

CAPITAL READY FOR INAUGURAL CELEBRATION

Half Million Men in Parade Tomorrow—Taft Spends Day Preparing to Leave—Bryan Cheered Upon Arrival—Hotels Jammed by Visitors

Wilson Says Cabinet is Provisionally Complete—Lane to Be Secretary of Interior

BALTIMORE, Md., March 3.—Franklin K. Lane is to be secretary of the interior in Wilson's cabinet and Justice Lindley M. Garrison of the supreme court of New Jersey, is to be secretary of war, according to information obtained aboard Wilson's private car here this afternoon. The statement was made by persons who ostensibly had received the information from Wilson himself.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 3.—"My cabinet is provisionally complete," said President-Elect Wilson today as his special train sped toward Washington. "But, of course, you cannot tell that some changes may not be taken at the last minute. I expect to send in the list tomorrow if the senate is sitting. I shall find out that in Washington. If the senate is not in session tomorrow, I shall send in my nominations Wednesday."

Washington Prepared.
WASHINGTON, March 3.—"All done," in its best "how do you do" trimmings, Washington is prepared today for the inauguration here tomorrow of Woodrow Wilson as president of the United States. The last bit of decoration has been put in place, the hotels are jammed with visitors and hundreds more are pouring in on every train. President-Elect Wilson arrived late this afternoon.

President Taft spent the day winding up business affairs, saying farewell to friends and preparing the White house for the Wilsons. The president-elect's relatives are at the Shoreham hotel and there will be a reunion at a family dinner there tonight. Vice President-Elect Marshall is also at the Shoreham and he and Wilson will confer there briefly tonight.

Biggest Parade in History.
The parade tomorrow will be the biggest in the history of Washington. It was predicted today that at least 500,000 persons will be jammed along the line of march. Most of the marching organizations already are here.

Sleeping space is at a premium and the task of caring for the visitors is a serious one. As high as $10 is offered for cots in the corridors of the hotels.

Just before the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson tomorrow, President Taft will go to the capitol and sign the final enactments of the session.

GOVERNOR WEST WHACKS WITH AX ROGUE FISH BILL

SALEM, Ore., March 3.—In vetoing the Rogue river fish bill, Governor West said:

"This bill attempts to repeal a law passed by the people under the initiative in the year 1910. At this election there was 49,712 votes cast for and 33,397 votes cast against the measure, it thus having a clear majority of 16,315 votes. It carried in 24 counties of the state.

"Since the election of 1910 another election by the people has been held in 1912, and there was no effort put forth by anyone to have the law either amended or repealed at this later election. Considering these and other circumstances I do not believe that the legislature at this time should attempt to make such a radical change in the law."

The veto has not yet been filed but is expected to be today.

TABLEAUX SHOW HISTORY STRUGGLE MADE FOR BALLOT

Seven Hundred Women in Symbolical Scenes of Woman's Long Fight for Recognition—Cold Weather for the Bare Foot Maids

WASHINGTON, March 3.—An impressive series of tableaux representing woman's demand for equal rights was staged in the open air on the treasury department portico simultaneous with the parade. Some of the most famous of American women participated in this demonstration.

Seven hundred women participated in the symbolical tableaux, which were designed to show woman's struggle for the ballot.

As the blast of the bugle died away, Hedwig Reicher, New York actress and suffragette, attired as "Columbia," in the national colors and a "Liberty cap," stepped slowly from the shadows of the giant marble pillars on the porch of the treasury. She appeared to hear the approach of the procession—the crusade of women—and summoned to her side "Justice," "Charity," "Liberty," "Peace" and "Hope," all represented by prominent suffragettes attired in artistic flowing draperies. Miss Florence Fleming Noyes, celebrated New York society belle and dancer, represented "Liberty." "Justice," blindfold and carrying the proverbial scales, was represented by Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of the secretary of agriculture. "Hope" was represented by Miss Mildred Anderson, a prominent society bud of New York. "Charity" was Mary Shaw, the New York actress.

Several pretty young suffragettes appearing in nebulous garb to form the tableaux, braved pneumonia because of the biting cold. Mildred Anderson, impersonating "Hope," and Florence Noyes, impersonating "Liberty," appeared barefooted. Some of the characters wore gauzy garments, but declared they also wore woolen underwear.

The weather was clear and the grandstands filled early. The biggest hit was made by 75 Illinois women who wore white broadcloth suits trimmed with gold.

FISHER REFUSES BAY CITY WATER

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Flat refusal of the request of San Francisco for the privilege of using the water rights of the Hetch Hetchy valley for the city's water supply was made here today by Secretary of the Interior Fisher.

Fisher took the position that he could not grant the permit because of an act of February 15, 1901, which he said, did not give him the right to act.

"Unofficially," he said, "I am in sympathy with the San Francisco project, but under the law I am powerless to take a hand."

NEW YORK, March 3.—Firing on clerks in the Broadway jewelry store near the busy corner of Forty-eighth street just after midnight, three taxicab bandits took $9,000 in loot and fled.

As the robbers rushed out of the store four detectives on the opposite side of the street pulled their guns and for a few seconds bullets flew.

PHONE WORKERS WILL NOT STRIKE ASSERT OFFICIALS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 3.—All danger of a strike of electrical workers in the employ of the Pacific States Telegraph and Telephone company, in the states of Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho and Washington has passed, according to union officials today. They say that an agreement has been reached with the company and that while it is still to be voted upon by the men, there is little doubt that trouble has been averted.

While the controversy over the workers' demand for a wage increase from $3.75 to $4.25 a day still is not entirely settled, relations are in much better shape than they have been for several weeks.

WILSON GIVEN ROUSING SEND-OFF BY HOME TOWN

PRINCETON, N. J., March 3.—Giving way to his emotions, Woodrow Wilson wept when he left for Washington today to be inaugurated president of the United States. The farewell given New Jersey's former governor by all Princeton stood on the platform of his observation car mopping his eyes with one hand and waving farewell with the other.

Princeton forgot all about politics today and gave Wilson a rousing send-off. As the train drew away, a long line of students and townspeople, including many women and children, stood at the station and sang "Old Nassau."

Before leaving Princeton Wilson and Mrs. Wilson visited Mrs. Anna Ricketts, their next door neighbor, who is ill and could not come to the Wilson home to say farewell.

Included in the Wilson party was Mrs. Wilson and daughters, Mrs. Wilson's brother, Stockton Axon, and her cousins, Fitzwilliam McMasters and Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Bones, three servants and two secret service men.

10,000 WOMEN ASK FOR VOTES IN GAY PARADE

Suffragists Capture Capitol in Most Elaborate Demonstration in World's History—Costumed in Dazzling White, Led by Society Leaders

Senators, Congressmen and Statesmen March With Women—Pennsylvania Avenue a Gay Sight

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Ten thousand marchers today joined in the demand for votes for women in the most elaborate suffrage demonstration in the world's history. Suffragettes literally captured the capitol today. They did not overshadow the inaugural ceremonies tomorrow. From all parts of the country and from distant lands, every conceivable class of women was represented—every type, every profession, every age.

There were three distinct features to the demonstration—the parade, a series of tableaux on the treasury department steps, and, tonight, a series of mass meetings.

Garbed in Dazzling White.
Women and girls in dazzling, white flowing robes, on horse and afoot, marshalled the forces of equal rights. Mounted on an immense white charger, in a long, loose yellow tunic, carrying a gilded trumpet, was Miss Inez Milholland, the celebrated New York suffragette leader. She was the herald.

Flower of American womanhood joined in the celebration. Society leaders in hundreds from all cities trudged sturdily beside humble housewives. Actresses, opera singers and professional women whose names are known in every country joined with enthusiasm. Senators, congressmen and leaders of civic and political life of the nation marched with the women.

Pennsylvania avenue, from the capitol to the White House was seething with densely packed humanity. Grandstands erected for the inauguration ceremonies tomorrow were jammed with spectators.

Literature Distributed.
Flags, pennants, buttons, handbills, posters and banners of myriad colors, combined with the costumes of the marchers, gave "The Avenue" a kaleidoscope appearance. Tons of suffrage literature were distributed. Streets and sidewalks were trampled with printed appeal for the ballot. Lusty-lipped women held impromptu suffrage speakers at street corners.

LANE IN CABINET IS LATEST RUMOR FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, March 3.—There is every reason to believe that the Pacific coast will be represented in President-elect Woodrow Wilson's cabinet by Franklin K. Lane of California as secretary of the interior. Lane is at present chairman of the interstate commerce commission. Although he refused today to affirm or deny his appointment, it was learned from an authoritative source that Wilson has already received Lane's acceptance.

Close friends of Wilson say the cabinet now is complete, and that it will stand as follows:

- Secretary of state, William J. Bryan.
- Secretary of the treasury, William G. McAdoo.
- Attorney general, J. C. McReynolds.
- Secretary of commerce, W. C. Redfield.
- Secretary of war, Lindley M. Garrison.
- Secretary of the navy, Josephus Daniels.
- Secretary of the interior, Franklin K. Lane.
- Secretary of agriculture, David C. Houston.
- Secretary of labor, William Wilson.
- Postmaster general, Albert Bursell.
