

RANGERS DISCUSS FOREST PROBLEMS AND LEARN MUCH

With over sixty guardians of Uncle Sam's timber lands in this section in attendance, the convention of forest rangers and officials which opened Wednesday in this city continued its sessions today, a general discussion of forestry problems coming before the men. Matters tending to instruct the men in their various duties are being gone over thoroughly and much good is being derived from the convention. Rangers and officials of four forests, Crater, Siskiyou, Klamath and Shasta, are in attendance.

The morning session today was devoted to logging operations. A general discussion followed a short address by Supervisor Erickson in which many of the rangers joined.

The meetings will continue until Saturday evening.

Friday the discussions will be led by T. D. Woodbury of the district office at San Francisco, and will treat of stumpage, reforestation, selling agreements and planting for second growths.

Saturday, the closing day of the convention, Cort DuBois, district forester, with headquarters at San Francisco, will be the principal speaker, treating of the subject of fire protection and general efficiency of the service.

PRINCIPALS INVOLVED IN COASTING ACCIDENT AT VASSAR.

As a result of the drowning of Miss Elizabeth B. Mylod, twenty years old, a Vassar student, and the narrow escape of four others when a toboggan on which they were coasting down Sunset Hill, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., plunged into a lake back of the college, all social and athletic activities at the college have ceased.

Miss Myra Hulst, who sat next to Miss Mylod when the toboggan leaped out of its course and tumbled down the embankment into the lake, was more seriously affected than the others who were rescued. This is due largely to her efforts to save her companions in the lake.

Professor George B. Shattuck, who, with Miss Phoebe Briggs, ran out of one of the college buildings when they heard the girls screaming, is confined to his room. For several minutes after the four girls were rescued the professor dived about in the lake in hopes of saving Miss Mylod. Miss Briggs is confined to her room also.

REBEL CHIEFTANS TO TALK PEACE

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 20.—General Inez Salazar, David Delafuenta and Emilio Vasquez Gomez, leaders of northern rebels, today are en route to Juarez, near where they will confer with emissaries of Provisional President Huerta of Mexico. The rebel chieftains say if Huerta will make Gomez and Delafuenta members of his cabinet, General Salazar, chief of rurals, and pay each of the rebel soldiers 100 pesos each, that the rebellion probably will end.

The federal garrisons of Northern Mexico have accepted Huerta as head of the government except at Chihuahua and Nogales.

WEST WINS LAND FOR SCHOOL FUND

SALEM, Feb. 20.—After six years of effort and waiting, the reward for one of the many fights he and his predecessor in office have made in behalf of the common school fund of the state came to Governor West today in the form of a patent from the United States giving the state a clear title to about 7000 acres of indemnity school lands in the Lakeview district.

Of the 7000 acres for which patent had been received, 4000 acres were involved in fraudulent selections. The title to the lands was in dispute. Under the direction of Governor Chamberlain, Oswald West, then state land agent, about six years ago, began to dig into the records of these selections. He found them tainted. His activity made many who were back of the dummy selectors afraid to continue with their deal and keep up the payments.

About the same time A. Walter Lafferty as a special agent of the government made an investigation of the lands involved. He then resigned and began practice as a land attorney. He took the cases of some of the men who were trying to secure these lands from the state. He attacked Chamberlain and West through the columns of the Portland Telegram. During the campaign, efforts were made to make it appear that Chamberlain was connected in some way with land frauds. The paper abused Chamberlain over the matter.

PROSECUTOR NOW IS TAKING GREAT INTEREST IN BOYS

E. E. Kelly, probation officer, and friend of the kiddies.

That's the way it reads now, for the prosecuting attorney has taken up the duties of probation officer for Jackson county and henceforth will devote a great deal of his time in straightening out the careers of the youngsters who run foul of the law. The Oregon law provides for a probation officer and juvenile court, the latter presided over by the county judge, but owing to a lack of funds no probation officer has been appointed. So Mr. Kelly decided to take up the work himself, and he now has six youngsters reporting regularly to him once a week.

"There is a vast amount of work to be done here," states Mr. Kelly, "and I feel that it is of the utmost importance. The youngsters often run foul of the law through no malicious reasoning, and their cases, if dealt with in a proper manner, really do not prove serious. Every time a youngster gets in bad now, he is taken before the juvenile court, and committed to my care. I watch him and if there is an inclination on his part to straighten up, I help him, and give him full opportunity. I hope to accomplish much along this line."

THIEVES GET COIN COMING TO PAY

TAFT, Cal., Feb. 20.—While Johnny McCarthy of San Francisco and Billy Murray of Sacramento battled twenty vicious rounds for a percentage of the "gate" receipts, Izzy Rehfeld who promoted the battle, was held up by two masked and armed thugs in the box office of the fight pavilion and robbed of $1300, the entire receipts, according to Rehfeld's complaint to the authorities today.

Rehfeld was counting his cash as the spectators cheered the furious rallies in the arena, when he looked up into the barrels of two guns in the hands of the robbers.

"Remember the boys in the ring," pleaded Rehfeld when he was ordered to pass over the cash. "They are working hard for a piece of this coin."

With an oath, one of the bandits swept the coin into a sack and escaped.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

I omitted to state in my last that Mrs. Howard Fox of Portland, but formerly of this place, was here last week on her way to her mother's farm on Big Butte.

Mr. Nellis, who owns the Fionnee Rock farm and has been spending several days in Medford, came out last week accompanied by Mr. J. S. Harpole and J. E. Swining and spent the night with us on their way up to his ranch.

A. W. Bradshaw, superintendent of the Rogue River Commercial Orchard, was in town Monday getting supplies. He reports that he has lots of work to do and that everything is progressing finely.

We had a little excitement in our town last Monday afternoon when L. K. Haak's team came dashing down through town at breakneck speed without a driver. He had driven up to the back door of the depot and left them "just a minute" to see about some freight, when they took advantage of his absence and started for home. This is the second time they have run away from the depot I understand.

A company of surveyors came out Tuesday morning to lay out a new county road through the A. J. Daley place, running east through the old Williscroft place, thence south to intersect the county road from Medford to Brownsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wilson of Medford and their son, Irvin, of Marysville, California, he being a telegraph operator in the S. P. railroad office there, came out to look up a five-acre tract of land they had traded for, and while here called on your Eagle Point correspondent.

Charles Pruett, one of our progressive farmers, living along the P. & E. railroad just below town, was doing business here Tuesday.

In my Eaglets published Tuesday I made a mistake in reporting the accident at the Buzzard mine and gave the name of Mr. Stacy instead of Strong as being one of the men caught in the tunnel.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hoyt of Klamath Falls and Mrs. G. H. Shaw and her four children of Fairview came in to attend the funeral of their sister and aunt, Agnes Love Howlett, last Friday; also Rev. Mark C. Davis came from Wolf Creek to conduct the funeral services.

MARRIED.

W. Tyler Smith, Jr. of Medford and Miss Stella Hocker of Lampasas, Tex., were married at the First Presbyterian church in Portland, at 8 o'clock last night, the Rev. John H. Boyd, D. D., officiating. Friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present. They will spend a short honeymoon in the north and make their home in this city.

Both young people are well known in this city and have a wide circle of friends in the Rogue River valley. The groom is circulation manager of the Morning Sun, and the bride was formerly connected with the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company.

The marriage was the culmination of a romance that began last summer.

MANY TO ATTEND IRRIGATION MEET NEXT SATURDAY

The committee of the Medford Commercial club and Medford Merchants' association having in charge the arrangements for the big irrigation meeting to be held next Saturday afternoon at the Natatorium, reports that a large delegation of citizens will be on hand from the many sections of the valley, interest in the topic being great. Medford citizens will turn out in force to discuss the matter.

The valley seems awake to the possibilities of irrigation at the present time in a greater degree than at any time heretofore. The proposition of the Rogue River Valley Canal company to increase its service providing enough acreage is secured, is meeting with favor. It is believed that the big meeting Saturday will add greatly to the impetus of the movement.

Baldheaded Row

Early Piety Not Always the Cause of Baldness

Inasmuch as it is an accepted fact that baldness, falling hair and dandruff are caused by a germ, doesn't it stand to reason that the only way to prevent such calamities is to kill the germs?

And doesn't it stand to reason that the only way to kill these germs is to use Parisian Sage, which Chas. Strang has so much faith in that he guarantees it to cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back?

Parisian Sage is a delightful hair tonic pleasant to use. It is not sticky or greasy, and contains only those ingredients that will surely benefit.

It is now sold by druggists all over America, and by Chas. Strang for 50 cents a large bottle. It is used extensively by women who desire lustrous hair with a radiant luster. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

In regard to skin diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all ectematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT.
A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D.D.D. Prescription. This penetrates to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 50 cent bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this D.D.D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there, and we want you to try it now on our positive pay guarantee. D.D.D. Soap keeps the pores clean; ask us.
