

THE NEW YORK PRESS.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS OF THE LEADING JOURNALS UPON CURRENT TOPICS.

COMPILED EVERY DAY FOR EVENING TELEGRAPH.

The South and its Opportunity.

From the Times. The Southern press is almost unanimous in its approval of the call for the Philadelphia Convention.

The importance of prudent action on the part of the South in its present critical condition can hardly be overstated. The approaching Convention is the great opportunity.

The South has, for the first time, a fair opportunity of disposing of these allegations, and of the policy which rests upon them.

On the other hand, the choice of wise, moderate, conciliatory, and national men as delegates representing the South, will in every sense be beneficial.

Such an opportunity, once lost, may not needly recur. Let us hope that it will not be neglected.

The Party Crisis in England—Lord Derby Charged with the Formation of a New Ministry.

From the Times. The suspense in regard to the party crisis in England is, in part, relieved by the news which we published yesterday.

leading Tories who are to have prominent seats in the new Cabinet. Among these are Mr. Disraeli, Lord Granbourn, Sir Bulwer Lytton, and Sir Hugh Cairns.

The Queen is known to favor coalitions. Lord Aberdeen was the special choice of the Court thirteen years ago, because he was available as the head of a composite government.

The War in Italy—The Opening Battle Fought in the Heart of the Quadrilateral.

From the Herald. The war in Italy has been begun by an important engagement, fought on the anniversary of the battle of Solferino.

Former news from Italy brought us intelligence of the declaration of war by Victor Emmanuel and the issuance of three days' notice that he should commence hostilities on June 23.

For the details of this engagement and the results of these strategic movements we must, however, await the development of further news.

The War in Europe.

From the Tribune. The first war news from Italy painfully disappoints the fond hopes of the friends of liberty and progress, who in every country are unanimous in their profound sympathy with the gallant struggle of the Italian people for their national unity.

The battle was fought within the famous Quadrilateral, between the fortresses of Peschiera and Verona. Contrary to the general opinion, which expected a movement by the Austrians from the Tyrol into the Venetian, aided by an invasion of the Tyrol on the one side, and by a landing on the eastern shore of the Adriatic on the other, the Italians have dared to make a direct attack upon the Quadrilateral.

undoubtedly imminent. In Northern Germany the efforts of the Bismarckians to make good their escape have not been successful, and their capitulation or capture was hourly expected.

The News from Europe.

From the World. The great war against Austria opens with the battle of Custozza and the defeat of the Italian army, led by King Victor Emmanuel, and its retreat across the Mincio.

Of Garibaldi's movement since he reached the Lago di Garda, our telegrams give us little that can be credited. He is said, however, to be marching through the Tyrol and towards Austria.

Of Garibaldi's movements nothing is known; but reports come from Prussia that Hungarian deserters are crossing over to their camps in large numbers.

Half a score of the smaller States have withdrawn from the Confederation, and the free city of Lubeck declares outright for an alliance with Prussia.
