PROHIBITION STEAMER MAY BEGAUT
A HUNDRED AND FIFTY LIVES
SUPPOSED TO BE LOST!

A houndred and fifty lives were supposed to be lost on the 6th of May, upon the Mississippi River, when the steamboat New Orleans was reported to have sunk. The New

The New Orleans was a three-decked steamer, owned by a New York company, and had recently been rebuilt. She was on her way down the Mississippi from St. Louis to New Orleans, and was supposed to have sank about a mile below Vicksburg. The news caused great consternation, and a search was made to save those supposed to have been on board, but no trace of any survivors was found.

EXECUTION OF MOLYNEUX.

A woman, charged with the murder of a child, was executed by hanging on the 6th of May, at the Old Capitol in Richmond, Virginia. The woman, named Mary Molyneux, had been convicted of the murder of a child who was found dead in a room in Richmond. The woman was sentenced to death by a jury, and on the day of the execution, she was taken to the gallows and hanged. The body of the woman was subsequently exhumed and was found to have been murdered, but the woman was still hanged.

The Columbia Democrat.

Saturday, June 3, 1827.

"We hold the abominations of a negro slave system. We know the course by having a personal interview with the system."

In our nation of the previous session, we have the abominations endured by our forebears. We have the detail of our operations. We do not wish to be persuaded, or to be convinced, or to be convinced by any arguments, or to be convinced by any testimonies, or to be convinced by any proofs, or to be convinced by any reasons. We do not wish to be convinced by any arguments, or to be convinced by any testimonies, or to be convinced by any proofs, or to be convinced by any reasons.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

This following correspondence comes from a man who will not die the false death of a tree; and we will not die the false death of a tree. We will judge the correct principles of the author, which are not true, and we will not judge the correct principles of the author, which are not true.

To the friends and neighbors of the author, and to the friends and neighbors of the author, who will give us the pleasure of their company, and who will give us the pleasure of their company, we say, "We hold the abominations of a negro slave system. We know the course by having a personal interview with the system."

CONTROVERSY.

In our nation of the previous session, we have the abominations endured by our forebears. We have the detail of our operations. We do not wish to be persuaded, or to be convinced, or to be convinced by any arguments, or to be convinced by any testimonies, or to be convinced by any proofs, or to be convinced by any reasons. We do not wish to be convinced by any arguments, or to be convinced by any testimonies, or to be convinced by any proofs, or to be convinced by any reasons.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

This following correspondence comes from a man who will not die the false death of a tree; and we will not die the false death of a tree. We will judge the correct principles of the author, which are not true, and we will not judge the correct principles of the author, which are not true.