

PERSONS AND EVENTS IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY AS PORTRAYED BY THE QUICK EYE OF THE CAMERA

COLUMN OF PRISONERS TAKEN BY AUSTRIANS. These woe-begone individuals are soldiers of Serbia and Montenegro taken prisoner in fighting on the Save River.

GERMAN CRUISER KOENIGSBERG AT ANCHOR IN HER RIVER REFUGE. This fast sea rover did not wait to be overtaken by the fate of the Emden, but finding herself menaced by approaching vessels of the Allies, hid herself in the River Rufiji, in German West Africa. Two British warships are now reported to be trying to dig her out from her berth.

POLISH CAVALRY OFFICERS OF THE GERMAN ARMY

This lively group is composed of warriors who, though extremely young in years, are full-fledged officers. Some of them will doubtless be compelled to fight Polish relatives fighting on the side of the Czar. Their quaint uniforms are characteristic of the Polish regiments.

SOME PAUSES BETWEEN RATTLES TO FROLIC WITH VENUS

The foremost warrior is not averse to a little skydiving with the ladies, as is shown by this photograph taken near the Russian frontier in Germany. And there, of course, the line that separates good from bad is very thin for the daughters of Eve enjoy where it well known.

FIRES AND BLANKETS FEEL GOOD IN THE BELGIAN TRENCHES

That severe weather has settled down upon the war area in Flanders is indicated by the groups huddled about their tiny fires behind their earthworks. The Belgian soldiers, lacking overcoats, use blankets instead and have discovered that to keep the rest of the body comfortable it is necessary to keep the head warm. The weather in Flanders is made extra severe by the dampness of the sea. Their countenance betrays no lack of cheerfulness, however.
