SEIZURE OF JALUIT "TEMPORARY" MOVE, JAPANESE EXPLAIN Measure Taken to Clear Pacific Trade Routes of Raids on Shipping by Kaiser's Warships.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Japan's announcement, through her Navy Department, that the German possessions on the Marshall Islands in mid-Pacific Ocean had been seized, created much surprise and behind-the-scenes talk here. A reasonable time will be allowed for a report from Ambassador Guthrie at Tokio, and if none is received he will be asked for one.

While the President and Mr. Bryan refused to discuss the seizure, other officials asserted that Japan has violated her voluntary declaration of purposes by seizing the Marshall Islands and utilizing more of the territory of China for military purposes than is necessary to invest Kiao-Chau, the German possession in China.

The Japanese Navy Department in explaining the landing of a force of Japanese marines and taking the German island of Jaluit, says the move was made for "military purposes and not for the permanent occupation of the place." The Japanese Embassy has issued the following statement:
