent secretary and treasurer of the Pioneers association, was instructed to compile a roster of the living pioneers and a memorial of those who have passed to the Great Beyond.

The pioneers elected the following officers:
 President—Dr. C. W. Tower.
 Vice president—B. F. Ross.
 Assistant secretary—Mrs. Mary E. Smith.
 Historian—Orvil Dodge.
 The veterans elected the following officers:
 President—Dr. C. W. Tower.
 Senior vice-commander—C. E. Zeek.
 Junior vice commander—R. W. Lundy.
 Adjutant—W. E. Thorpe.
 Quartermaster—Simon Miller.
 Chaplain—R. B. B. Paul.

The Center of Population.
 "The center of population, now in Indiana, is traveling straight toward the middle point of Illinois. The center of manufacturing has reached yet only eastern Ohio, but is marching in a beeline for Chicago."

This, the Illinois boast, is perhaps with somewhat rare coincident the truth; and that state, in more than one meaning, is to be the controlling heart of the United States. Therefore it is of vital as well as curious interest for New Englanders—fast becoming mere onlookers in the national administration—to examine and, so to speak, to auscultate this organ which will increasingly regulate the body politic.
 Illinois drips fatness. Its black, oozy soil which eagerly devours one's shoes, its corn that, refined by selective processes, almost exudes oil; its hogs that can scarcely see through the deep folds of their unctuous envelope; its beefsteaks, pork chops, and corn cakes glistening from the ceaseless sizzling of the frying pan; its very speech, with mouthed syllables and exaggregated Rs.—all are fat with a fatness almost indecent to the spare New Englander.
 Moreover the oleaginous carnival seems only just begun. Fertilizers and nitrogen-collectors are making the sand-dunes blossom; swamp-draining and well-digging are equalizing conditions of moisture; rotation of crops is averting possible soil exhaustion; while scientific breeding is enriching the corn at will, and is blanketing the corn-fed hog with ever thicker layers of obesity.—James P. Munroe in the September Atlantic.

The Story of a Medicine.
 Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery"—was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.
 Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the strongest endorsement from the leading medical authorities. The following are a few of the best names who recommend them as the best remedy for the diseases for which "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised.
 A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, laryngitis, or hang-on-coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.
