STATE COOPERATION FOR GOOD ROADS PROMISED BY KAY

Tom B. Kay, state treasurer of Oregon and member of the Oregon Highway commission and one of the three men who govern Oregon, arrived in Medford Thursday to represent the commission at the good roads banquet. Mr. Kay is also president of the Salem Woolen mills and is a former resident of Jackson county, his father having operated the woolen mills at Ashland many years ago.

"The highway commission cannot do any state construction this year," said Mr. Kay, "because only $10,000 appropriation was placed at its disposal, but next year there will be $240,000 available and construction work can be done. In the meantime the services of the commission and the state highway engineer are at the service of any locality applying for them and Major Bowley can be of material assistance to Jackson county in helping it prepare for construction."

"Jackson county leads the state in good roads effort and the state highway commission will cooperate in every possible way. We could not get word to Engineer Bowley in time—he is making a final inspection of the Pacific highway before assuming office, or he would be here also. The board cannot force its cooperation upon any section under the law, but is for those that request it."

"I think Senator Bourne's scheme for federal aided roads the greatest plan ever devised. It is merely a loan of the nation's credit to the state and costs the state comparatively nothing. I hope it is adopted."

"I bought wool in southern Oregon many years ago and know the county as it was then—but the valley has improved so much that it is like a new section to me."

NO DANGER OF WAR WITH JAPAN

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 6.—That there is not the slightest danger of war between the United States and Japan, and that the public men of Japan believe American public sentiment will amply adjust the difficulty arising over the California anti-alien land law, is the declaration here today of Dr. J. Soyeda, former president of the Bank of Formosa and the International Bank of Japan and envoy of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Japan. Soyeda declared that his mission to this country is to explain the situation to Japanese here and to counsel patience. Saturday he leaves for Washington.

PENN. AVE COMES TO FRONT WITH BIG EGG

To the Editor.—West Hamilton or Penn avenue is certainly coming to the front. Here comes Mrs. I. H. White's hen that laid the biggest egg yet, the egg measured the largest way around 8 1/2 inches and the smaller way 6 3/4. Oh, this is the street for enlarging its population, so says biddy.

MRS. I. H. WHITE.

Motion pictures of the 1912 Pendleton Round-up, the greatest frontier show ever staged, will be shown at the Page theater on Saturday and Sunday, thereby affording the people of Medford an opportunity of viewing for themselves the daring feats of horsemanship and skill which made this meet stand out prominently from all over so-called "Round-ups." The show will be presented in four reels, all new, and every thrilling feature of the round-up is reproduced.

The films will depict the winning of the world's championship for broncho busting, cowboy and cowgirl races, stagecoach races, bulldogging steers, fancy roping, relay races, roping and tying steers and riding wild bulls. There is a thrill to every foot of film.

The films are exceptionally clear and nearly all of the scenes are at close range, the camera men taking their lives in their hands time and again in order to be close to the subject they were photographing.

The films will be shown on Saturday and Sunday night. Admission 15 and 10 cents.

GIRL REFUSED A DARE AND WILL LOSE LIFE

MARSHFIELD, Ore., June 6.—Miss Ramona Ladd, aged 18, is in the Mercy Hospital today suffering from what is said to be a broken back because she refused to take a dare.

During an automobile ride with several others, Miss Ladd's climbing ability was questioned and she accepted a challenge to climb a tree by the road side.

She had mounted about thirty feet when a limb broke, precipitating her heavily to the ground.

THANHOUSER FEATURE AT STAR THEATER TODAY

"The Marble Heart," a stirring dramatic Thanhauser, will be shown at the Star theater today. It is a two-reel picture, and one of the most successful ever turned out by the Thanhauser company.

The story concerns a young sculptor's love for a prominent society woman, a "cat" of the worst order. She poses for him to win his love to satisfy her own vanity. She is successful in spite of the fact that the sculptor is warned to beware of her.

In a dream the sculptor thinks he lives in the days of Diogenes, and makes a statue for a wealthy Athenian. The statue comes to life, but instead of returning its maker's love, falls in love with the wealthy Athenian. The sculptor wakes to find his own love untrue, and after wrecking the statue he has made of her, dies himself. The woman meets the just reward of her heartlessness.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Carper, of North Central avenue, Thursday, June 5, a girl.

BOY HIT ON HEAD WITH A HAMMER

Julius Wattenburger, age fourteen years, son of Julius Wattenburger, lies at the Sacred hospital in a serious condition, as the result of a blow on the head received when struck with a hammer in Phoenix Wednesday. The boy who struck him is about twelve years old, and is alleged to be the son of a former Phoenix butcher, a Mr. Basou. A warrant has been issued by the juvenile authorities.

According to the story told by the boys at Dr. Malmgren's office in Phoenix, where Julius was first taken, the two Wattenburger boys encountered Basou on Bear creek, and inquired the way to the swimming hole. A stone was thrown by one of the two brothers, striking Basou on the head. In the fight that followed, apparently one against two, Basou struck Julius with a hammer.

Basou, according to Phoenix people is a quiet boy who never had previous trouble. He was building a fence on his father's property at the time of the others' approach. He has a good chance for recovery.

BERRY GROWERS HIT BY COLUMBIA FLOODS

HOOD RIVER, Ore., June 6.—Berry growers near here are fearful today that the threatened rise of the Columbia above The Dalles will overflow the railroad tracks and impede the shipment of strawberries, which are fast ripening. Such a condition would cause thousands of dollars damage.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFULLY DARKENS THE HAIR WHEN FADED AND GRAY

Mixed With Sulphur Makes Hair Soft, Lustrous and Cures Dandruff

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready to use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, which is usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's" which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well known downtown druggist says his customers insist on Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur because, they say, it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—It's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair taking one strand at a time. Do this at night and by morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.
