

WILSON IN ROLE OF FIGHTING MAN IN NEW JERSEY

WASHINGTON, May 1.—President Woodrow Wilson, in the role of a fighting man will be presented to residents of New Jersey tonight and tomorrow. Angered by the opposition his plan for jury reforms, formulated while he was governor of the state, is meeting in New Jersey, the president left for Newark at 3 o'clock this afternoon to lock horns with the opponents of the measure.

The president is due in Newark at 7 o'clock and will make his first speech there. He made it plain before leaving Washington that his speeches will be vitriolic in character and that he intends to roast former Senator Smith, his old-time enemy, to a nice brown turn. President Wilson openly declared that he intended to defy the so-called non-partisan machine which he alleges has combined with the Smith machine to prevent enactment by the legislature of a law reforming the state jury system.

The machine combination was expected to control the special session of the legislature next week and wants the jury reform bill submitted to a referendum vote. The president maintains that this would defeat the bill's support. He also believes that if the question is left to a referendum the machine will be able to defeat the plan in the counties wherein Jersey City, Newark and Hoboken are located.

CAMPAIGN FOR WATER CONTINUES

The campaign to secure irrigation on a large scale in the valley continued today more briskly than for several days during which stormy weather prevailed. A number of workers went out today and a few who returned at noon reported progress.

Secretary Brown of the committee having the matter in charge has issued a call for more automobiles and more workers. He is confident of success if the work is kept up.

PRESIDENT CONFERS WITH WOOL SENATORS

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Democratic senators from Pacific and Inter-mountain states, opposed to free wool and sugar, conferred with President Wilson for three hours today. They predicted disaster if the free clauses passed. It is expected that the president will stand pat for free sugar and wool but it was said that the conference had established a more friendly feeling.

MANY WAGON LOADS OF RUBBISH ARE HAULED TO CREEK

A large force of men and teams were at work at an early hour and will continue to haul rubbish until Saturday but will not cover the same street twice.

The rubbish is being piled in a huge heap at Riverside and Twelfth near Bear creek, where it will be burned on Saturday night. Several hundred wagonloads will be collected.

NEW OFFICIAL WHO MUST ENFORCE PURE FOOD LAW

Francis G. Caffey, the new solicitor of the department of agriculture, is heir to all the trouble left by his predecessor, George P. McCabe, whose efforts, with those of Dr. Frederick L. Dunlap, caused the resignation of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley. It will become his work to enforce the law which Dr. Wiley failed to have carried into the courts.

Solicitor McCabe with Dr. Dunlap, constituted two-thirds of the Food Inspection board of the department. Both resigned shortly after President Wilson was inaugurated. When in a given case Dr. Wiley, the third member of the board, announced a decision Dr. Dunlap and McCabe usually voted against him and the case was not prosecuted. The Board of Chemistry, of which Dr. Wiley was the head, spent $1,190,784 in preparing evidence of food law violations, or about $515 per case for some 6,206 cases.

McCabe's charges against Dr. Wiley resulted in the recommendation of Attorney-General Wickersham that "condign punishment" be meted out to the doctor. After a congressional investigation the recommendation was not carried out.

The policy of Mr. Caffey has not been announced, but it is believed by the pure food advocates that President Wilson will insist on vigorous prosecutions of violators of the pure food law.

The pocket uncovered was mostly fine gold, only a few nuggets being found. It was on a hillside about a quarter of a mile up from the bar, which at one time produced much gold.
