LOCAL NEWS.

J. H. Putnam, the fossil merchant, is in the city.

W. S. Phillips, of Rock creek, was in town Monday.

Hon. B. K. Searcy was in from Beecher Flat during the week.

L. O. Ralston and Mr. Corey, of Olex, were in town Tuesday.

BORN—Sunday, April 10, 1898, to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cordell, a son.

D. C. Downer has had some improvements made on his residence lately.

W. H. Colwell was in town during the week doing service as a grand juror.

Ed Portwood, of Rock creek, was doing business in Condon last Saturday.

G. Davidson and daughter returned from a visit to the Valley last Saturday.

A neat porch is being added to the residence of Dr. J. J. Hogan this week.

George E. Wright, of near Lone Rock, was in town Saturday on land business.

Squire Wilkinson White, of Trail Fork, was a delegate to convention last week.

Coe D. Bernard, the well known Fossil cattleman, was a pleasant caller yesterday.

The salmon fishing season commenced on the Columbia river at midnight last Saturday night.

J. A. Thomas, the Arlington liveryman, brought a load of court visitors over last Sunday.

Mr. Gates, who looks after Uncle Sam's business in the Fossil postoffice, is here attending court.

Mrs. J. F. Reischer left on Monday for a visit in Portland. She will be absent a week or ten days.

Inquirer: No, there was no match game bowled between the Condon and Dallas teams last Monday evening.

Capt. Withers writes the Globe from Ritter Hot Springs that his health is improving and he expects to start home soon.

Cooke Bros. last week started a six-horse team hauling the remainder of their last year's crop of wheat, about 1200 bushels, to Arlington.

An avalanche on Chilcote Pass on April 3d was terribly fatal in its consequence. Upwards of 200 Argonauts are reported to have lost their lives.

The initial number of the Arlington Review is on our table. It is a neat 5 column folio edited by Robinson and Pound Success to the venture.

A new walk was laid in the court house yard last Saturday. The yard was raked, the debris burned and the place generally put in ship-shape order for court week.

Appropriate Easter exercises were held at the Congregational Church on last Sunday. Music, recitations and songs by the children were special features of the occasion. A large congregation was present.

Acting District Attorney Michell, who enjoys the distinction of having at one time been engaged in the newspaper business, stole away from his court duties on Tuesday long enough to set a few yards of type at a Globe case.

C. F. Nelson vs J. A. Richmond, is the title of an action for damages that has been begun in Justice Tatom's court. The case involves the right to 160 acres of railroad land in Ferry Canyon. The trial is set for next Monday.

H. B. Hendricks has a full line of garden and flower seeds, for free distribution, from the hand of Senator McBride, Washington, D. C. Call in and be supplied. Who said Oregon's congressmen and senators are "mealy" about a few seeds?

A first-class bicycle track has been graded around the outskirts of town, which will afford devotees of the wheel a chance to enjoy the sport without the attendant discomforts of dust, chuckholes, etc., which are unavoidable on the public thoroughfares.

A first-class dance will be given in Armory hall on the evening of April 29th under the auspices of Summit Lodge No. 130, I. O. O. F. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend, and a good time is assured. Proceeds for the benefit of the lodge. s14-6

Mrs. John Blake and Miss Emma Renner arrived on last Saturday's stage from Pendleton. The former had been visiting her daughter, and the latter, who has been attending the St. Joseph's Academy at that place, came home on account of her eyes being too weak to continue her studies.

C. W. Wheeler, Grand Organizer, Woodmen of the World, will deliver a lecture in Armory hall tomorrow (Friday) evening, in the interest of Woodcraft. A cordial invitation is extended to the public generally to attend. Mr. Wheeler is a gifted orator and his lecture will be well worth hearing. No admission fee will be charged.

Marshal Anderson made two arrests last Saturday for violation of the city ordinance against fast riding on the streets. The men were both turned loose, however, and the marshal decided not to prosecute the cases, as public opinion generally seemed to condemn his action. It seems to be generally conceded that the ordinance, which prohibits faster riding than six miles an hour, is too stringent, and that its strict enforcement would be detrimental to the best interests of the town. In that case the proper thing for the council to do would be to either repeal or amend it, and thus avoid further entanglements.

The 28 page special edition of the Pendleton Tribune, issued last week, is a credit not only to Pendleton and Umatilla county but to the entire section known as Eastern Oregon. The mammoth paper is chock full of interesting information, descriptive articles, illustrations, etc. that will be of material benefit to Umatilla county. We congratulate the publishers on their big success.

Miss Louella Maddock arrived on last Saturday's stage from Westfall, Malheur county, where she had been teaching school since last fall. This is the first teaching she ever did and, to use her own expression, she just loves it. She has been offered the same school for another six months' term, but has not yet decided whether she will accept it or not. However, if she is not offered some school nearer home she will go back and teach another term.

H. H. Hendricks, the well-known attorney of Fossil, came over to the county seat on Sunday evening and has been here since, attending circuit court. He reports that W. R. Popplewell, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Fossil on Friday of last week, was not expected to live, when he left home on Sunday. The operation was performed by Drs. Shaw and Pilkington and would doubtless have proven successful had it been performed sooner.

LAUREN—Mr. Popplewell died Sunday night and was buried Monday.

A deal was closed on Friday morning of last week by the fraternal societies, Knights of Pythias, Woodmen of the World and Independent Order of Odd Fellows became the joint owners of Armory hall. Five shares of the companies' stock was secured from John Downing, of Lawrence, California, and seven shares from P. Skelly, of this place. Each society now owns ten shares, and the management of the property will be vested in a committee of three, composed of one member from each organization.

Lester P. Sayles, a young musician of Portland, suddenly expired in a cafe, in that city, on Thursday evening of last week, while seated at a table with a friend. Indications point to suicide, as the young man was seen to drop a white powder into a glass of water before drinking it and almost immediately afterward fell forward unconscious, and expired within an hour. Mr. Sayles was known in Condon, having spent several weeks here last summer in the employ of the Jacobsen Book & Music Co. No reason is known for the rash act.

CLEM.

Grant Wade is securing the country for salable cattle. The ranchers in this vicinity are all very busy just now turning over the sod, and using bad language to the broncos.

Mrs. Wade, mother of Fremont and Grant Wade, has returned from the Valley, where she has been detained on account of illness.

David Bowman has his blacksmith and wagon making shop pretty well under way. This industry will be a great benefit to the neighborhood.

Tobey Thompson is doing some plowing on his homestead. He doesn't seem to like the location, his Queen Ann cottage. He says the wind blows through his whiskers too much.

An embryo stockman of this vicinity is in possession of a secret that he thinks will be of interest to stockraisers everywhere. It is a method he has devised to induce refractory young lambs, calves, etc. to imbibe the lactical fluid when very young. He places the rebellious youngsters on their feet, holds their noses close to the source of supply with one hand while with the other hand he grasps the tail of the subject, and shakes it vigorously. He says this treatment will induce the most stubborn lamb on the range to suck anything from a ten-penny nail to its mother's teat.

An office seeker passed this place last week going one way, full of hope, the other way, sad and dejected. He was from Arlington and seemed sure of the nomination for some office. He had prepared a bag of sand, and in his hurry to get away he forgot it but had it forwarded by stage. Whether he wanted to sand the track to stop the wheels of prosperity from slipping or to sand his some stubborn delegate we do not know. What office he wanted we are unaware of, but from the way he looked at us when we tried to solemly him we think county coroner would have suited him best.

OLEX.

J. E. Redmond is working the roads. Hazel Ralston was a guest of Ora Crum last Sunday.

Mrs. Martin is having her house painted this week.

Frank Linte has taken a homestead in Martin Canyon.

There was a large attendance at the Sunday school last Sunday.

Guess Jess McKinney thinks it is a little too early in the season for hatching in the creek.

D. F. Stricklin last week received an order for some unbroken horses which he well soon fill.

Vol Huber went to Condon last week to invest in a "glory ticket," but when he got there the cupboard was bare; or in other words, the land had already been taken.

Bert Crawford came down from Condon Monday with a cook-house, water tank, etc. to begin operations plowing summer fallow for Wm. Barker on the Zachary farm.

Jess McKinney's family had a big scare last week. Their little girl crossed the creek on a small board and wandered off. They tracked her to the creek and, Jess supposing she had fell into the water and was drowned, made several dives to the bottom and finally gave up in despair. The child was safely found, however, in the brush only a few yards away.

LONE ROCK.

Our farmers are all busy putting in their spring crops. Sheep owners report excellent per cent in the lamb crop thus far.

We are having beautiful weather just now, and every one is happy.

BORN—At Lone Rock, on or about the 6th inst., to the wife of S. I. Straiton, a son.

Geo. Purry started for Astoria Tuesday, he being one of the delegates to the state convention.

Chas. Frazer and family returned from Polk county last week, where they had spent the winter with the parents of Mr. Frazer.

After considerable delay and disappointment but with great perseverance on the part of Rev. Barnhart, GENUINE FERMENTED WINE was obtained, and was presented as a sacred emblem in the communion service.

Ira Reed and Otho Ward started out on a sheepshearing tour last Friday. They were going over near Lexington, where the wool is all of sand and a man needs only a strong arm to be successful. The price paid for shearing in that locality is 7 cents per head.

For the last couple of Sundays a casual observer might notice that about a dozen or more ladies have been riding about the burg on horse back as if they were on the hunt for something. Must be the boys have all gone to Klondike or somewhere else, or they would surely be on hand to enjoy the festivities of the season.

MAYVILLE.
Mrs. E. A. Stinchfield is visiting on Pine creek this week.

Rev. Burr, of Condon, will hold services in Mayville Sunday next.

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Searcy rode the Rebekah goat last Thursday evening.

Mrs. E. W. Moore, of Condon, is visiting relatives and friends at Mayville this week.

Mrs. W. B. Ramsay and her mother, Mrs. Lydia Curl, are expected home this week.
