CHAMBERLAIN IS PROBABLY NEXT UNITED STATES SENATOR

Statement No. 1 Candidates Generally Successful and Will Control the Legislative Assembly.

Governor Now Leads Cake by 1673—Four Counties to Hear From Cannot Materially Change the Result—Fifty-two Members of Legislature Will Be Statement No. 1 Men, Being Six More Than Necessary to Elect the Successful Democrat—Prohibitionists Have Won Victories in 18 Counties, 13 being Totally Dry—Nearly Complete Returns in Umatilla County Give Cake a Lead of 246—Prohibition Majority Is Near 800—Barrett Leads Legislative Ticket by 500—Walker Is Elected Commissioner—Echo Precinct Polled Heaviest Vote.

Portland, Ore., June 3.—Governor Chamberlain will be the next senator. This was determined today when the returns showed there would be 52 statement No. 1 members in the next legislature, a safe majority of six over the number required to elect. Chamberlain now leads Cake by 1672 with three or four counties to hear from. Chamberlain, 38,789; Cake, 37,117. The prohibitionists won their fights in 18 counties. According to the present figures Wallowa, Morrow, Yamhill, Lane, Douglas, Polk, Linn, Umatilla, Union, Klamath, Curry, Gilliam and Sherman are absolutely dry. Crook, Baker, Multnomah, Jackson and Josephine have sacrificed large slices of wet territory to the drys.

Cake Carries Umatilla. From Umatilla county almost complete election returns have now been received and with only Juniper and Gilliland precincts to be heard from on the senatorship Cake has a lead of 246 over Chamberlain.

On the remainder of the ticket the more detailed returns have not changed the situation. Echo, which was heard from complete last evening, gave Horace Walker a majority of 153 for commissioner and thereby made his election assured. On the remainder of the ticket no contests were in doubt. C. A. Barrett, statement No. 1 candidate for representative, leads the legislative ticket by 599 more votes than Mann, the other republican nominee while Mann has a majority of about 500 over William Blakeley, democratic statement No. 1 candidate.

For assessor C. P. Strain has a large majority over R. T. Brown, while F. W. Hendley is reelected recorder; Frank K. Welles county school superintendent; T. D. Taylor sheriff, Frank Salling, county clerk, and J. W. Kimbrell, surveyor.

Echo's Vote. The vote cast in the Echo precincts which comprises the town of Hermiston as well as that of Echo, was the heaviest of any in the county. On the senatorship 445 votes were cast and Cake had a majority of 25 over Chamberlain. The detailed vote in part for Echo was as follows: For United States Senator—H. M. Cake, 218. Geo. E. Chamberlain, 193. L. L. Mann, 256. William Blakeley's vote not given. County clerk—Frank Salling, 287. T. C. Frazier, 113. Recorder—F. W. Hendley, 295. J. Q. Peebler, 98. Assessor—R. T. Brown, 199. C. P. Strain, 216. School superintendent—Homer I. Watts, 159. Frank K. Welles, 263. Congressman—W. R. Ellis, 313. J. A. Jeffrey, 92. Railroad commissioner—Clyde B. Aitchison, 178. A. N. Hamilton, 161. Oglesby young, 58. District attorney—Gilbert W. Phelps, 305. R. J. Slater, 107. Joint representative—

T. J. Mahoney, 199. J. N. Scott, 173. Representative—C. A. Barrett, 256. County commissioner—J. Hudeman, 118. Horace Walker, 271. For prohibition, 264. Against prohibition, 179. U. of O. appropriation—Yes, 217. No, 127. Await Official Count.

Owing to the fact that all contests in this county are settled conclusively and the vote on the senatorship is known but little interest is taken in the few scattering precincts that have not been heard from. However, the official count is awaited with interest for it will show the vote of the county on the legislative measures and amendments. All the ballot boxes are now in the clerk's office and the official count will commence this evening with Justice Wallan of Adams and Justice Miller of Pilot Rock officiating with County Clerk Salling. In view of the extraordinary lengthy ballot it is probable that the work cannot be finished tonight.

TAFT WILL USE TACT. No Dictation From Candidate as to National Committee. Washington, June 3.—There is no candid observer who will not admit that there was a good deal of bungling in the management of Secretary Taft's campaign for the republican presidential nomination, especially in its earlier stages. Mistakes were made which proved costly and which made much more difficult the fight for the secretary's nomination. But, despite mistakes, the fight appears to have been won; and now it is becoming manifest that along with the bunglers there are some brilliant politicians in the Taft camp.

One evidence of this is the announcement that Secretary Taft, should he be the nominee, will not attempt to dictate the men or methods of campaign management. It is declared he will leave this matter with the national committee with which, under party law, the responsibility is lodged. While it resolves upon the committee to select its chairman and the active campaign managers, custom has allowed the nominee for president to dictate who the chairman shall be. Thus, in 1896 and again in 1900, McKinley selected Mark Hanna for national chairman, though Hanna was not even a member of the national committee.

But it is said Taft will indicate no preference for the national chairmanship, and undoubtedly this is good politics. It will give all members of the committee an equal voice in making the selection, no matter whether they have been for or against Taft's nomination, and it cannot be doubted this will have a tendency to placate and harmonize the opposition.

There is the further consideration, no campaign publicity bill having passed congress, that there are going to be unpleasant charges of "fat-frying" during the course of the campaign. If the candidate does not select the campaign management, he will personally escape a good deal of the embarrassment of these charges.

place, after only slightly figuring as a possible contender. Third place was taken by Langwan at 100 to 8. Signorinetta crossed the line fully two lengths ahead of Primer. Belmont and Vanderbilt backed the entries of Norman Third and Seaside the second, to a hundred thousand. The king's horse, Perrier, placed on the same basis as Langwan in the betting, was backed heavily, being a favorite of the people. The winner is owned by Chevalier Glinstrelli, an Italian. She was the only filly entered.

UNKNOWN HORSE WINS GREAT RACE

London, June 3.—Signorinetta, not even considered in the earlier formation of odds and not looked upon as a possible contender, won the great English derby at Epsom, worth £6500 from a field of the fleetest horses in the world. The odds on Signorinetta were 100 to 1. It is understood that a few who were aware of the horse's possibilities, made heavy winnings. Bookmakers, however, came off with most of the money wagered. The derby was a bunch of surprises, Primer at a 100 to 3 winning second

FIGHT ON TAFT IS RENEWED WITH VIGOR.

Memorial Day Speech May Encompass His Defeat—Roosevelt May Take Nomination.

Chicago, June 3.—President Roosevelt may be the next nominee of the republican party. A sudden lift has been injected into the presidential booms of the favorite sons by the belief that Taft can be defeated on the issue of his remarkable memorial day address at Grant's tomb, in which he referred to Grant's drunkenness. The second elective termers, are busy trying to force Roosevelt to accept the nomination if he sees Taft is sure of defeat.

The fight is on today in a dozen different quarters. News from Indianapolis this morning shows the plans of the alliance to defeat Taft.

Hitchcock sees breakers ahead and has hurried here to personally direct the fight. Speaker Cannon who was on his way home in a touring car heard the news, hurriedly left the machine and took a fast train.

Hemenway, Fairbank's manager with Cannon also abandoned the automobile. Hughes boomers and Knox managers are using every means to make the most of the peculiar situation. The speech will be mentioned at every opportunity on the floor of the convention.

WIFE MURDERS HUSBAND AND BURNS HIS BODY.

Seattle Murderess Says She Found Him Dead in Chair and Wreaked Vengeance on Remains.

Seattle, June 3.—Accused of murdering her husband, and admitting she chopped his body to pieces with an ax and buried it, Mrs. Edward King is imprisoned at Port Orchard. The story of the alleged crime is similar to the methods of Belle Gunness the La Porte murderess.

The woman says she found her husband dead in a chair. Angered by previous treatment of her, she says she dragged the body into the yard, chopped it up and started a small bonfire. She spent the night and day pouring gasoline on it and burning it to a basketful of charred bones.

Sunday, May 24, King disappeared from his farm near Ollala. The following Thursday his daughter visited her mother and asked for her father. The mother said he had disappeared. The daughter reported the fact at Ollala.

Searchers hunted the woods and finally found the bones of King in the yard. Mrs. King then confessed she had burned the body but said she found her husband dead in his chair. She said he beat her and ran her out of the house.

AUTO RACER IS KILLED

First Fatality of Portland's Big Races

Seattle Man Was Trying the Course—Running More Than Mile a Minute Machine Strikes Soft Dirt and Rolls Over—Victim Pinned in by Steering Wheel—Companion Seriously Injured.

Portland, June 3.—Pinned into his seat by his steering wheel, William Folberth, a professional automobile racer of Seattle, was fatally injured when his car rolled completely over three times last night, and he is not expected to live through the day.

George McCartney, another racer, was also seriously injured but is expected to survive. Folberth and McCartney were running over the course of the Oregon road races to be held tomorrow when the accident occurred. Folberth had driven over the course three times and was running his machine at a 65-miles an hour clip when he attempted to make the turn on the road to the 12-mile road house. Workmen who had been putting the course in shape, had plowed the ground, intending to roll it to lessen the danger of the curve.

The Seattle driver knew nothing of the newly plowed ground, ran into it, the wheels sunk and the machine rolled over. Folberth could not escape, and was crushed under the heavy machine three times. Four ribs were broken and fatal internal injuries sustained.

McCartney was crushed but once, having his collar bone and arm broken.

It is feared that many accidents will tomorrow's races as the course is said to be even more dangerous than Briar Cliff.

Japs Buy off Paper. Tokyo, June 3.—Editor Bethell, Englishman who has been publishing the Korean Daily News at Seoul, has been bought off by the Japanese government. The paper objectionable to Japan couldn't do anything because Bethell claimed the money consideration finally means the suppression of the publication.

ROOSEVELT HAS NARROW ESCAPES

President's Horse Falls Twice, Though Bruised His Injuries Are Not Serious.

Wild West Experience Helps Save His Life.

Throws Himself From Saddle in Time to Prevent Being Crushed—Falls Into Stream—Wading Out of the Water He Mounts Again and Again His Horse Falls—Mrs. Roosevelt With Her Husband Witnesses Both Accidents—Teddy Insists the Incidents Are Trivial.

Washington, June 3.—It has just become known here that Roosevelt was thrown from a young horse and narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon in Rock Creek park, where he was trying a spirited animal in going over the water jump.

The president saved his life by turning quickly to one side, as the horse fell but sustained severe bruises, and was badly crushed. The president when the story came out, said: "It really didn't amount to much and is hardly worth printing. I am not injured at all seriously."

The horse became frightened as he approached to jump, staggered and fell violently. Roosevelt realized the danger and the old time western experience stood him in good part. He slipped quickly in the saddle and plunged into the water.

The orderly caught the horse and the president remounted. He said he was not hurt much and rode for half an hour when he had another narrow escape.

Crossing a stream the horse was nervous, shied, and the president released his feet from the stirrups and dropped off into the creek just as the horse fell a second time.

Mrs. Roosevelt was with the president and saw both accidents. She is an expert horsewoman, and would have aided her husband if she could have reached him in time. Sergeant McDermott, the orderly was closer.

SOLDIERS TO PANAMA.

Government Greatly Interested in Reported Crisis.

Washington, June 3.—The publication of the United Press dispatch telling of the crisis with republic of Panama has aroused great interest here, and it was announced today that 200 additional marines had been ordered to the Isthmus immediately with orders to protect American property and help keep order at the election.

It is also planned to detail a large body of sailors, if the conditions are unimproved before election. Almost the entire cabinet meeting yesterday was devoted to the necessity of the United States taking control of the country, it is understood, has been discussed at length, though nothing was given out.

The danger to the canal works is of the utmost importance and the situation will be closely watched.

UMATILLA BEATS TWIN FALLS LAND

ONE HUNDRED LAND SEEKERS RETURN HOME.

F. G. Brown Formerly of This County But Now of Seattle Says Echo and Hermiston Land Excels Anything Under Twin Falls Project—Big Crowd Saw Government Land Raffle.

One hundred adventurous spirits from every northwest state, passed through the city today on their return to their homes from the Twin Falls land opening where a crowd of over 5000 people saw that project opened and raffled off by the government.

The crowd came in on No. 1 the west bound O. R. & N. train and took the Spokane train for the north at noon. Most of the crowd transferring here were from Seattle and Spokane and while but few of them secured numbers, in the land opening yet all were well pleased with the Twin Falls country and believe that it will be a paradise in a few years under irrigation.

However, F. G. Brown, formerly of this county who was a member of the Seattle party today said that none of the Twin Falls project is to be compared with the land in the vicinity of Echo or Hermiston. The climate, soil, transportation facilities and markets are all in favor of the Umatilla county tracts and while he passed through this county to go to Twin Falls to buy land, yet he says that he wonders why anybody should do so, as this county offers many more advantages.

COUNTY SEAT SETTLED.

Attempts to Change Present Location Are Completely Frustrated.

Enterprise, Ore., June 3.—The question of the location of the county seat in Wallowa county was decisively settled in Monday's election in favor of its present location at Enterprise. J. B. Olmstead was elected county judge and W. G. Locke was elected county commissioner. Sam Litch the hold-over commissioner is a resident of Enterprise who with the other two gentlemen make a unanimous county court in favor of building a county court house. This will settle for all time the efforts of first one town and then another to take the county seat away from Enterprise.

Shot His Sister, Then Himself.

While visiting his sister, Mrs. Harriet Cole, at the Arcade hotel in Tacoma Monday night, Frank B. Kelsop, of Everett, shot her twice, one ball entering near the heart and the other in her face. He then killed himself. No cause is known for the act. Mrs. Cole was in a sick bed at the time. She may recover.

TWO SALOONS GIVE UP THE GHOST.

Two saloons, the Rainier beer hall and the Pullman, have already gone out of business in this city as a result of the prohibition vote. When the saloonmen appeared at the recorder's office yesterday to have their licenses extended for a month longer, the proprietors of the two places named above did not appear.

All of the saloon licenses expired on May 31 and in order to continue business until July 1 it was necessary for the liquor dealers to take out licenses for the month of June. They were granted licenses for that time for $75 each, that sum being the pro-

EAGLE SCREAM

WILL BE HEARD

Pendleton Will Have Biggest and Best Celebration in Her History.

DRY VOTE ACTS AS FAN NOT AS A DAMPER.

Plans Already Being Worked Out and Will Be Completed at Once—Speaker of National Reputation Will Probably Be Secured and Schedule of Sports Promises to Excel Anything Ever Before Attempted in Eastern Oregon—Ministers and Business Men Will Pull Together.

"Unfold the flag, let the winds caress and lift it in rippling loveliness."

Plans for the greatest and most enjoyable Fourth of July celebration that this city has ever seen are now being worked out and if those behind the movement meet with success there will be nothing slow about Pendleton on the national holiday this year even if the town is dry.

Owing to the uncertainty produced by the prohibition campaign that has been on this spring, nothing towards a Fourth of July celebration was done prior to election. But it has been planned for some time past to take up the subject immediately after election and the work has now been started.

Easter at the Helm.

At the instance of Leon Cohen and other business men Rev. W. T. Euster, pastor of the Methodist church and a "live wire" in the fight for prohibition, has been asked to aid in producing a celebration. This invitation Mr. Euster has accepted with a will and he declares that he, as well as the other church people of the city, will do all in their power to properly celebrate the Fourth.

While no definite plans have yet been worked out it is planned to have a general meeting within a few days to organize a central and sub-committees for the purpose of arranging for the celebration.

From expressions heard from representative business men today they are all willing to aid liberally in financing the celebration and apparently there will be no difficulty in securing all the funds needed.

Will Be a Hammer.

Regarding his views of what a celebration should be, Rev. Euster said, "We should have a great celebration this year, one that will be enjoyable to the people of the city and also for those who live in the country. I am in favor of getting a speaker of national reputation if possible, even if we have to pay $500 for him. We should have a man that will have sufficient reputation to draw a crowd to this city from every part of the county and from other sections of eastern Oregon."

MAY CLOSE RENO.

Largest Wide Open Town in United States May Have Lid.

Reno, Nev., June 3.—An organized campaign against the attempt to "put the lid on" in Reno, the largest town in the United States absolutely wide open, was started at a secret meeting this morning. The gamblers are willing to spend a fortune to keep the town open.

The council has decided to submit the license question to the people at a special election October 24.
