THE SUREST ROAD TO WEALTH IS THROUGH LIBERAL ADVERTISING!

PITTSBURG has declared that 58 pounds shall constitute a legal bushel of potatoes. Heretofore 60 pounds have constituted the legal weight. The workmen must look to Mr. Pittsboro for the four pounds taken off each bushel—and they may look.

If there ever was a doubt that Michigan would go Democratic next fall that doubt is now dispelled. The action of Governor Winan in vetoing the appropriation for the G. A. R. has made it certain that the state will go Republican. The veto has caused intense feeling throughout the state, and the popular disapproval is loudly expressed.

Germany's Fleet at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—The German fleet of three corvettes, the Leipzig, the Sophie and the Alexandrine, under command of Admiral Valje, arrived during the morning. Fully 200 officers and 1,800 men are on the vessels. The fleet is bound for Chilian waters and will coal and provision here, and also take on board supplies to be transferred to the German vessels now in South American waters.

A Boston Paper Sold.

BOSTON, June 6.—The rumors about the sale of the Boston Daily Evening Traveller to a committee of 100 are practically confirmed. A certificate of organization has been filed by the new company, the Traveller Publishing Company of Boston, capital $75,000, and with James H. Dun as president.

Stone-Masons Return to England.

PITTSBURG, June 6.—Twenty-nine of the locked out stone-masons have left this city bound for their homes in England. The stone-masons have been locked out for seven weeks, with no prospect of an early change in the situation.

Mangled by a Train.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 6.—An unknown woman about 30 years old, well dressed, threw herself before a New Jersey Central Railroad train here at noon and was killed. Her head was cut off and the body terribly mangled.

Ordered to Seize Whiskey.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The commanders of the revenue cutters Bear and Bush have been ordered to seize all whiskey, except such quantity as may be required for medical use, found upon any whalers cruising in Alaskan waters.

BRIGGS WILL STAY

SO SAY THE UNION THEOLOGICAL DIRECTORS.

THE NOTABLE CASE REVIEWED.

No Attention Will be Paid to the General Assembly's Action. The Board of Directors Take Legal Advice.

New York, June 6.—The whole business of Dr. Briggs' position in the Union Theological Seminary is settled, so far as the directors of the institution are concerned. Dr. Briggs is there and will stay there. He is professor of Biblical theology now and will be next winter when the seminary reopens, just as much as if the General Assembly had never been born. In other words, Union Theological Seminary stands by its guns and affirms its independence.

An important meeting of the directors was held with closed doors, and after some debate it was decided to ignore the jurisdiction of the General Assembly, recently convened in Detroit, in its action with regard to the Rev. C. A. Briggs. There were but three members absent, the Rev. Dr. Holmes and laymen John Taylor Johnston and William E. Dodge. The Assembly, after a two-day debate a week ago, voted to disapprove of Dr. Briggs' transfer from the professorship of Hebrew to the chair of Biblical Theology. The vote was 40 to 59. Yesterday the directors discussed the vote and then passed the following resolution, the vote being 10 to 2:

Resolved, That this board of directors, after having taken legal advice, and after due consideration see no reason to change their views on the subject of the transfer of Rev. Professor Briggs and feel bound in the discharge of their duties, under the charter and constitution, to adhere to the same views.

The Rev. Dr. Hall was compelled to leave before the vote was cast. After the meeting had adjourned the Rev. Dr. Clark of the Harlem Puritan Church thus expressed himself: "The Directory stands by its guns! Dr. Briggs is at this moment just as much in the Robinson chair as he ever was, and as if the General Assembly had no existence. The Assembly says he must go! We directors say he shall stay!"

LOVE AND TRUST BETRAYED.

A Young Woman of High Social Position Dies on Her Father's Doorstep.

HENNINGTON, Pa., June 6.—A sad story of love and trust betrayed comes from Petersburg, in this county. At daybreak the body of Miss Annie M. Hearn, aged 24, was found on the front step of her father's residence. Miss Hearn was highly gifted intellectually, and was of high social position. She was well known throughout Central Pennsylvania as a prominent temperance advocate. She was to have been married this month, but three weeks ago her accepted suitor mysteriously disappeared.

The coroner's inquest revealed the fact that Miss Hearn was about to become a mother and had taken poison to cover up her shame. The whole community is so stirred up over the affair that dire vengeance is threatened her betrayer should he be caught.

OBITUARY.

Lieutenant Louis S. Boner, of Pottsville.

The many friends in town of Lieutenant Louis S. Boner were pained to learn of his unexpected death yesterday, at Pottsville. Mr. Boner was one of the best known and most popular traveling salesmen on the road. He was ever genial and courteous and his death creates a feeling of sadness among his fellow traveling men and the many merchants with whom he had transactions. He was looked upon in Shenandoah as one of the town's citizens. At no place does his death cause more regret than here.

Mr. Boner was 52 years of age and was engaged as a traveling salesman until he was taken sick last Saturday. He was an old soldier, having been Color Sergeant of Co. G, 12th Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers. He gained an excellent reputation for his bravery in the battle of Chancellorsville, in the late war, where he succeeded in saving his company's flag, notwithstanding that he was surrounded by the enemy. He also served as Lieutenant of Co. E, 7th Pennsylvania Regiment, during the emergency and here, also, he distinguished himself as a thorough soldier and gentleman.

Mr. Boner was born in Albany township, Berks county, on the 23rd of April, 1839. After the war he became bookkeeper in the store of P. D. Luther, at Kaska, William, and later accepted a similar position at Gorrell's Haskie Dall colliery at Centralia and held it for thirteen years, when he moved to Pottsville and became traveling salesman for Harding, Britton & Co., wholesale grocers of Philadelphia.

The deceased is survived by his wife, who was the daughter of the late John Phillips, but he left no children. The funeral will take place from the late residence, No. 610 West Market street, Pottsville, on Monday, next, at 3 p. m., and the remains will be interred in the Old Fellows' cemetery, at Pottsville.

Sudden Death of a Prominent Mason.

ASTORY PARK, N. J., June 6.—Fred L. Wiseman, one of the most prominent Free Masons in New Jersey, died very suddenly at his home here during the night. Mr. Wiseman retired at his usual hour in apparently good health. An hour afterward when his wife was about to retire she found him dead. Besides being a Mason of the highest degree, he was connected with many other secret organizations. He was about 60 years of age.

Bad Wreck, But No One Injured.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., June 6.—A bad wreck occurred on the New Jersey Central road near the Clinton avenue crossing during the morning. Engine No. 339, attached to a train of empty coal cars, was going west, when the train broke in two on a down grade, and the rear section crashed into the forward section with terrific force, shattering a dozen cars into fragments and scattering the debris along the tracks for a long distance. Fortunately no one was injured.

A Youthful Incendiary.

BOSTON, June 6.—A boy named Walter C. Honza, aged 11 years, was arrested here last night on a charge of attempting to set fire to the Emerson Street School on Poplar street last Monday. The boy is a pupil of the school, and on Monday asked leave to go out. Shortly afterwards fire was discovered in one of the closets where a quantity of shavings had been put. There were several hundred children in the school at the time.

The Whiskey Trust in Complete Control.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The negotiations for the purchase of the only whiskey trust distilleries in the country have just been completed. They are the H. Schufeldt Company distillery and the Calumet Distilling Company. The negotiations for the purchase of these companies have been carried on with great secrecy, and the announcement of the consummation of the purchases caused considerable surprise.

Gen. Schofield to Marry.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Maj. Gen. John M. Schofield, commanding the army of the United States, smilingly admits that it is true that he will marry Miss Georgia N. Kilbourne, of Keokuk, Ia., on June 18, at St. John's Episcopal Church in that city.

Duncan Committed for Trial.

LONDON, June 6.—E. E. Duncan of Washington, D. C., who is charged with having attempted to murder his wife near Betws-y-Coed, North Wales, was arraigned for a hearing during the morning and was committed for trial.

Violated the Lottery Law.

BOSTON, June 6.—George D. Hackett, treasurer of the Boston Speculation Company, was convicted in the United States Court of violating the lottery law.

The New Orleans Bribery Cases.

NEW ORLEANS, June 6.—The jury bribery cases were called up in the District Court and continued until Wednesday.

Oh, What a Cough.

Will you heed the warning? The signet perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that children start with Croup or Cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves Croup and Whooping Cough at once. Mothers do not be without it. For Lane's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil. Sold by C. H. Hagenbuch, N. E. corner State and Lloyd streets.

COMMENTS ON INTERESTING AND TIMELY TOPICS.

SENSIBLE AND SPIGY SENTIMENTS

Paragraphs That Will Interest and Occasionally Amuse the Reader if Carefully Perused and Properly Digested.

A number of our moneyed men who have been looking South for investments have discovered that Shenandoah is a much better field for business enterprises and it would not be surprising to hear of a contemplated movement to furnish the town with a shoe factory. The manufacture of shoes will pay, as they are among the most saleable of articles. Besides this labor is cheap and there is plenty of it here. Cheap fuel is also here in unlimited quantity and it may be depended upon that the starting of one shoe factory will lead to the establishment of others, and all will make money.

Since the collapse of so many of the get-rich-quick companies there seems to be a disposition on the part of many of our townsmen who have money to spare to look for home investments. People having savings to invest need not leave Shenandoah.

Lakeside is steadily grasping the attention of the people and, ere the summer closes, it will have a hold that will not be readily shaken off. It will take another season to carry out the plans of the new proprietors and then Lakeside will be one of the most beautiful, beautiful and popular resorts of the state. This will require money and labor, but the parties behind the project will be equal to all emergencies. The time is not far distant when offers will be made to take the place off the hands of the present owners and give them a good bonus. In fact tempting offers to purchase at a much better price than was paid for the place by the new concern, have been made, but they have been refused.

Major W. Gordon Lillis is pronounced by the press and public to be the greatest rifle shot in the country. His feats of trick and fancy shooting are marvelous. One of the most remarkable feats is the breaking of a glass ball, held in the hand of Miss May Lillis, while the former is sighting the mark by means of a mirror. As a leader of cowboys he has no superior. All the acts presented are the result of careful study and one never tires witnessing the various exhibitions.

Miss May Lillis, the champion female crack and rifle shot of the world, is an excellent lady and her performances are exceedingly wonderful. While seated on the back of a running mustang she breaks glass balls thrown into their air by cowboys. Her style and grace adds materially in making her performance a success.

Eagle Eye, the great Indian interpreter, is one of the leading lights of the Wild West aggregation. He was raised among the red skins, converses in all their different languages and has an interesting history.

Mustang Walter, the lasso thrower and rider, presents some wonderful features. He picks up coins from the ground while on horseback. His pony express and lightning change exhibition is great and it wins for him loud applause.

The shooting exhibitions of Deadwood Dick and Oklahoma Frank are excellent. The former is the master of the Winchester rifle and his fancy shooting is fine. Oklahoma Frank's exhibition of rifle shooting was one of the features of the day.

The other members of this great show contribute their quota to the portraying of the scenes of the far West.

The stockholders of the Trout and Athletic Association are in trouble. Mr. Robbins, who recently purchased the effects of the association at Sheriff's sale, and did not recover enough to cover his claim, has brought suit to compel the stockholders to pay the balances due on the subscriptions to stock.

Mr. Robbins' action has caused a flutter of excitement among the stockholders. Some of them have thrown out all kinds of bluffs and say they will stand suit, but the claimants are equally determined to receive pay for the material he furnished the association.

Of course the suit will work a hardship upon several of our townsmen who are true sportsmen and stand ready at all times to give their aid to anything in the legitimate sporting line; but they will be obliged to toe the mark for the errors of others. The failure of the association can be attributed to but one cause—bad management. Had its affairs been looked after by the proper parties the stockholders would not be compelled to go down into their pockets at this late day and make good the losses. Shenandoah is a sporting town and any well-managed and legitimate sporting undertaking ought to succeed in it and pay a profit. A prominent gentleman said the other day, "I will have to pay over forty dollars to clear myself of liability, but that will not kill my appetite for sport. I will stand ready to go into any such undertaking again, but you can bet your bottom dollar that before I make myself liable I will first see that the management is in good hands."

TWO MEN BURNED.

Explosion of Powder in Shenandoah City Colliery.

Michael Welch, of West Lloyd street, and Martin Tobin, of West Line street, two miners working in the Shenandoah City colliery, were burned by an explosion of powder last night, while they were working on the night shift. The accident occurred at about nine o'clock.

Welch was badly burned about the face and hands, but the injuries are not dangerous. Tobin's neck was burned, but the burns were of such a slight character that medical attendance was not required. Welch was attended by Dr. Stein.

The men say they cannot account for the explosion. They had prepared a powder cartridge and were about to put it in a hole when it exploded.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a regular meeting of Plank Ridge Lodge, No. 880, I. O. O. F., the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Almighty God, in his providence, to remove from our midst our beloved brother, W. F. Taylor; and

WHEREAS, The deceased has been a member of Plank Ridge Lodge, No. 880, I. O. O. F., and, by his unimpeachable character, gentlemanly and kindly bearing, ever endeared himself to us; therefore be it

Resolved, That, while we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well, we tender our most heartfelt sympathies to the friends and family of the deceased; and

Resolved, That we drap our charter for the space of thirty days in honor of our deceased brother; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the EVENING HERALD of Shenandoah and a copy be also spread upon the minutes of our meeting.

LONDON AROUSED.

THE PRINCE OF WALES DENOUNCED FOR GAMBLING.

A LEADING RADICAL'S VIEWS.

The Scandal Will Have an Influence on the Future of England—A Methodist Conference Discusses the Subject.

LONDON, June 6.—In his argument for the defense in the baccarat scandal trial Sir Charles Russell asked "how the plaintiff's conduct could possibly be consistent with innocence. Could anything, he said, be imputed to the witnesses to justify the assumption that they were not credible. He had never known, in his experience, five witnesses giving concurrent testimony so absolutely untroubled by cross-examination.

Pending argument the court adjourned until Monday. The developments of the baccarat trial have aroused the strong Nonconformist feeling against the class of which the Prince of Wales is the leader, and from the talk in the lobby of Parliament there is evidently fear that the asclosures may affect the next election unfavorably for the Conservatives.

It is among the middle classes and the poor that severe comments are heard on the incidents of Tranby Croft, and the public opinion of the multitude is evidently disposed to hold the Prince of Wales responsible for his indulgence in gambling.

A leading Radical remarked to-day that the Cumming scandal would have an influence on the future of Great Britain that could not be measured in this generation. As stated in these dispatches Lord Middleton, brother-in-law of Sir William, has been his backer from the first in the effort to redeem his name from disgrace, and his lordship's appearance in court was the open assertion of the sympathy he has all along felt and displayed for his unfortunate relatives. Cumming has many friends among the audience, and the fair portion especially seem to be his attentive admirers. The South Wales Methodist Quarterly Conference adopted a resolution regretting that the Prince of Wales took part in a game of baccarat at Tranby Croft, thus by his example encouraging vice, and damaging the standing of the royal house in the estimation and affection of the people.

A RECEIVER WANTED.

The Central Company Crippled in the Recent Rubber Crash.

TRUSTON, N. J., June 6.—The Eckstein White Lead Company, of Cincinnati, has filed a petition in the Court of Chancery, asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Central Rubber Company.

The petition states that the latest owed the White Company $1,077.90, and when called upon for a settlement of the account, Treasurer John P. Belton declared that the Central Rubber Company could not pay the bill, admitting at the same time the company's insolvency, owing to the fact that it had been endorsing heavily for the Star Rubber Company and the Hamilton Rubber Company, which were recently placed in the hands of a receiver.

According to the petition, a large portion of the assets of the Central consist of bills receivable from the Star and Hamilton concerns. CHICAGO, June 6.—In a bill for the appointment of a receiver, filed in the United States Court here, by Anna W. Baird, of Pennsylvania, it is said that the Northwestern Rubber Company is hopelessly insolvent, and likely to collapse any day. The Company has a large store at 141 Lake street and a branch on State street. The liabilities are over $100,000 and the assets not much more than half that amount.

A New Business.

P. J. Cleary has opened a store in the Ferguson's building, on East Centre street, and is prepared to furnish the local trade with fine leather and shoe findings and all kinds of shoemaker's supplies. His stock is a large one and well equipped to fully supply all demands of the trade. 5-15-1f
