JOY COMETH IN THE MORNING TO ETTOR'S MOTHER

TACOMA, Wn., Nov. 29.—(Special) News may edit for a night, but joy cometh in the morning. "quoted Mrs. Maudie Ettor, in Dublin, today when seen by reporters who had been waiting for twenty-four hours to find out what she had to say about the acquittal of her son Joe Ettor, the strike leader who gained his freedom yesterday at Salem. "I knew my boy was innocent, and now I want him to come home to papa and me. We've getting old and we need him," she said. There was a reason for her absence from home yesterday—she had gone to a neighbor's to avoid being disturbed, so she could sleep, and Joe's father was away at work. All through the long night while the jury, which held her boy's life in their hands was out, Mrs. Ettor prayed for the freedom of her baby—for to his mother, his strong Joe Ettor, leader of men, is still the prattling boy of yesterday, and at dawn she was rewarded with the message: "Liberty completa per tutti trees—Lunara Figliade," which translated is: "Complete liberty for the three of us—your son."

The mother was on her knees when the messenger boy knocked, and she staggered to her feet, as Joe's father tremblingly tore open the yellow envelope and read the words of cheer. Clung in each other's arms they walked into the room, which used to be Joe's, knelt beside a little bed and offered up their thanksgiving. On the way to work at the telegraph office Mr. Ettor filed the message: "Senna in novita eoa mama—Tuo Padre," meaning: "Mamma and I have started on a new life—your father."

Make your cut glass sparkle with GOLD DUST

Soap leaves a greasy film on glass, which is hard to remove; the following method of washing will, however, make glass crystal clear: Take a wooden tub, or pad the metal sink with soiled glass-linen towels, or any soft piece of cotton. Wash the glass in warm suds, made by dissolving a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder in a pan of hot water; use a soft brush to clean surface, then rinse in water of the same temperature. After the glass has been carefully dried on glass linen, use a camel's hair brush to polish the cut surface. The Gold Dust Twins Make the Whole World Blink. Do not use Soap, Naphtha, Borax, Soda, Ammonia or Kerosene with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has all desirable cleaning qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form. "Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work!"

NEED OF WATER GREATER THAN SCENERY NEED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—When Secretary of the Interior Fisher remarked here today that he would disregard the effect upon scenery creation in arriving at a verdict in the Hetch Hetchy project, Mayor James Rolph, Jr., and other San Franciscans were confident that their fight to supply the Pacific Coast metropolis with water from this source was as good as won. The principal objection to the plan to provide San Francisco with its water from the Hetch Hetchy valley has come from nature lovers, who have argued that the natural beauty of the valley would be spoiled by the project. Secretary Fisher's position in the matter came during his cross examination of Allen Hazen, a sanitary engineer. He made it plain that he would base his decision on whether, without curtailing the rights of campers in the upper watershed, the water supply could be kept sufficiently pure. Hazen's testimony was strongly in favor of San Francisco. He declared that 20,000 campers would not pollute the water supply. Asked the difference in cost between the Hetch Hetchy project and that of the next best supply, Hazen declared it would cost $20,000,000 less for San Francisco to get its supply from the valley. Marie Cahill may appear in a new musical comedy.
