JOHN M. GEARIN

CHOSEN BY GOV. CHAMBERLAIN TO SUCCEED JOHN M. MITCHELL IN THE U. S. SENATE.

Senator Says He Will Work for Coos and Yaquina Bays as Well as Columbia River.

Salem, Or., Dec. 13.—John M. Gearin was appointed United States senator to succeed the late John H. Mitchell; Governor Chamberlain announced the appointment this morning at 10 o'clock.

In making the selection, Governor Chamberlain went carefully over the endorsements that had been submitted to him by friends of several other candidates, many of whom received flattering reports.

"What attitude will you take regarding the land fraud cases, Mr. Gearin?" was one of the first questions.

"I am fully in accord with the president in his efforts to suppress fraudulent conversion of the public domain," came the quick response.

"I am also fully in accord with the president in his effort to control the big corporations, and bring their operations within the pale of the law. I believe he should be aided in stopping those rebates and whatever excesses have grown up in the incomparable development of resources and transportation facilities. His views on these subjects are good, sound democratic doctrine. Because a republican president aids in carrying out democratic principles is no reason why democratic championship of them should not follow.

"No one need ask me about state improvements. I am an Oregonian by birth and residence. Everything that I can do for Oregon, in any station of life, will always be done. Senatorial powers open broader opportunities for this work, and I will not miss them. I will work for all of Oregon, Coos Bay, Yaquina and the Columbia are parts of the same state. Other improvements of whatever nature will be sought wherever possible."

John M. Gearin is thoroughly identified with Oregon. He was born August 15, 1851, while the family neared the territory. Where the old immigrant trail crossed the Umatilla, at a point now known as Willow Springs, with the bleakness of a parched plain as his first vista and the alkali dust in the air that first reached his nostrils, his life began. The family was delayed briefly there and soon reached Champog, taking a donation land claim on the banks of the Willamette, in Marion county. Two brothers grew to manhood. One, named Hugh, has never left the homestead, but yet cultivates the Gearin farm which the ancestor acquired under the earliest laws of Oregon territory. John M. was a student not a farmer. He attended St. Mary's college, San Francisco, in 1863, staying there for four years. Notre Dame university, Indiana, was the next step. He graduated in 1871.

In January, 1872, a slender young man entered the law office of Mitchell and D'Alph in Portland to wrestle with Blackstone. Two years later he was admitted to the Oregon bar. Thirty-three years later this same person succeeded the senior member of the law firm in the United States senate.

"It is rather sad, these changes in time. I remember when I entered that law office and began my studies.

"My early life, in fact all my life has been quiet and uneventful," modestly insisted the new senator this morning. "I have been in public to some extent, but not in any large measure. My first office was as a member of the Oregon legislature, received in 1874. They elected me city attorney in 1875, district attorney in 1884, and I was defeated for congress in 1888. My opponent in that contest was Binger Hermann now in congress."

"As the accredited representative of this state for the interim, I realize that I have been chosen to do its work for that period; until another senator may be chosen in the regular order of things. I recognize the fact that my endorsements came from every class, especially among the business men, and in my work I shall endeavor to serve all. I will utilize my time for the very best interests of Oregon."

Elkton, Ky., Dec. 12.—The tobacco factory here owned by Mrs. M. H. Penck and operated for the tobacco trust by the American Snuff Company was blown up by dynamite early today. There was no loss of life, but the damage to the factory was complete. There was no insurance on the plant, as the insurance company had only a few days ago canceled the policy, owing to the excitement occasioned in this locality by the tactics of some of the members of the Cark Tobacco-Growers Association. Several houses in the vicinity were damaged, as were the depot and four or five passenger coaches standing on the siding.

Boston, Dec. 12.—The democrats were victorious in Boston today, electing ex-Congressman John F. Fitzgerald mayor over three other candidates. Fitzgerald's plurality over his nearest competitor, Louis A. Frothingham, republican speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, was 8330.

Philomath Items.

Bishop Bell and Bishop Castle closed the revival meetings last Saturday night. During the meetings, fifty-nine persons joined the church.

Father Kenoyer arrived from Washington last week to visit with his daughter, Mrs. Rhodes. He preached at the Methodist church Sunday night.

The school entertainment last Saturday night was well attended. The proceeds amounted to thirty-three dollars which goes to the public school library.

Mrs. Pritchett's father, who came from Montana two weeks ago on a visit, is seriously ill with Bright's disease.

Bishop Barkley, of Portland, attended quarterly meeting with Elder Loudy at the Radical U. B. Church last Sunday.

Mrs. Williams, of Live Oak, Cal., is here for a short visit with her son, who is attending college.

The salvation army gave a moving picture show at the college chapel last Monday evening, which was very interesting.

The extra mail, which comes every day by stage from Albany, is a great convenience.

A son of Mr. Jorman has been quite ill with pneumonia, but is now on the road to recovery.

At King's Valley.

Mrs. Dolly Miller was buried in the King's Valley cemetery Sunday. Rev. T. T. Nincent preached the funeral sermon.

The Valley school house was closed on Tuesday until a new teacher can be secured. The present teacher was afflicted with fainting fits which made the school very uncertain and unsatisfactory. It might be a good thing for the teacher who is a stranger to furnish a certificate of good health as well as of good education.

Mrs. Edna Oren, who has been visiting her parents W. L. and Scripta Price returned home Monday.

The Bell Telephone men have taken down the wires on the Hoskins' line. The line has been out of use since last fall.

The coyote hunt is being kept up daily but we have not heard of any being yet killed.

Farmers are still plowing.

Grain has been very slow in coming up, but is looking well.

It is getting close to the time for the appointment of road supervisors, and while we are no advocate of third terms in our case we are satisfied the court will make no mistake and will meet with general approval, if it reappoints John Price.

LAID TO REST

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES HELD OVER BODY OF LATE SENATOR MITCHELL.

Services Take Place in First Congregational Church and Interment Is Made in Review Cemetery—Other News.

Portland, Dec. 12.—Impressive funeral services over the body of John H. Mitchell were held in the First Congregational church this afternoon. The large auditorium was crowded to the doors long before 2 o'clock, the hour when the ceremony began, in front of the pews were the Odd Fellows, Elks and the Portland bar. All available standing room was occupied and hundreds were turned away.

The elks were in charge of the funeral services from the time the body was taken from the city hall where it had lain in state during the morning until the ceremony at the church was over and the procession of carriages started for Riverview cemetery, where interment took place in the family lot. The services at the grave were conducted by the Odd Fellows, in accordance with the ritualistic procedure over the departed members.

The floral pieces were the cause of much comment, because of their beauty and profusion. The body of Senator Mitchell was taken from the undertaking parlors at 10 o'clock in the morning and lay in state until 1 o'clock, a military guard being in attendance, and thousands of people filed through the council chamber to take a last look at the face of the departed senator.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—The case of the beef packers indicted for operating in restraint of trade, was on the docket for hearing today, though it is probable the trial will be delayed for some time yet. The first matter to come before the federal jury is the issues of fact between the government and the packers on the assertions by the latter that they were promised immunity and the denial by the government that any such pledges were ever made. The actual trial of the packers will not commence until this matter has been disposed of.

Commissioner Garfield of the bureau of corporations and labor was the first witness to appear in the district attorney's office. He refused to discuss the subject, saying that he had reserved all his testimony for the court. The work of empaneling the jury commenced at 10:15 o'clock.

Attorneys consumed a large part of the morning arguing the proposal that each be given a separate trial on each indictment, which would necessitate 21 different juries. The judge said that two or more robbers having broken into a postoffice could be tried together, and the defendants objected, saying there was no analogy. They were still arguing this point at the noon recess.

Judge Humphrey, having reached no decision this afternoon, announced there would be no session of the court this afternoon.

Paris, Dec. 12.—A dispatch to the Journal from St. Petersburg dated December 12, says that Minister of the Interior Durnovo has ordered the arrest of hundreds of agitators in the agrarian districts. The dispatch says that the installation of wireless telegraphy between St. Petersburg, Moscow and Wirballen is nearing completion.

The correspondent of the Matin at St. Petersburg confirms the report of the mutiny of the Cossacks at Moscow. He adds that the Peasants Alliance has issued a proclamation advising those adhering to the alliance not to pay taxes and to withdraw their money from the banks.

Another St. Petersburg dispatch to the Journal of the same date, sent by way of Eydtkubnen, says the officers and troops at Moscow held a great meeting at which it was decided to begin a campaign for economical and political reform. Another meeting has been arranged and official intervention is expected.
