

MRS. PANKHURST FACES 14 YEAR TERM IN PRISON

LONDON, April 1.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, dauntless leader of the militant suffragettes and perhaps the best known woman in England, will tomorrow face the stern visage of the law in the Old Bailey. This time the often prosecuted and much jailed chiefess of the hashi-bazoukesses, as she has been sardonically dubbed by the crowd, faces 14 years' imprisonment.

She is charged with inciting to malicious destruction of property, and it is generally accepted that King George himself is behind the prosecution. Mrs. Pankhurst was arrested for alleged instigation of the bomb plot that partly wrecked the new country home of Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd George, at Walton Heath, and her arrest came immediately after Home Secretary Reginald McKenna left a private audience with the king.

The trial tomorrow marks a crucial point in the battle for the ballot waged by British women. Its outcome depends their right of suffrage. In deciding the fate of Mrs. Pankhurst the magistrates of Old Bailey indirectly will decide whether the women who blew up Lloyd George's house, burned down the country seat of Lady White, demolished New Gardens and smashed innumerable windows, were merely malicious miscreants in the eyes of the law or were honorable revolutionists fighting for their rights.

If the suffragette is convicted, it will be out of her own mouth. The crown's main evidence against her is her own utterances at Cardiff, Wales the day after the Walton Heath explosion. In her speech Mrs. Pankhurst declared that she would gladly assume all responsibility for the bomb, and the police of Cardiff, at the behest of Home Secretary McKenna, made a stenographic copy of Mrs. Pankhurst's remarks.

MEDFORD YOUTH IS MOST PERFECT MAN

The most perfect man the local marine office has yet enlisted is the description of John Leslie, age 22, a painter from Medford, Ore., made by Corporal H. E. Rogers of the local marine recruiting staff, says the Spokane Spokesman Review.

"Leslie stands five feet 11 inches and weighs 170 pounds stripped. His upper chest expansion is 10 inches and the lower chest expansion is seven and one-half inches," said Corporal Rogers yesterday afternoon.

"My work is so unsteady that I spent in idle days all that I earned while I was working," said Leslie yesterday, explaining his reasons for enlisting. "I decided that in the service I could at least save a little and be sure of it."

"Leslie is almost sure of advancing to a sergeant in his four-year term," added Corporal Rogers. "In addition to his physical perfection, he graduated with honors from the Medford Ore., high school."

2.14 INCHES OF RAIN SHORT IN MONTH OF MARCH

The Rogue River valley, according to figures compiled by Prof. O'Garra for the month of March, is short 2.14 inches of rainfall. The rain for the month was 43 inches. The mean average for March is 2.57, making a deficiency for the last thirty days of 2.14 inches.

For the period from September 1 to April 1, there was a rainfall of 11.79 inches, about half that of other years. The average rain for this period is 22.66 inches, leaving a shortage of 10.87 inches. March, 1912, was one of the driest March's in the weather annals of the Rogue River valley.

Should April rainfall show as heavy a deficiency as the last month, the farmers and fruitgrowers will feel the effect in the summer months when the stored moisture in the ground is brought into use. Should weather conditions be such as to partially make up the deficiency in rainfall, during this month it will also have a deterrent effect on the growing and budding crops.

ARBITRATION IN LABOR DISPUTES TO BE COMPULSORY

PARIS, April 1.—Compulsory arbitration between capital and labor toward which France has been struggling for so many years has within the past week loomed as a decided probability of the very near future.

Alexander Millerand, acknowledged as one of the greatest war ministers under the third republic, has taken his broad shoulder from the cannon's wheel and thrown it into the movement for industrial peace. After mapping out a gigantic increase, numerically, for the French army and commanding a credit of more than one hundred million dollars to equip it, he resigned from the Poincare cabinet on the most palatable technicality and immediately set himself to work against strife at home. As a result there is now before the Chamber of Deputies a bill of his framing, providing for obligatory arbitration. Millerand, devoting his entire effort to championing the measure, has a good prospect of seeing it become a law in the present session.

In Millerand's opinion strife and bloodshed will continue in the clashes between employers and employees so long as either can put down a stubborn foot and refuse to arbitrate. Consequently with the same vigor with which he jerked the French army out of its lethargy and caused all Europe to marvel, he has enlisted in the cause of internal peace.

BARNES CIRCUS HERE APRIL 14

An attraction to be presented in Medford on Monday, April 14, will be Al G. Barnes' Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus. This is the largest collection of wonderfully trained animals ever presented in America. It is a veritable zoological paradise on wheels. All of our exchanges say it is the most novel show and best conducted of any that has visited the west. It requires 25 double length cars to transport them and over 300 employees. The entire performance is given by animals in big steel arenas and on elevated stages. The program is full of thrills and the audience held spellbound by the sensational acts and features presented. The arena has been used from the earliest ages and its popularity has never diminished. The great changes, however, which have taken place develop it into a performance for the purpose of exciting men's passions. Lions have always played a prominent part in public exhibitions. Barnes' shows have 22 monsters forest bred African beasts that are presented in one act directed by that celebrated trainer "Ricardo," known the world over as the lion tamer. Lions were led as trophies in the triumphs of semi-barbarians and were exhibited and sacrificed by thousands in Roman days. Six hundred were provided for Pompeii. The lion is the king of beasts and though there are other animals more intelligent in some ways, he has always held the supremacy over other brutes. History fails to record that any lions were ever tamed by the ancients. It was in turning the power and superiority of men over to financial account that the art of training wild beasts was first conceived. It has also been augmented by the fact that the man of the 20th century are more hazardous and seek to accomplish the most intrepid feats. Don't fail to see Ricardo and his African lions with Al G. Barnes' circus.

IDAHO FRUIT GROWERS PLEDGE 10,000 CARS

BOISE, Idaho, April 1.—Following a meeting of Idaho fruitgrowers at which W. N. Yost, who attended the meeting of the North Pacific Fruit Distributors association at North Yakima, outlined the plans decided upon there for the formation of a central selling agency, Idaho growers have already pledged ten thousand cars of fruit for distribution next fall. The growers in this state are enthusiastic over the plan.

FRANK CHANCE IN ACTION IN NEW YORK UNIFORM AT BERMUDA

NEW YORK.—Word has been sent to the local offices of the New York American League club, training in Bermuda, that Manager Frank Chance, who has worked hard for three weeks, has never shown better condition than at present. There is no doubt that he will open the season at first base, and it is expected that he will show some of the form he displayed when covering that position for the Cubs in their championship days.

Now is Time to Advertise Oregon in Cyclone Swept States, Writes Boos

George E. Boos of Medford, who is representing the Panama Pacific Exposition at various northwestern legislatures, writes as follows to President Perry of the Commercial Club regarding weather being experienced in Minnesota, under date of St. Paul, Minn., March 26:

"From all indications my work before the Minnesota legislature will keep me in St. Paul for some little time, and it occurred to me that I had better put in a few good fields for Medford during my leisure hours. If you will send me some Medford literature, I will see that it will go in good hands.

Cyclone Wakes People Up.

The railroad companies are about getting ready to offer tourist rates and all indications point that many from the middle states are looking west and eastward, in fact many from the cyclone districts in Nebraska, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin are beginning to wake up, that there is still better country and safer climate in the west. I am stopping at the Merchants hotel. There I find every day, especially the last few days, many coming from the middle states who are going to Montana, Idaho, Washington and the British Columbia country. I find that several railroad companies are advertising Montana, Washington and the Canadian country, but I don't see anything of Oregon.

As soon as this beastly weather will moderate, I will make a tour among the nine railroad offices in the city and see if I cannot get one or two of them to put southern Oregon on the map.

Appalling Stories of Storm.

"No doubt you and the fortunate people of Medford have read the appalling reports of cyclones, floods, fires, blizzards and general hell, killing hundreds and making thousands homeless. The reports do not at all exaggerate the fearful destructions. I have spoken to people who landed here yesterday. They look haggard, scared and fearful, not yet realizing what to do and where to go next, believing that they are not far enough away from the destructive demon. And it is not so alone with the ones who have gone through the last days through the last days of ruin, death and loss of limbs and dear ones, but many of the people right here in this district don't know when this demon will swoop down upon them.

had found refuge on higher ground. A court martial was organized today to try cases such as a municipal court ordinarily disposes of. The reports that looters had been shot are untrue. Guards have shot to frighten suspicious characters but not to kill or injure.

Clean your sinks with GOLD DUST

No place in the home gathers grease as quickly as the kitchen sink. Gold Dust washing powder, however, has the peculiar quality of dissolving and cutting grease and if, after each dishwashing, a suds is made in the dishpan with warm water and Gold Dust, and the sink thoroughly rinsed with these suds, the last particle of dirt and grease will be removed.

The sink pipe will never become clogged with grease if Gold Dust and plenty of hot water are used for washing the sink morning and evening.
