MOTHER JONES—AN HEROIC FIGURE.

WEST VIRGINIA has long been a rotten borough for the big interests. They have controlled the politics of the state as they have its industry. They have bought and sold legislators as they would cattle and have ruthlessly driven the toilers as if they, too, were mere beasts of burden.

Nowhere in America are conditions worse for labor than in the trust owned and operated mines of West Virginia, where for years mine guards with clubs and rifles have ruled camps. What Carnegie and the steel trust have done for iron workers of Pennsylvania, the coal barons have done for the miners of their section. Child labor is only one of many oppressive practices.

The courtmartial of "Mother Jones," whose offense consisted in leading the strikers to the capitol to demand justice from the governor, has been in progress for some time. Her speeches telling the miners that they were entitled to better wages, better hours, better conditions, have been styled incendiary. With 49 miners, her life, along with theirs, is in the balance, before a military tribunal.

Mother Jones is described as a "bent and white-haired old woman, who hobbles around with a cane." Past 80 years of age, her voice is a cracked treble. Yet she is the idol of the miners, whose conditions she has spent her life in bettering.

The strike in the coal fields has resulted in bitter strife. There have been bloody battles. Mine guards, gunmen of the coal barons, against whom Mother Jones protested, have been killed. Martial law rules the district and martial law has seized and tried Mother Jones.

Mother Jones is one of the heroic figures of our time. Few have done more for humanity. Her life has been spent in trying to elevate mankind and improve its condition. Fanatic though she be, it is the fanaticism of John Brown protesting against human wrong.

Mother Jones refused counsel. She declined to recognize the right of the military court to try her. She exclaimed: "I have only a few more years to live. What's the difference? My execution would bring to the attention of the nation the condition in the mines of West Virginia. Therefore I am content to die."

Although effort is made to reach the persons "higher up" among miners, no effort is made to touch men "higher up" among operators. Merchants accused of shipping supplies and ammunition to the miners have had their books examined. There has been no examination of the books of the operators, although machine guns were used on workmen.

Fifty miners were arrested—no mine guard or coal operator has been arrested, although many of the battles were begun by the guards and over a dozen strikers were killed. And so the unequal and unfair struggle goes on—but, though Mother Jones be shot, the cause for which she struggles will eventually triumph.

EDWIN D. ROOT IS TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Edwin D. Root, probably one of the best known citizens of Medford, was taken to the Sacred Heart hospital this morning. It is believed that Mr. Root is suffering from pneumonia. His temperature this morning, when he was taken to the hospital, was 103. Physicians believe that he faces a serious illness.

Mr. Root has lived in Medford and vicinity for the past forty years and is 67 years of age. He numbers his friends by the score.

"Ed," as he is familiarly known, refused to leave for the hospital Thursday morning until he had found a home for his dog, "Snyder," who is at his side constantly. With Snyder cared for "Ed" entered the ambulance and left for the hospital.

JOLTS AND JINGLES By Ad Brown

The might of man is puny And science but a toy. The hand of nature sets at naught All arts that men employ.

And all may man's proud city, Built by his sweat and blood, Withstand the shock of nature When loosened in a flood.

Still man may only wonder In terror, faith or awe, The great eternal "wherefore?" The riddle, or the law?

PRINCESS WHO WARNS AGAINST ORIENTAL MARRIAGE

"For the east is east and the west is west, and never the twain shall meet," blithely sang the Princess Ibrahim Hassan as she reached the United States on her way to visit relatives in California. The princess' name was Olga Humphrey, and she was born in California. But she went on the stage and played with Melbourne MacDowell in "La Tosca," later going into "The Man From Mexico."

Prince Ibrahim Hassan, a cousin of the khedive of Egypt, saw her and was conquered. He pursued her till she married him. Then her troubles began. The naive oriental, who had been nothing but politeness and consideration before marriage, at once let her know that she was to assume the role of most oriental wives. In order to prove, while they were on a trip to Paris, that he was the master she said, he struck her. Then he fled.

"I want to let American girls know what is in store for them when they are thinking about marrying orientals," she said. "It is absolutely impossible for the oriental and the occidental to understand each other."

FLOOD FATALITIES AT PERU STILL UNKNOWN

PERU, Ind., March 27.—The flood fatalities are still unknown here. Bodies are seen floating through the streets hourly, and it is reported that twenty corpses have floated to Logansport. Logansport reports that many perished there. Thousands seek seclusion in the churches and school-houses there.

"Mother was a beauty in her younger days." Mother may smile deprecatingly—but—Watch her go to the little top drawer and take out the precious photograph "taken before I was married." Chances are she will also tell you of her admirers. And who can believe they were many.

What a priceless record of her younger charms that photograph is to mother, and—to you. Modern photography can do infinitely more to preserve the record of youth.

"I am the Photographer in your town."

CAMPAIGN FOR ROADS TO START

A campaign for good roads in Jackson county under the new bonding act is to be started at a luncheon to be given by the Medford Commercial club Thursday, April 3. At that time ways and means will be discussed. Other organizations of the valley will be invited to attend. The plan was decided upon at a meeting of the commercial club held Wednesday evening.

Considerable attention was paid at the meeting to the matter of trading at home. Mrs. Edith Toyler Weathered, representing the Oregon Manufacturers' association spoke.

Distribution of the Medford booklet was discussed and it was decided to send a large number to Tacoma and Seattle for the coming excursion.

The Commercial club took steps to suitably entertain delegates to the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F. which meets here in May.

Revival Services.

The revival services at the Free Methodist church, corner 10th and Ivy streets, continue with increasing interest. Several have been clearly converted. Rev. Glazier will preach each evening and Sunday. The meetings will probably continue next week.
