Start Work on the Ft. Hall Project.
As a preliminary step toward actual construction on the big Blackfoot storage reservoir, which will impound flood water for the irrigation of the Fort Hall tract, a contract has been signed with William Winchell of Henry for the cutting and early delivery of 500 cords of wood at the dam site. The contract was awarded by Major John J. Granville, superintendent in charge of the Fort Hall project, and Mr. Winchell will commence work at once. The wood is to be used for fuel in the operation of a temporary power plant at the dam, machinery for which will be on the ground within about 30 days, at which time the actual work of constructing a big retaining works will commence. Major Granville was in the city yesterday from Ross Fork, and announced that the work of enlarging the canals on the reservation has already begun where it was left off last fall, and canal building machinery for construction the main ditch is expected shortly.—Pocatello Tribune.

Smallest Railroad in Idaho.
The Farmers Friend Canal company has commenced the work of putting in a permanent wing dam at the head of their canal about two miles north-east of town, says a St. Anthony paper. The dam is to be solidly constructed and is so designed that it is expected that much ice and high water will flow smoothly over without injury to the structure. To make the work much easier and economical the company has built a small railroad track along the canal bank to the dam on which will run small dump cars. The track is about 300 feet long, and Eli Houghton says it is the smallest first independent, only and most independent railroad in Idaho. Annual passes over the line are being issued to worthy citizens. The dam is to be built of rock-ribbed cribs, braced on plentifully with gravel and cobble rock. As to whether people holding passes on the road will be expected to shovel gravel is not stated by Mr. Houghton.

Yakima Gives $9000 for Exhibit.
The county commissioners will provide in all $9000 towards defraying the cost of the county exhibit at the Seattle exposition next year, says the Yakima Republic. On this year's rolls an appropriation of $5000 is provided for and the additional $4000 will be provided for on the tax rolls of next year, thus conforming with the law which limits the amount of money which can be voted for the exhibition to one half of one per cent. A meeting of the commissioners, representatives of the Commercial club and of the Horticultural union was held yesterday afternoon and a committee consisting of Dan Sinclair, W. N. Irish and A. B. Weed was appointed to visit Seattle and select a site for the Yakima exhibit.

Greek Fourth of July.
Greek Independence day was celebrated by the Greek colony of Pocatello, and there was merry-making all along the line, says the Pocatello Tribune. Business in all the Greek business houses was suspended. Tuesday the Greeks spent in feasting. Tuesday to the Greeks was what the Fourth of July is to the Americans.

Up to May, 1453, the Greek nation extended north as far as the Danube river, and Macedonia, Epirus, Constantinople and the surrounding states were all Greek territory. In May 1453, barbarians invaded the country and the greater part of Greece fell under the rule of the Turks. They held rule over the country until 409 years later, when on March 25, 1821, the Greeks arose and declared their liberty. Then followed a war lasting eight years, at the end of which time the Greeks had gained a greater part of their territory, and their independence.

Tuesday was March 25 on the Greek calendar used in this country. And all over the world where Greeks are assembled Independence day was celebrated.

Build $10,000 Country Home.
Work has begun on a $10,000 house for E. J. Haase on his property on Summit View road. The residence when completed will be one of the finest, best appointed and most modern houses of North Yakima or the surrounding valley. Architect Perrin has prepared the plans, which are said to be absolutely unique. Mr. Haase owns property in close proximity to Dr. Henry's residence on Nob Hill. The building site commands a splendid view of the Wide Hollow valley, the Naches gap, Fruvale, Nob Hill and North Yakima.—Yakima Republic.

The people who do not live in this city and yet who "do some of their shopping here," are important to those of our merchants who seek wuer markets. These people read Pendleton newspapers, for they are "interested in this city,"—in its news, in its stores.

Store advertising is no longer optional—it is as necessary as are clerks, stock, equipment; it is the only thing that makes these worth while.

POLITICAL FORECAST FOR COMING WEEK

Washington, April 11.—While the republicans held the limelight in national politics this week, by reason of the state conventions in New York and Massachusetts, the democrats will have their share of publicity during the next seven days. The birthday of Thomas Jefferson, which falls on Monday, will likely be celebrated more generally than in recent years and many important utterances may be expected.

By far the most important of these celebrations will be the banquet of the National Democratic club in New York. A quarrel over the question as to whether William Jennings Bryan should be invited to speak at the dinner threatened for a time to disrupt the club, but it is now likely that the Nebraskaan, if present, will add to the oratory of the occasion. The other speakers will be President Woodrow Wilson of Princeton University, Senator Owens of Oklahoma, and Senator Simmons of North Carolina.

Two Democratic Meetings. Two important democratic state conventions will be held Tuesday, those of New York and Delaware. The latter gathering will likely assume an importance not warranted by the importance of the state in national politics, owing to the fact that it will mark the launching of a boom for Judge George Gray for president. For several months the Delaware jurist has occasionally been mentioned as the "logical leader" of the eastern democracy in its opposition to the candidacy of William J. Bryan, and his indorsement by the convention of his home state is expected to result in crystallizing sentiment in his favor among those who desire an eastern candidate. The New York democratic state convention will also meet on Tuesday, Carnegie hall, New York, having been selected as the scene of the gathering. Sentiment among the committee favors an unopposed delegation from the Empire state, but there will probably be some opposition to this program. Many delegations in the up-state counties and cities have been instructed to work for the interests of Bryan. Chairman Connors of the state committee and many other prominent democrats are believed to favor Governor Johnson and will attempt to secure the election of delegates favorable to the Minnesota man. Mr. Bryan will be in New York next week and may attend the convention. The Michigan democratic state committee will hold a meeting in Lansing next Wednesday to fix the time and place for holding the state convention. It is likely that Mr. Bryan will receive the indorsement of the committee, although Governor Johnson of Minnesota has gained many adherents in Michigan. The only important republican state convention to be held next week is that of Minnesota, called to meet in Minneapolis on Thursday. Secretary Taft will undoubtedly be the choice of the convention for the presidency. Arizona republicans will hold their territorial convention in Tucson next Saturday, when two delegates, pledged to Taft, will be elected. The republican territorial convention of Hawaii, to be held in Honolulu on Monday, is also likely to favor the war secretary. Taft Has a Fight On. The fight between the adherents and opponents of Secretary Taft will be continued in Massachusetts next week, when conventions will be held in several of the congressional districts of the state. Present appearances indicate that the Taft boomers will be successful in the majority of the districts. In many other states, district conventions will be held, and will probably serve to increase the lead of Secretary Taft in his race for the presidential nomination.

Boy Horsechief Denies Guilt. George Gay was arrested at Pendleton Tuesday, having in his possession the horse stolen from Police Sergeant Frank Morse last week, says a Walla Walla item. He denies the theft, saying he bought the horse from a herder. The mules which were stolen at the same time have been located on Jasper mountain, above Watsburg, some 30 miles from here. They were loose when found and there was nothing to indicate how they came there.
